SEEK DEMOCRATIC SUCCESS; NOT AGAINST ANY CANDIDATE

FOR UNDERWOOD TIDE IS RUNNING ALL OVER COUNTRY

UNDERWOOD'S RECORD WINNING SUPPORTERS

Alabaman Appeals to Progressive Democrats as Strongly as He Does to Conservative. Underwood Declines Speaking Invitations and Attends to the Country's Business.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, March 11.—(Special.)—Steadily gaining new recruits, the Underwood band wagon is rolling toward the Baltimore convention. Underwood is not only the first choice of a large and daily increasing following, but the second choice of an overwhelming number of the supporters of all the other democratic candidates.

While Mr. Underwood is declining all speaking invitations which would require him to leave Washington, having resolved to stick to his post here and devote all his skill and energy to the big job of framing the legislation on which the party must make its fight this year, he is receiving flattering encouragement from widely different sections of the country.

Colonel R. H. Wells, of Maryland, today called on Representative William Schley Howard, a strong Underwood supporter, to endeavor to arrange for Mr. Underwood and several of his friends to go to Annapolis some evening and make addresses before the legislature of Maryland.

Maryland for Underwood.

"I am confident that if the fight is made, we can carry Maryland for him," said Mr. Wells.

The democratic leader added to his determination not to leave Washington even for one night, but some of his ardent supporters in congress will probably take advantage of the opportunity to turn the trick in his behalf.

Representative Harrison, of Mississippi, presented Mr. Underwood a delegation of Mississippi voters, who assured him of their support.

Colonel George L. Peterson, of Clinton, N. C., who is an enthusiastic supporter of the democratic leader, said: "I found a tremendous sentiment for Mr. Underwood among the business

LEADERS EXPOSE WILSON WEAKNESS

Declare His Nomination Would Assure Defeat of Party.

The "Conspiracy" Charge Exploded—Stronger Man Needed Than New Jersey's Governor if the Party's Welfare Is to Be Preserved.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, March 11.—(Special.)—"The nomination of Woodrow Wilson foredooms the democratic party to defeat as surely as though the votes had already been counted. The talk on part of his Georgia managers to the effect that the other presidential aspirants are in a 'conspiracy' to down him, is the sort of stuff that pipe-dreams are made of. What they think to be a 'conspiracy' is, in reality, a predominant sentiment among the party leaders in Washington that of all the prominent candidates Wilson is the weakest the party can offer the country. These men do not care for the ambitions of any one man. They are committed to the success of the party. To that end it is not surprising that they should consider it their duty to exhaust every means at their command to discourage a 'back-to-the-wilderness' candidate, and concentrate on the strongest available man. If they did not take this course they would be lacking in fidelity to the party at the most critical moment in its post-bellum history."

General Democratic Opinion.

That was the comment of a veteran house democrat today when he saw in The Constitution the charge of the Georgia campaign committee of Governor Wilson that a "conspiracy" exists between the followers of the other candidates to put the New Jersey man out of the running. Sentiment of similar candor and emphasis was expressed by other prominent and long-service democrats in house and senate. The remarks of the congressman above quoted are given in full, however, since they cover the truth of the situation as regards the national democratic canvass in a few words and give a quickly comprehended glance at feeling here that is almost unanimous.

What the managers of Governor Wilson term a "conspiracy" is regarded by the overwhelming majority of members of house and senate as final evidence that sanity still abides in the party.

It happens that congressional democrats generally include the supporters of Messrs. Clark, Underwood and Harmon. These men, the rank and file, believe honestly that the aspirations of Wilson are suicidal to the party's victory next November. That being

X-RAY PICTURE TAKEN OF WOUND OF EUGENE GRACE

"He Will Never Fully Recover From Effects of Injury," Says Physician.

LIFE INSURANCE POLICIES CANCELLED BY CONSENT

"I Am Confident That I Was Drugged and Then Shot by My Wife," Says Grace in Statement to His Mother. Thomas Felder Makes Statement.

An X-ray photograph of Eugene H. Grace's wound, which his wife is charged with inflicting, was taken yesterday about noon.

The bullet was located by the photograph, but owing to continued inflammation, the course which it took cannot be definitely fixed as yet.

The little lead ball which came so near to taking his life, and which has given his physicians so much worry, was discovered against the spinal column, forming pressure that causes total paralysis of his lower limbs. The spinal column is not shattered, making the wound less serious than was at first feared, but the injury is still of a very grave nature.

Will Never Fully Recover.

"I am more than convinced that Mr. Grace will never fully recover from the effects of his injury," said Dr. W. S. Goldsmith last night.

The taking of the photograph came after a consultation between Mr. Grace's attendant physicians. He was so cheerful during the morning and had passed such a good night that it seemed a favorable time for the tax on his strength which would accompany the operation.

After it was decided to obtain the X-ray picture, provision was at once made for an ambulance, Mr. Grace was placed in it on a stretcher and carried to the office of Dr. Michael Hoke, 72 West Peachtree street. He seemed to enjoy what little outing there was to his trip in the ambulance, was in high good humor and took interest in all that was going on about him.

After the pictures were obtained he was again placed in the ambulance and carried back to the infirmary. He stood the trip well, it was said, and last night was again resting easily.

Will Take Other Pictures.

Owing to the inflammation in the wound, which prevents an accurate tracing of the course of the bullet, other pictures will be taken during this week, as the patient's condition warrants. It is not known when an operation will be performed for the removal of the bullet.

The improved condition of the wounded man and his ability to stand a

WONDERFUL MUST HAVE BEEN THE METAMORPHOSIS IN "DAISY OF THE LEOPARD SPOTS" IF THEORY BE TRUE

Mrs. Eugene Grace, now in the Fulton county Tower, and her blind son by her first husband, Webster H. Opie, whose picture is shown in the corner.

Is it possible that this woman can be a cold-blooded murderer? Is it conceivable that, as the attorneys for the prosecution contend, she committed one of the most diabolical crimes of the century?

For, if allegations of her husband's lawyer be correct, her name deserves to go down into history along with that of the Borgias and other creatures of a Medieval age who reduced murder to a science.

Do you see any facial expression in the picture of the fond mother, pressing tenderly to her heart the sightless little one—her only child—that suggests cruelty? Is there anything of craft in her countenance? Do you believe she would drug a man, shoot him while he slept the heavy sleep that comes only of narcotics, call to the room a servant that she might see the man as he slept; that she then locked the stricken man—the husband of her breast—in the house and departed on a visit to his mother in a distant town, leaving him to welter in his blood, helpless and dying?

WHAT IS YOUR IDEA?

Do you believe all this?

Perhaps you have believed it of that bizarre-looking woman, "Daisy of the Leopard Spots," whose opulent charms decked out in expensive baubles and gewgaws, have been displayed on the front pages of Atlanta newspapers oftener than that of any other woman!

But—and again the question, as you read the wealth of mother's love shining from eyes into eyes that see not—DO you believe Mrs. Eugene Grace shot her husband? For the "Daisy of the Leopard Spots" and the fond mother are one and the same woman.

METAMORPHOSIS OF THE WOMAN.

If you still persist in the belief, what is your idea of the metamorphosis which must have taken place within and without the woman in the interval between the taking of this picture and the spectacular photographs of recent days? You cannot answer. Something must have happened! But what who shall say?

The presentment is a pictorial poem of mother-love coupled with the wistfulness of childhood that will never read the silent message her eyes contain!

The pictures of "Daisy of the Leopard Spots" are——

ELECTRIC PROBE REPORT TABLED FOR ONE WEEK

McClelland Says Report Is Agreement to Kill Competition Forever.

HE OPPOSES GIVING AWAY $50,000,000 FRANCHISE

Second Ward Alderman Declares Twenty-Six Members Allowed Names to Be Used So That Electric Company Officials Would Be Assured of Indorsement.

The agreement between a special committee of the council and the Georgia Railway and Electric Company and the Georgia Railway and Power Company was not ratified by the general council Monday afternoon, but was held up one week on motion of Alderman McClelland.

The vote to temporarily table the report of the committee was 16 to 9. There was no roll call and the aye and no vote was not recorded.

Alderman McClelland was the only speaker. When the report of the special committee, together with an ordinance was read, the alderman took the floor and spoke for ten minutes. He said in substance:

Alderman McClelland Objects.

"The move to secure cheaper electric light and power started with the committee on electric lights, of which I am chairman. Then came a resolution to have an investigation of the street car fares. Finally the whole matter got to a joint committee, with Alderman Nutting at the head. When the joint committee appointed a subcommittee of three, Alderman Nutting went out and sat with it until the general committee sent a special committee of two to make him vacate. I understand that twenty-six members of this council had allowed their names to be used so the officials of the street car company could be assured that council would indorse any agreement which was made. I want to tell you, gentlemen, that the time will come when the people of this city will call to account those who throw away $50,000,000 of franchises for nothing, and just to create a great monopoly by a merger. We have been given nothing in this agreement by which the people will be benefited. It is an agreement for the people to sell their birthright, for this corporation understands that competition will be in this city dead forever."

Alderman McClelland moved to table the committee's report until next Monday and that copies of the agreement be furnished all members of council. The motion was adopted.

What the Report Says.

After a preface setting forth how the special committee was created, and how, out of eleven propositions made to the public utility corporations, some were stricken, and agreements reached as to others, the report goes on to state:

"The ordinance states that the following companies are merged in the Georgia Railway and Power Company: Georgia Power Company, Atlanta Power Company, Piedmont Power Company, Interstate Power Company, Atlanta Hydro Electric Company, North Georgia Electric Company, Atlanta Water and Electric Company and that the Georgia Railway and Electric Company is leased by the Georgia Railway and Power Company. In consideration

TO CALL PRIMARY FOR PRESIDENT

State Committee Meets at Capitol at Noon.

To ascertain Georgia's choice of a democratic candidate for president of the United States, the state executive committee, at a meeting as noon today in the senate chamber, will call a state primary to be held, it is stated, sometime the latter part of April, or the first of May.

There are, approximately, fifty members of the state committee, and it is expected that most of them will be here; all those who cannot attend will undoubtedly send their proxies to someone who will represent them.

Chairman W. C. Wright, of Newnan, will preside over the meeting. Only the presidential primary will be dealt with; a date for it will be fixed, rules governing it will be adopted, and it will be decided what registration shall be used.

Date May Be Early in May.

While the members of the committee who have arrived in Atlanta have reached no definite conclusion as to a date for the presidential primary, the consensus of opinion seems to be that a date somewhere around May 1 would be a convenient and suitable one.

Members of the committee who have already reached Atlanta have varied ideas about the date. Out of eight or ten members who named dates which would be most satisfactory to them, no two of them hit upon the same date. They started out with April 15 and went all the way from there to May 15; and the indications are that possibly a dozen different dates within a space of six weeks, will be suggested at the meeting.

This, it appears, arises from the fact that the counties which are figuring upon spring primaries, are considering widely different dates, and the members will, no doubt, try as nearly as

MONOPOLY GIVEN LEGALITY CLOAK BY HIGH COURT

U. S. Supreme Tribunal Holds Owner of a Patent Has an Unrestricted Monopoly.

Washington, March 11.—The supreme court today held that the owner of a patent has an unrestricted monopoly upon all articles used in its operation, may fix its price and prescribe its use, and thereby laid down a broad principle of doubtful application to many of the government's important anti-trust suits now pending which involve questions of patent rights.

The court stood four to three. Chief Justice White, with whom dissented Justices Lamar and Hughes, in a spirited opinion, voiced his dread of the results of the court's work, asking who could foretell the extent of monopoly and wrongful restrictions which would arise. As construed by the majority of the court, the chief justice declared the patent law could reach out to include within a patent every conceivable thing used in every American household.

"Untold Evils" Predicted.

The chief justice declared that congress should act to head off "untold evils" which would follow the court's construction of the law and arraigned the majority as having broken all precedents. The court in its history, he said, had never failed to do its duty to the whole people and to stand as the protector of every household.

Justice Lurton, who delivered the majority opinion, was joined by Justices McKenna, Holmes and Van Devanter.

WAR DECLARED ON CATHOLICS

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, March 11.—(Special.)—An organization known as the "Guardians of Liberty," which Cardinal Gibbons characterizes as "an attempt to revive the bigotry of the A. P. A.," has recently come into being through the activity of General Nelson A. Miles, former Representative Charles D. Haines, of New York; Charles R. Skinner, former state superintendent of public instruction in New York, and Hon. Thomas E. Watson, of Georgia.

The objects of the association are stated to be to "preserve, defend and forever hold sacred the blood sought legacy of liberty, inherited from our fathers."

The existence of the organization is exposed by The New York World in a half page story this morning.

Section 8 provides: "We maintain it to be inconsistent with and destructive of free government to appoint or elect to political or militia office any person who openly or secretly concedes superior authority to any foreign political or ecclesiastical power whatsoever." Six of the eight paragraphs in the declaration of principles refer to the religious objects of the Guardians of Liberty and are said to be aimed at the Catholic church.

Tom Watson One of the Organizers.

Hon. Thomas E. Watson has availed himself of the organization to give wider publicity to his denunciation of the Catholic church contained in his magazine. On the back of the March number is a notice headed "Attention, Guardians of Liberty." In this announcement Mr. Watson tells of his effort to place with a number of Protestant denominational publications, from The Religious Herald to The Baptist Banner, the following advertisement:

"The Roman Catholic hierachy and its pagan idolatry exposed in Watson's

"BLOW THEIR HEADS OFF!" SUFFRAGETTES ARE URGED TO KILL PREMIER ASQUITH

David Lloyd-George and Winston Churchill Also Named for Death--Great Rally of Militant Women in New York.

New York, March 11.—(Special.)—Elizabeth Freeman, one of the suffragette leaders of London, speaking in the Metropolitan Temple tonight before one of the biggest woman's suffrage meetings ever held here, stated that she and others militantly inclined had been advised "to get rid of" Premier Asquith, Chancellor David Lloyd-George and Winston Churchill, now first lord of the admiralty.

Later she explained that the advice to "get rid of" these three members of the cabinet meant "to blow their heads off."

An American Radical.

"The man who gave us that advice," said Mrs. Freeman, "was an American radical. Of course I cannot give his name, but in England we get the same suggestion constantly. However, Asquith, Lloyd-George and Churchill need not get frightened and hide in their wives' boudoirs, because we don't intend to follow that advice. I know they are scared and timorous, but they need have no fears as to their lives.

"Why," she continued in a voice as soft as the cooing of a dove, "we nearly kidnaped Asquith not long ago. We could have carried him away in a whiff—just like that, if we had cared to. I was so close to the eminent gentleman that I could not resist the impulse to reach out, catch him by the shoulders

MRS. ROSEBOOM LOSES JEWELS

Rings and Other Articles, Worth Over $2,000, Mysteriously Disappear.

Diamonds and other jewels worth more than $2,000 mysteriously disappeared from the rooms of Mrs. Helen D. Roseboom, a prominent Chicago woman, at the Georgian Terrace, a week ago, and no clew as to the identity of the thief has been discovered.

The jewels had been in the family for years, while several were heirlooms of generations, and, through association, were worth far more than their market price. It is said that the owner values them at more than $10,000.

Mrs. Roseboom is the wife of a wealthy broker in Chicago, and has been in the city for some time. Her jewelry attracted attention whenever she wore it. She was prostrated by the loss, and during the entire week past has been ill through the shock.

She first discovered that the jewels were missing Monday afternoon, as she had not worn them since the night before. Detectives were immediately notified, and, though the search has been going on for over a week, no arrests have been made. The two most handsome pieces were said to be diamond rings of unusual size and brilliance, while various other articles were also taken.

A Complete Cure of Bladder Trouble

I am pleased to testify to the merits of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, which I had occasion to use for bladder trouble, which my physician was unable to relieve.

Four fifty-cent bottles of your remedy effected a complete cure.

PETER VAN DEINSE,
Greenville, Mich.

State of Michigan } ss.
County of Montcalm }

The foregoing has this 12th day of July, 1909, been subscribed and sworn to before me a Notary Public in and for Montcalm County, Michigan.

FRED A. GLEASON,
Notary Public.

Letter to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

Prove What Swamp-Root Will Do For You.

Send to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. It will convince anyone. You will also receive a booklet of valuable information, telling all about the kidneys and bladder. When writing, be sure and mention The Atlanta Daily Constitution. Regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles for sale at all drug stores.

therefor and the other benefits accruing to said companies, the Georgia Railway and Power Company and the Georgia Railway and Electric Company will agree to charge not exceeding 7 cents net per K. W. H. for electric current for lighting, with a minimum charge of $1 per month, and, furthermore, to charge not exceeding 4½ cents net per K. W. H. on electric current for power, with a minimum charge of 50 cents per horse power, provided that there is as much as two-horse power used per month, it being understood and agreed that in the adjustment of charges for electric current, for either of the above purposes, same shall not be done by any scale or method that increases the present charges or bills for light or power now made.

"Furthermore, it is provided in said ordinance that the Georgia Railway and Power Company, lessee, or the Georgia Railway and Electric Company, lessor, shall pay to the city of Atlanta a sum sufficient to pave or repave 16 feet of pavement on all streets hereafter paved or repaved on which they have double tracks, and for 11 feet of pavement or repavement on all streets on which they have a single track.

Percentage on Gross Receipts.

"Said ordinance further provides that the city shall receive an agreed percentage charge on gross receipts on all business done by the Georgia Railway and Electric Company, as now established and defined, and on all extensions made in the name of or by said Georgia Railway and Electric Company, and, furthermore, the city will receive a similar percentage on all business done by the Georgia Railway and Power Company as now established, or on extensions of the lines, wires, conduits or rails of the Georgia Railway and Electric Company within a distance of 7 miles from the center of the city of Atlanta.

"Said ordinance further provides that, with reference to extension of electric lines for light, in the overhead district, same shall be made without charge whenever and wherever there is a house or person to be served within a distance of 200 feet of the terminus of any lines now or hereafter established.

"Said ordinance furthermore provides that said companies shall and do agree that the city's water supply shall not be interfered with in any way, either in dry seasons, wet seasons or otherwise by said companies.

"Your committee had under discussion with representatives of said companies the payment of the full amount of the percentage on gross receipts without any deduction on account of franchise tax. We were unable to make any specific agreement on this subject, and we believe it better, for the city, that the matter remains as it is until the act of 1903, providing for such reductions, may be repealed, and, when so done, we think that contract or ordinance of 1902 shall be construed, and we believe, at that time, a construction will be secured whereby the present ad valorem tax on franchises will not be deducted from the percentage on gross receipts.

"Your committee left out of the ordinance paragraphs 2 and 3, of the items above set out, with reference to the term of franchise because the companies were unable to make any agreement thereon, inasmuch as their lines are bonded, and it would require the consent of the bondholders, as well as the stockholders, and for the further reason that a number of these franchises were only granted for fifty years and a large part of the fifty years has already been served, and the minimum of thirty-five years there fixed is not very far from the life of some of said franchises as now fixed.

As to Street Car Fares.

"With reference to street car fares, your committee makes no report thereon except to recommend that, at the present time, there be no request on this subject, as we do not deem the time opportune or that the city at present demands such investigations and, furthermore, as the companies have agreed to pay for an additional amount of paving, where streets are hereafter paved, we think this will very largely inure to the benefit of the city whereby the citizens will secure pavement on streets where same are now worn out much more rapidly than otherwise could be secured and, furthermore, we believe that there is a very growing necessity and considerable demand, on the part of a number of citizens, that the lines of the street car companies should be extended and more complete service rendered. There seems to be a fear that if there is any continued agitation concerning the fares that such extensions, improvements and added service may be interfered with.

"With reference to bonds, your committee begs to report that there is no agreement on the part of the city not to make an issue of bonds for the purpose of building a plant for the generating of electric current for light, heat or power. Under this report such bonds may be issued, without regard to this adjustment, whenever the citizens of the city agree that same shall be done and vote therefor, and your committee believes that this power should be reserved and this report carefully preserves this power to the citizens of the city and, furthermore, your committee thinks that in justice to said companies and their representatives that they frankly stated that they would not oppose such reservation, in this adjustment, whereby the city would be given the power and right to build an electric power plant whenever they so desire, by the issue of bonds or, to build in any other way, from any other income.

"Your committee further recommend that the complaint heretofore filed by the city of Atlanta against the Georgia Railway and Electric Company with the railroad commission of Georgia shall be withdrawn and the city attorney is directed to transmit this information to the chairman of said railroad commission and have said complaint officially marked withdrawn on the records of said commission.

"With reference to the city's lights, for its streets or buildings, no report is made thereon. Your committee think this contract should be made after proper advertisement and under competitive bids and the best contract possible be secured by the city for its public lights."

"LOVES HUSBAND WITH PASSION WHICH APPROACHES IDOLATRY"

---John W. Moore.

"Mrs. Grace is not an actress. She is a tender, sympathetic woman, more sinned against than sinner, and the only element in her nature that keeps her buoyed up is her emplicit faith in the inevitable triumph of truth. Her sole and only prayer is for the ultimate recovery of the man she loves with a passion approaching idolatry."

Thus John W. Moore, attorney for Mrs. Eugene Grace, expressed himself as he sauntered out of the Tower, after a two-hour interview with the distressed prisoner last night. He declared that every new development tends to relieve the case of the mystery which shrouded it from the time Grace was found by police in his apartments in the Eleventh street mansion.

Informed of the removal of Grace from St. Joseph's sanitarium to Dr. Hoke's laboratory, he exclaimed:

"Ah, that is good news. It is a clear admission that his condition is improved. We assume that the physicians have found his condition much better, or they would not allow him to be taken from his cot."

Mrs. Grace was ill when Attorney Moore called on her in her cell in the Tower. She suffered severely from another attack of tonsolitis, and last night she spoke barely above a whisper.

The prison officials are more vigilant now than ever. It is said that several persons attempted to reach Mrs. Grace by resorting to subterfuges.

DEFENSE BELIEVES X-RAY WILL HELP MRS. E. H. GRACE

That the X-ray picture taken by Dr. Mike L. Hoke, the Atlanta atonomist, showing the course and lodgment of the little leaden pellet which Mrs. Eugene H. Grace is charged with having fired into the body of her husband, will have a great bearing in the trial, is the opinion of John W. Moore, her attorney.

"The picture will show," explained Attorney Moore.

"First, the exact position of Grace, also the position of his assailant when the shot was fired.

"Second, whether or not the bullet was fired by someone standing in the room, or by a person on the porch window.

"Third, whether it will render Grace helpless the balance of his life as the result of paralysis from which he is now suffering.

"Fourth, whether the bullet can be removed without endangering the life of the patient, and

"Fifth, whether or not Mrs. Grace is entitled to bail."

The point of entrance of the bullet strengthens the theory of some criminologists who believe that Grace was shot from the window. It is reasoned that a person standing in the room would have fired at a greater angle, and would have placed the barrel of the pistol against a more vital spot. The powder marks on the robe prove conclusively that the pistol was fired at close range, but students of legal medicine contend, and are borne out by authorities, that in some homicides it has been proven that a pistol fired at from three to seven feet burned the clothing of the victim.

MILLIONAIRE BACHELOR MAID STRADDLES HORSE AND WINS

San Diego, Cal., March 11.—Miss Eleanor Sears, the millionaire bachelor maid, of Boston, rode Joe Ross to victory in a quarter-mile dash on the Coronado track today. Lady Reginald Herbert, riding Hawkeye, was a close second. A big crowd witnessed the race.

Lady Herbert got away a length in the lead with the inside track. Miss Sears' clever horsemanship won her the race, for as they rounded the turn and came into the stretch she sent her horse into the lead and gradually drew to the front until she came under the wire two lengths to the good. A number of other society women were expected to appear in the race, but all decided to avoid the formidable competition involved.

Miss Sears was "dressed to win the race," she told her friends. She used a regulation English riding saddle and rode astride with the stirrups well up. She was dressed in a reddish brown pair of peg-top trousers, tan army leather leggings, a plaid cap and a khaki colored blouse with white silk sleeves. She rode with all the grace of a well-trained jockey and was standing high in her stirrups and leaning well over the neck of her horse at the finish.

PRISONER TRIES TO HANG SELF WITH HIS NECKTIE

Quitman, Ga., March 11.—(Special.)—Charles Smith, white, 26 years of age, a prisoner in the Brooks county jail, attempted suicide tonight by hanging himself with his necktie. He was cut lose by Sheriff J. B. Newsome, who had returned from a country trip just in the nick of time. When cut loose he was very near gone, but after the sheriff worked with him for some time he improved and began moaning: "She is dead."

The sheriff's attention was attracted by prisoners in the jail and convict camp adjacent calling for help. Smith is awaiting trial on the charge of burglarizing the stores of R. E. Bower and H. B. Austin, the postoffice and the express office in Dixie in January.

Sheriff Newsome states that Smith is mentally unbalanced and it was caused by his sweetheart hanging herself because her parents refused to allow her and Smith to marry. Following her death, he took to roaming over the country, drinking and using morphine. Unable to secure the dope in jail and knowing that he had very slim hopes of freedom, as when arrested, in Valdostaly recently, he had in his possession articles identified by Bowers and Austin as part of property stolen from their stores, are the reasons the sheriff assigns for Smith's actions.

He attempted to hang himself with the bedding Friday, but was discovered by the sheriff before he had hung long enough to cut off his wind.

MORTUARY

M. P. Wood, Commerce.

Commerce, Ga., March 11.—(Special.) Marion P. Wood, an old confederate veteran, 79 years old, died at his home near this place this morning. The remains will be interred tomorrow at his home, with the ritual services of Camp John H. Morgan, of this place.

A. F. Lauderdale.

Mr. Lauderdale is survived by a wife, two children, six sisters and one brother. He was a switchman for the Southern railway, and a member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

Mrs. Mary Emma Miller.

Mrs. Mary Emma Miller, aged 46, died at 10 o'clock Sunday night at a private sanitarium. The body was removed to Patterson's chapel. Funeral services will be conducted at Mrs. Miller's home, 196 West Fourteenth street, today. Interment at Casey's cemetery. Mrs. Miller is survived by a husband, James M. Miller, and seven children.

Judge Wm. Jackson Shockley.

Judge William Jackson Shockley, aged 74, died yesterday morning at his residence in Buckhead. Funeral arrangements will be announced later. Judge Shockley is survived by a wife and one son, W. T. Shockley.

PAVING FORFEIT CAUSES DISCUSSION IN COUNCIL

The recommendation of the street committee to refund Jamison & Hollawell $500, which they had put up as a forfeit on a bid for tile sidewalk paving, caused a very lively discussion in council Monday afternoon, with the result that the matter was recommitted to the committee. The report of the committee stated that Jamison & Hollawell had been relieved of the contract, which was 99 cents a square yard, because they had bid under a misunderstanding about property owners having the right to have their paving done by private contractors, and that therefore the $500 forfeit should not be imposed. Several members of council differed with the committee about letting that $500 get away.

The following committee was appointed, under a resolution by Alderman Van Dyke, to make a report on the feasibility of securing a charter amendment for a bond election of $250,000 to erect a crematory and improve the streets: Harvey Hatcher, Clarence Haverty, A. H. Van Dyke, James B. Everett and A. D. Thomson.

The permanent grades on Ivy and West Peachtree streets were established by resolution, and the chief of construction instructed to carry on the work of regrading and repaving the two streets as far as the $5,000 appropriated for each would go.

trip of nearly a mile, involving twice being put in and taken out of an ambulance, may be expected to have some effect on the confinement of Mrs. Grace in the Tower without bond. She has been held pending the outcome of her husband's injuries. In case he had died the detectives would have charged her with murder, which is not bailable under the the laws of Georgia.

"Will you make an effort to effect Mrs. Grace's release on bond?" John W. Moore was asked Monday night at the Tower.

"I cannot say as to that, for we have not taken the matter up at all," he answered.

"What about habeas corpus proceedings?"

"There will hardly be any action of that nature. We are waiting on what the doctors say. As soon as they give out the official statement that Mr. Grace is in such a condition that his life is not feared for, then we will make bond."

Ready to Make Any Bond.

Mr. Moore has often pointed out the fact that Mrs. Grace was under $7,500 bond when she was rearrested last Thursday, and that her friends stand ready and willing to make whatever bond the court may require in the case.

Mrs. Grace, it is known, is very anxious to regain her liberty. While she has taken her confinement philosophically, making the best of it without complaint, she has expressed a desire to be liberated. The rigid confinement is telling on her.

The two insurance policies aggregating $25,000, which the prosecution asserts was the prize which Mrs. Grace sought if she attempted to kill her husband, were cancelled Monday morning in the United States district court by agreement.

A petition to that effect had been filed Saturday afternoon at 5:25 o'clock with John D. Steward, clerk of the court. It alleged fradulent representation by Grace of his financial condition, chief of which was an altered statement that his income for twelve months prior to the issuance of the policy was $30,000. Mrs. Grace, as beneficiary under the policies, and standing accused of attempting to murder her husband, was made a defendant with her husband in the suit.

Policies Not Surrendered.

The policies are said to be in possession of Mrs. Grace, and two days after he was shot her husband took out a possessory warrant for them, stating that he wished to transfer them tohis mother, Mrs. S. L. Hill. The warrant was served, but the policies were not surrendered.

Monday morning it was agreed by Mr. Grace and by his mother that the policies should be annulled without contest. The premiums paid by him, amounting to nearly $1,000, of which $408.60 was in cash, the remainder by his note, will be returned to him, and the policies declared of no effect.

Mrs. Grace took a hand in the matter also, through her attorneys, Moore & Branch. Their letter to Charles T. Hopkins and Philip C. McDuffie, attorneys for the company, is given in full below:

"On Saturday afternoon about 6 o'clock, Mrs. Grace was served with the bill filed by the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company to cancel two policies of insurance issued on the life of her husband, upon the ground that they were procured by his fraudulent representations.

"Mrs. Grace does not know whether these representations were ever made or not. She did not apply for the policies, made no representations to the company, and in no way participated in the transaction. This litigation is personal between your company and Mr. Grace, and as to the merits of it, she has no knowledge or information.

"These 6-weeks-old, unpaid-for policies, which were procured without Mrs. Grace's knowledge or participation and without any representation whatever on her part to any insurance agent, are personal matters between your company and Mr. Grace.

"This letter will be your authority for giving that litigation such direction as your company and Mr. Grace may see fit.

"There is one charge in your bill in which Mrs. Grace is personally interested, and in due time, under the rules of the federal court, this will be met.

"This incidental matter, however, is not one which will legally affect your litigation with Mr. Grace about the insurance policies."

McDuffie Makes Statement.

Following is a statement made by P. C. McDuffie, attorney for the insurance company:

"I was employed by the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company to secure cancellation of policies on the life of Eugene H. Grace, amounting to $25,000. This has been perfected by the insured and the beneficiary voluntarily releasing the company from any and all liability thereunder. At the proper time a decree will be taken, dismissing the case filed in the United States court to cancel the policies.

"The only interest of the Penn Mutual was in the civil case, which is now disposed of by agreement.

Paragraph About Shooting.

The "incidental matter" referred to in the letter is taken to be the paragraph in the company petition which charges Mrs. Grace, through their information and to best of their knowledge and belief, with shooting her husband or having a part in it.

Inasmuch as the petition is a matter of record on the files of the United States court, it is understood that a denial, according to law, will be registered and recorded.

The "6-weeks-old policies" are referred to in the letter apparently with a view to stressing the fact that they had not yet run a year, which is the limit of time in which payment can be contested. Supposing that Mrs. Grace killed her husband, the year limitation would still have allowed payment to be contested.

Lewis Hill, half-brother of the wounded man, Monday made public two conversations which had taken place since the shooting, which are considered of vital importance by the prosecution. They come from Mrs. Hill, Grace's mother.

Where Is Man's Heart?

The first one is what Grace himself told his mother when she visited him at the infirmary.

"'Where is a man's heart?' Daisy asked me the night before I was shot," Grace is quoted as saying. "I told her and she seemed much interested. That night she made me write a letter, just teasing as she always is, and I never thought anything about it. Next morning I woke up with a numb pain in my side. I thought I had acute indigestion and I asked her to pray for me. 'I can't pray,' she said. She gave me some medicine and said she would call a doctor, but none ever came. Then she went off and locked me up in the house, and stuffed her boudoir cap in the telephone. I believe she shot me and shot me for the insurance."

The second conversation is what Mrs. Hill says of the wife's attitude when she reached Newnan on the day of the shooting.

Wanted Mail Forwarded.

"I told her that I had been wired that Gene was shot, but she never seemed nervous or worried. They had told me he was shot through the lung. 'How can a person be conscious when shot through the lung?' she asked me. When we went back to Atlanta that afternoon she gave strict orders about her mail being forwarded to her."

The letter referred to by Grace and Mrs. Hill's reference to "forwarded mail" are taken as significant, in view of the fact that a letter is to play so important a part in whatever trial results. It is said that Mrs. Grace mailed it to herself at Newnan, after securing it from her husband, and that it attempted to prove an alibi.

It was reported Monday that Mrs. Grace had attempted to throw suspicion on some other woman. Her conversation was said to have been heard by a Tower official, but this official denied that he had heard any remark she made hinting that some other woman might have shot her husband.

Felder Writes for Woman.

Attorney Thomas B. Felder took up the cudgel in behalf of Mrs. Grace, and said that "in the prosecution's greatest strength is its greatest weakness," explaining that he meant the case was too complete and too strong an effort had been made to convict the woman before her trial. He spoke of Grace's statements, which cannot be used against his wife and said that too many blunders were made in the shooting to allow of its having been done by a woman of the intelligence and worldly knowledge of Mrs. Grace.

Attorney Reuben A. Arnold said: "We are not depending on Grace's statements for the conviction of Mrs. Grace. The case is complete without that and we can convict her before any fair-minded jury on her own statements and her own actions. She was the last person seen with him, she locked him up in the house, she alone knew where they hid the key, and the idea of her leaving the pistol downstairs as a point for her innocence is preposterous. She shot Grace for his insurance."

Grace Born in Macon.

Macon, Ga., March 11.—(Special.)—Eugene Grace, the victim in the Atlanta shooting mystery, was born and reared in Macon. His father, Eugene B. Grace, owned a tobacco store on Cherry street; was captain of the leading company of the volunteer firemen, and was one of Macon's most popular citizens.

BULLETS FLEW IN EVERY DIRECTION; NEGRO SHOT

Hazlehurst, Ga., March 11.—(Special.)—Jim Williams, a negro, was shot today when Chief of Police O. L. Mobley, with his assistant, E. B. Girtman, went to serve a warrant on him, charging him with the violation of the city ordinances.

The chief, with his assistant, boarded a freight train and arrested Williams, and when he landed on the ground the chief undertook to search him, and he immediately showed fight by drawing a large pistol. Girtman clinched with the negro and Williams shot at Chief Mobley, then shot through the sleeve of Girtman's coat, and being unable to get loose from Girtman, felled him with a blow in the forehead and continued to fire on Chief Mobley, who brought his gun into play about this time, striking the negro with two shots and missing one shot. The shots fired by Chief Mobley proved fatal. He died in a few minutes.

The shots from Williams' pistol entered the railroad depot, and one shot from Chief Mobley's pistol went into the window of the office of the Pierce hotel and created considerable excitement.

NO NEWS FROM WAYCROSS MEN WHO ARE IN MEXICO

Waycross, Ga., March 11.—(Special.) That no definite information can be obtained about J. A. Sweat, manager of the Sessoms interests in Mexico, and H. J. Hjelin, his assistant, is the advice received here tonight from Congressmen W. G. Brantley. The Sessoms operate extensive ranches 65 miles from Torreon. Nothing has been heard from them since early in February.

Alex Sessoms has received messages from El Paso stating that the revolution is quieter today, and very few losses reported. All Americans have deserted Torreon and gone to Mapim.

RECORD BROKEN BY OPERA SALE

First Day of Sale Closed With $25,000 Taken In.

This Is Approximately $5,000 Ahead of the Record of the First Day Last Year—Season Tickets Are Going "Like Hot Cakes."

Grand opera ticket sales have again broken the record in Atlanta.

Treasurer C. B. Bidwell reported at the close of business Monday night sales of season tickets aggregating $25,000.

Monday was the first day of the public sale, and this figure breaks all records for grand opera business in Atlanta.

Increase of $5,000.

At the close of the first day's sales in 1911, the total was approximately $20,000, and that exceeded the business at the end of the first day the year before.

Season tickets were snapped up like "hot cakes" all day long; steady streams of purchasers poured into the offices of the Cable Piano Company and Phillips & Crews', and everybody was trying to get the "best seats."

The season ticket sale for Atlanta's 1912 grand opera season is now in full swing and will be on until Thursday, April 4, when the sale of single tickets will begin.

But it is evident from the way the sale has opened that those who wish to secure good seats for all the operas would do well to hurry; it will be to their advantage to get in early and make their choice.

Where to Buy Tickets.

The sale opens at 9 o'clock in the morning at both places—Cable Piano Company, on Broad, near Peachtree, and Phillips & Crew's, on Pryor, between Auburn avenue and Houston.

Purchasers of season tickets expressed much gratification when they found they were buying season tickets for seven grand operas this year at practically the same price they paid for four operas in 1911.

This year $21 buys a season ticket for the "best seats" for seven operas in all, of which world famous stars will appear; last year the price for four operas was $20.

Scale of Prices.

Prices of season and single tickets for the grand operas this season are as follows:

Boxes, seating six, season, $189; single, $45. Boxes, seating four, season, $126; single, $30.

Arena, first 24 rows, season, $21; single, $5; next 19 rows, season, $17.50; single, $4.

Dress circle, season, according to location, $21, $17.50 and $12.25; single, $5, $4 and $2.50.

Balcony, first 4 rows, season, $14; single, $3; next 5 rows, season, $10.50; single, $2; next 2 rows, season, $7; single, $1.

Back of sight line 410 seats at $7 for the season or $1 per single seat.

Mail orders for seats will be received now at the office of C. B. Bidwell, treasurer, Atlanta Music Festival Association, 1016 Fourth National Bank building, Atlanta, Ga. All mail orders must be accompanied by check, money order or draft, and will be filled strictly in the order of receipt, season subscriptions having the first choice. Checks should be made payable to C. B. Bidwell, treasurer.

MISS HELEN TAFT SHOWS PRODUCTS OF SWEATSHOP

Washington, March 11.—Miss Helen Taft was one of several young women who today pointed out to visitors items of interest in an exhibit of sweatshop products.

The exhibit is in the dowtown section, under the auspices of the National Consumers' League, and is attracting wide interest among society folk.

Miss Taft has become an enthusiast in the movement, and has familiarized herself with the conditions under which articles are produced in the sweat shops. She explained to visitors the labor involved in the production of the goods, wages paid for the work, and gave an interesting account of the life and environment of mill workers.

BERGER, AVIATION MAN, IS ARRESTED

Waycross People Hold the Promoter Under Two Counts at Montgomery.

Waycross, Ga., March 11.—(Special.) After going through experience varied enough to fill an ordinary book, J. S. Berger, who made his debut in Georgia as an aviation promoter at Valdosta, in the spring of 1911, is again in jail.

This time he is held at Montgomery, Ala., on warrants sworn out by W. E. Sirmans, of Waycross. There are two charges against Berger, one warrant charging cheating and swindling, the other has to do with the alleged disposal of canvass walls owned by Waycross parties. Requisition papers were requested from Governor O'Neal today, and as soon as they are received an officer will be sent for Berger.

During 1911 Berger attempted to hold aviation meetings at Valdosta, Waycross, Fitzgerald and Savannah. While at the latter place he was arrested by government authorities on the charge of misuse of the mails. At a preliminary hearing he was dismissed. Since then Berger has conducted numerous aviation meets throughout the south, some successful and others the opposite. Recently he has conducted aviation flights in Alabama, and after endeavoring to secure a settlement for funds advanced by Waycross people, warrants for his arrest were issued.

The promotion scheme Berger worked in Georgia was to secure an advance payment of amounts ranging from $500 to $1,200. Aviation enthusiasts and business men tumbled to this, and had their reckoning days when either accidents or poor flyers spoiled the meetings. Berger may get a trial here next week in the city court.

EASTER EGG HUNT FUND AIDED BY COUNCILMEN

The fund for the big Easter egg hunt at Grant park on April 13 was increased Monday afternoon by $48.50, members of council and city and county officials subscribing the amount.

During the session of council the city hall reporters of The Constitution, The Georgian and The Journal, at the request of Park Commissioner W. C. Puckett, who is chairman of the Easter egg hunt committee, secured subscriptions from all the members of council present.

The new list of subscriptions is as follows.

From the following members of council $1 each:

Aldermen McClelland, Van Dyke, Ragsdale, Spratling, Everett, Warren, Johnson, Maddox, Nutting; Councilmen Smith, Knight, Hall, Mason, Thomson, Vaughan, Sisson, Haverty, Boynton, Wardlaw, Baskin, Guess, Hatcher, Abernathy, Baker, Chambers, Greer, Wood and Humphrey.

The other contributors were: A. P. Stewart, $5; Marcellus M. Anderson, $5; W. D. Ellis, Jr., $2.50; James M. Fuller, $1; Metropolitan Club, $5; Walter Taylor, $2.

Subscriptions already acknowledged: Constitution, $50; park commission, $100; Georgia Railway and Electric Company, $100; Journal, $50.

The grand total to date is $348.50. The amount necessary to make the hunt a success is $500.

ANOTHER INDICTMENT AGAINST CHICAGO WIDOW

Chicago, March 11.—Mrs. Louise Vermilya was indicted today for the murder of Richard T. Smith, a collector employed by the Illinois Central railroad, March 11, 1911. The return of the true bill from the grand jury room stopped a preliminary hearing on a warrant charging Mrs. Vermilya with the same offense.

Last week preparations were made to try the woman for the murder of Policeman Arthur Bissenette, but when the case was called the state's attorney dismissed it and preferred the Smith charge.

The woman has been in jail several months and a number of other deaths of those near to her have been investigated.

The allegation against Mrs. Vermilya is that she caused the death of Smith by giving him arsenic.

HORSE SUSPECTED OF HYDROPHOBIA

Negro Farmer Near Macon Is Dying as Result of Bite.

Macon, Ga., March 11.—(Special.)—Zack Henderson, a negro farmer living on the Whitesides place, 3 miles from Macon, is expected to die as the result of being bitten by a horse supposed to have been afflicted with hydrophobia. He was bitten this morning, his right arm being chewed almost off below the elbow. The horse then bit the negro in the face, horribly disfiguring him. The horse was killed by order of County Physician O. C. Gibson and the head sent to the state board of health department in Atlanta for examination for possible rabies. The negro's injuries were of a most frightful nature.

Ran a Blind Tiger.

Macon, Ga., March 11.—(Special.)—Herschel Braswell, a negro, pleaded guilty in the recorder's court this morning to the charge of violating the city blind tiger ordinance and was fined $200. He was also committed to the city court for violating the prohibition law. The three barrels of whisky taken from his social club on Fourth street Saturday night were poured in the crematory fires this morning. Braswell was also bound over for receiving stolen goods.

Bride Wants Divorce.

Macon, Ga., March 11.—(Special.)—Mrs. Annyelu Griffin Rainey, a 17-year-old school girl, who eloped on last November 3 with Gordon M. Rainey and lived with him six weeks, has filed suit for divorce. She declares in her petition that her honeymoon was not what she had expected from stories she read in the popular novels. She says her husband cursed her and her mother and beat her severely. She left him two days before Christmas.

LOCOMOTIVE ENGINEERS FIGHT COMPENSATION ACT

Representatives of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers from all over Georgia, and from parts of South Carolina, Alabama and Florida, held a meeting yesterday afternoon in the Kiser building to discuss the employees' compensation act. That act is a bill now pending before congress to fix the compensation to be paid by railroads when an employee is killed or injured.

Attorney General T. S. Felder, at the request of the engineers, addressed them, and explained fully the purposes of the bill.

After hearing the address the engineers unanimously adopted a resolution condemning the new act, and the resolution stated that it was the unanimous sense of the meeting that the measure was a backward movement because it destroyed the employers' liability act of 1908, which latter act placed railroad men, they claim, on an equal footing with other citizens. It was also denounced for placing too much power in the hands of one man, and because it placed a premium upon the negligence of the employer and the employee.

The meeting also notified Warren S. Stone, the grand chief engineer, that they were unalterably opposed to the passage of the act, and asked him to withdraw his support from it entirely, and if he was not willing to do that, to withdraw it until the members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers had time to consider the act, and decide whether they wanted it or not.

LITTLE BOY SHOOTS BABY GIRL WITH RIFLE

Adairsville, Ga., March 11.—(Special.)—About 4 o'clock this afternoon the little son of Mrs. Mattie Davis shot his cousin, the little daughter of John Davis, with a 22-caliber rifle, the ball entering the thigh. The girl is 4 years old and the boy 12.

SKIES MAY BE CLEAR LATE THIS AFTERNOON

Driven by a chilly east wind, rain swoped down upon Atlanta yesterday afternoon, and, though it caused little diminution of the crowds in the early afternoon, before night had fallen practically every pedestrian who could was safely indoors.

A more unpleasant afternoon and a worse outlook for a so-called spring month has rarely been seen by the local weather bureau. Forecaster von Herrmann is disconsolate. "It's the worst start of any March that I can recollect," he said.

The normal temperature for a March day was fine until the clouds really became lowering and the wind shifted to the east. Then it was that rain and great coats became very popular, and those who were compelled to walk increased their gait to a near canter.

By nightfall the mercury was hovering about 38—12 degrees below normal—and, though the weather man thinks that no freezing will come, it certainly did not seem that way at 7 o'clock. No frozen rain on car tracks and wires is expected, though rain and colder is the prediction for Tuesday.

Late this afternoon the skies may clear, and if such an event takes place the thermometer will register cool weather, probably near freezing. March weather is not here, and when it does arrive everyone will be so surprised they will imagine it's summer instead of spring.

COUNCIL URGES CITY CLEANING

Resolution to That Effect Adopted Yesterday Afternoon.

Work of the State Health Board Is Also Indorsed. Resolutions Introduced by A. H. Van Dyke Passed by Unanimous Vote.

The action of the state board of health in instituting a campaign for the sanitary improvement of every section of the state, was approved by a unanimous vote of the general council yesterday afternoon.

Alderman A. H. VanDyke introduced a resolution indorsing what the state board of health had done and pledging Atlanta's co-operation. The resolution further directed the city officials to get Atlanta cleaned up as speedily as possible.

The full text of the resolution as adopted follows:

"Whereas, the summer will soon be upon us when there will come the danger to health and life from insanitary conditions,

"And, whereas, the state board of health has with most commendable forethought and enterprise instituted a campaign having in view the improvement of sanitary conditions throughout the state,

"Therefore, be it resolved by the mayor and general council of the city of Atlanta that the campaign by the state board of health is indorsed and approved and that the city authorities will do all in their power to co-operate in this most laudable movement;

"Resolved, further, that the board of health, the chief of the sanitary department, the chief of construction be directed to have the city cleaned up as speedily as possible, and to report to the mayor and council if there is any reason or cause why this work should not be done which is of such vital importance to the health and lives of our citizens."

STRIKE FUND MISUSED, SO COMPLAINANTS SAY

Boston, Mass., March 11.—Joseph J. Ettor, William D. Haywood, William Yates and William Trautmann, leaders of the Lawrence strike, and Joseph Bedard and James Sheehan, members of the strikers' finance committee, have been ordered to show cause why an injunction should not be issued preventing them from further distribution of relief funds and a receiver be named to take charge of the matter. Judge Hammond in the supreme judicial court today issued an order of notice in the case which is returnable Friday.

Contributors to the fund who believe the money has not been properly handled, induced tAtorney General Swift to permit his name to appear on the information which was filed today. The information names as relators James M. Prendergast, the Rev. Herbert S. Johnson and Robert A. Wood, contributors to the relief fund.

The plaintiffs allege that the defendants conspired together and have used substantial portions of the fund for purposes entirely different from what was intended: that the fund has, in part at least, been improperly used for the private and personal benefit of the defendants and their associates: that the defendants, or some of them, have drawn sums from the fund as salaries, a purpose for which they had no right to use the funds; that substantial amounts have been contributed for the board and private expenses of Ettor; large sums paid for the transportation to New York and other cities of children for the purpose of inducing the public to swell the fund; that large sums have been paid to counsel for defending Ettor, and other large amounts turned over to the Industrial Workers of the World.

BROUGHTON IS GUEST OF TABERNACLE STAFF

The medical and surgical staff of the Tabernacle infirmary will give a banquet tonight, at the Georgian Terrace, in honor of Dr. Len G. Broughton, who soon leaves for Christ church London.

TWO PLEAD GUILTY OF ROBBING POSTOFFICE

Jasper, Ga., March 11.—(Special.)—William Chastain and Lee Callahan were arrested by United States Marshal Taylor and brought before United States Commissioner L. W. Kellogg here today charged with breaking into the postoffices at Landville and Blaint. The two little towns are 4 miles apart. Bailiff Goble made the arrest, and found a lot of postage stamps and other things from the postoffices on their persons. They admitted their guilt, and were committed by Judge Kellogg to the Fulton county jail in default of $1,000 bonds.

MANY GEORGIANS TURNING TO OSCAR W. UNDERWOOD

As evidence of the fact that many Georgians are turning from Wilson to Underwood since the announcement of the southern man, Hon. G. R. Hutchens, Georgia campaign manager for Mr. Underwood, gave out Monday a letter received from Frank P. Longley, a prominent lawyer of LaGrange, in which Mr. Longley states that until a few days ago he was for Woodrow Wilson, but that he has changed his mind. Moreover, he says that his father, who is chairman of the county democratic committee of Troup county, is for Underwood. Mr. Longley says that he personally knows of dozens of his people who have recently changed from other candidates to Underwood,

"Up to a few days ago I was in favor of Governor Wilson, considering him the most available man for us to nominate," says Mr. Longley. "The more, however, I study the man and his record the more convinced I am that it is the duty of Georgians to support the Hon. Oscar W. Underwood, of Alabama. In the first place I consider him the peer of any man in public life; in the second place who can so well defend and present to all the people the great tariff question as the great democrat who drafted the bill? In the third place, his past and present record show him to be safe, sound and conservative. In the fourth place, I am tired of seeing them 'kick my dog around.' My father joins in these sentiments and says, 'May the Lord bless your mission.' I personally know dozens of our people who have recently changed from other candidates to Underwood."

CONSERVATION DINNER FOR FORWARD WORKERS

Plans for a conservation dinner at the Piedmont hotel on April 9 were formulated at a meeting of the executive committee of the Men and Religion Forward Movement, held Monday morning.

At this meeting reports from the various committees, showing just what was done before will be made, and then plans for the eight-day campaign will be heard.

Prospective work for the next twelve months is being mapped out. The auxiliary cities committee, of which J. K. Orr is chairman, has already commenced its work, the first meeting being held at Tallapoosa, Ga., 3 miles from the Georgia line, last Sunday.

TOM HUDSON STANDS FOR COUNTY UNIT PLAN

In the copies of his platform furnished for publication in the local press, Commissioner of Agriculture T. G. Hudson stated yesterday that one important feature was omitted through an error on the part of the stenographer making the copies.

"In the oringinal copy, as I prepared it," Mr. Hudson stated, "I announced that I favored the county unit plan in making nominations for governor and statehouse officers. I shall give my support to that plan of making nominations. How that feature got left out I don't know, unless it was the fault of the stenographer in hurriedly making copies for the local press. It was in some of the copies sent out, but omitted in those published in Atlanta."

AMERICAN LIFE and Annuity Co.

Don't Take Life Insurance in a Haphazard Manner.

The average man does not take out his life insurance upon the definite basis he secures fire or other insurance. Many men have not their lives fully insured, because they do not give as much thought to the cash outlay for a policy as they do to the face value.

A man taking out fire insurance does so because he wishes to reimburse himself for a definite sum in case his home or stock of goods be burned. This definite loss is ascertained by valuing the home or merchandise to be insured.

Life insurance should be secured upon the same basis. Every healthy man with a family is worth a definit sum to his family. This sum can be figured by the income he receives which provides for his family, and this sum should be insured as definitely as his home or his stock of goods.

AMERICAN LIFE & ANNUITY CO., Atlanta, Ga., will be glad to show you the figures. As an idea, we mention that a man earning $1,500 per year and who spends $600 per year as his personal expenses and his share of his family expenses, has an insurable value of $900 per year to his family, as his wife and children are accustomed to receive $900 per year through his income. Therefore, this man should take out enough life insurance to guarantee to his family $900 per year even though he be removed by death. The expectancy of years figures in this, and we will be glad to furnish full information. Drop us a line about this—today.

A DOSE OF CALOMEL MEANS A DOSE OF CASTOR OIL AFTER IT

Because It Crashes Into the System, Tears Up the Bile and Leaves Bowels More Constipated Than Before.

Calomel will stimulate a sluggish liver to action, but at a terrible cost! The mercury in the calomel simply crashes into the system and tears up the bile, and the liver is thrown into a forcible action. The clashing of the mercury and the sour bile usually causes severe vomiting and acute nausea, sometimes even salivation. The whole system is racked by the awful shock and the bowels are left weak and powerless and more constipated than before, so that an after dose of castor oil or strong salts must follow. All this suffering is needless.

JACOBS' LIVER SALT contains no mercury, yet it is more powerful than calomel in its action upon the liver, but without force. It stimulates the torpid liver because it removes the cause of the torpidity; it dissolves the poisonous uric acid deposit in the blood which is the cause of the sour stomach and bile and other disturbances, and passes it off in the urine. Calomel can't do that.

For biliousness, constipation, dyspepsia, sour stomach, gastritis, JACOBS' LIVER SALT is unquestionably the best remedy, and we recommend it above all others. It acts quickly and effectually, without nausea or griping or other effects. A teaspoonful of JACOBS' LIVER SALT makes a pleasant tasting, effervescent drink that is simply wonderful in its effect upon the hepatic organs. Try it! 1-2 pound jar, 25c; (by mail, 16c extra postage). Jacobs' Pharmacy Co., Atlanta, Ga. Insist on Jacobs'.

Muse's New Spring Oxfords for Women

That there's a time and place for everything is usually proved out. The uncertainty of the "return of Spring" makes a place for the Spring Oxford. It is comfortable protection from a late Spring dampness, and is wonderfully easy wear, when the high boot is gladly put away.

For all that, our Special Tan Oxford for Spring needs no reasoning to commend it to you, than its very particular smartness.

Dixie has the prize hat in the ring. It's the hat of the hurrah.

The discoverer of campaign delegates has the glory-call now.

A high tariff on campaign stumps would help the farmer some.

Pictures of the White House were never so popular on Dixie postcards.

The spring lawn-mower is the home steam-roller that doesn't get a hurrah.

Anyway, the English window-glass factories are doing huge overtime stunts.

They are not going to kick Dixie's hat out of that ring with the cry of "No room."

It would be a pity to melt the glory of that South Pole achievement with a red-hot row.

Congress is always "ready for business," but getting down to it isn't so apparent.

The candidate who times his dates with the baseball games will have a cinch on the crowds.

The La Follette pompadour is as imposing as ever, but they say his chief object now is to find his hat.

Glad to know that Amundsen wasn't so hungry that he had to eat the flag designed for the South Pole.

We are anxious to see Baltimore rise to the occasion in everything but the upward tendency of hotel prices.

It is still an easy matter to look into the Promised Land from the slight elevation of a campaign stump.

If there are any Roosevelt policies left in the Taft band-wagon how they will enjoy spilling them along the road.

Chancellor Day is making the most of his opportunity to get in the words he failed to deliver on a former occasion.

When the delegate calls they are in no hurry to hand him his hat—at least, until he's signed, sealed and delivered.

Flattering to the country to think it's perfectly able to run itself while its president is doing the circle-swing act.

As Dr. Cook is on a lecturing tour he may seize the opportunity to tell the audience why he didn't discover the South Pole.

Hard to see how they can treat that Mexican revolution lightly when it is almost as loud as a Fourth of July celebration.

Cheer up! The man of the weather bureau has been trailing trouble all winter, and still has the faith to prophesy spring.

The Smithsonian institution is to send an expedition to Borneo. If it's a Wild Man they want, they might have looked nearer home.

The uninitiated in China want a few more little republics on the side, and yet one has been known to more than fill the bill for trouble.

Haven't heard the title of the hymn Governor Harmon raised in meeting, but presume the chorus was "Bound for the Promised Land."

Now for a red-hot controversy over the discovery of the South Pole; but if it comes, we shall expect Doc Cook to calm it by the "Glory enough for two" method.

SOUND ADVICE FROM PLEAS STOVALL.

The democratic state executive committee meets today in adjourned session to discuss the presidential primary it promised the people of Georgia at its session of last December. Following is an extract from a recent editorial in The Savannah Press, edited by Pleasant A. Stovall, a member of the committee from the state-at-large, and one of the clearest-visioned and most incorruptible men who has ever served the party in Georgia in an official capacity:

The presidential primary is a new thing in Georgia. It is arranged, however, according to a progressive principle that all the people be given a chance to express their choice for the presidency, even to elect the delegates. Heretofore state conventions have been held and delegates have been chosen, not specially according to the will of the people, but through the whims or favors of the men who found time to go to Atlanta and fix up the delegations. This time all the people will have a chance to register their choice. This year there seems to be a great deal of interest in it; never have we heard so much discussion among the people. This is not only true in Georgia, but elsewhere in the country.

The committee could discharge its duty and partially redeem its reputation no more surely than by making this advice of Mr. Stovall to play fair with the people the keynote of its action. We sincerely hope that his expression is an ex-cathedra reflection of the opinions and intentions of the majority of his fellow members. Of this we are not sure, but for Pleas Stovall we can vouch. From first to last he has been faithful to principle and to candor in his dealings with the people, and in his connection with the committee. He was one of the few—the very few—members to take issue with the despotic and arbitrary course of the committee with regard to a primary for the four-year senatorial term. Upon this question, he sided squarely with the contention that the senator should be named by the people, and not trafficked and jack-potted by the legislator.

Where it comes to defining and practicing the political square deal, his counsel is clear and equitable. It is certain that whatever other members may do, he will stand out not only for a redemption of the committee's pledge of a presidential primary, but also for one affording the fullest and most untrammelled expression of the popular choice. The fact that he happens already to have committed himself to a democratic aspirant—Governor Wilson—rather than invalidating his advice, gives it greater pertinence and disinterestedness.

If the committee will follow the lead of a publicist whose name is a synonym for integrity and purity in Georgia, it will progress perceptibly toward rehabilitating its reputation for machine-politics. No paper will be quicker than The Constitution to give it all credit, if it fulfills its promise and extends to the people of Georgia the right to say who they want for president and who will represent the state at the nominating convention.

PARTY SALVATION, NOT "CONSPIRACY."

A valuable contribution to the literature of the national democratic presidential situation is supplied by our Washington correspondent in a dispatch, published in another column, in which he describes the manner in which prominent democrats at the capital view the charge of the Georgia political managers of Governor Woodrow Wilson that there is a "conspiracy" on foot among the other aspirants to defeat his nomination.

The interesting feature, according to our correspondent, is that what Mr. Wilson's Georgia friends hail excitedly as a "conspiracy," is a bona fide and impersonal effort to strengthen the party in the presidential contest by eliminating the candidate many of the party leaders regard as surest to lead the party to defeat, and settling on the man who can best develop the democracy's greatest national strength.

If, as our correspondent asserts, the followers of Messrs. Clark and Underwood or Harmon, are convinced that the nomination of Governor Wilson would "foredoom" the party to defeat, they are really engaged in commendable party service in seeking to nominate someone else. The success of the democracy rises paramount to the personal ambitions of any one man—whether Wilson, Underwood, Clark or Harmon. If the associates of the titular leaders in the house—the men who will be compelled to accept responsibility for the record upon which the party goes next fall to the country—have become fixed in the belief that all their achievement for the party is menaced by the candidacy of one man, their duty is absolutely clear.

Our correspondent speaks, apparently, with sufficient authority to attach weight to his diagnosis of the situation. However that may be, with prejudice against no candidacy and addressing itself solely and impersonally to the welfare of the party, The Constitution publishes these views as shedding sidelight on many important matters at a critical moment in the democracy's history.

Washington democrats, it seems, are not so "amazed" as are the Georgia Wilson political managers, to account for the fact that both Messrs. Harmon and Clark have left Oscar Underwood a free field in Georgia, not even opening headquarters in this state. As The Constitution suggested editorially several days ago, as sister states the relations between Georgia and Alabama are more intimate than between Georgia and any other southern state.

In Alabama the partisans, not only of Messrs. Harmon and Clark, but those also specifically of Governor Wilson withdrew out of courtesy to Oscar Underwood. The same conditions that led in Alabama to this course are virtually duplicated in Georgia. If the exponents of Governor Wilson found it graceful to withdraw in Alabama, would it not be equally graceful to withdraw in Georgia, the sister state to Alabama, related to this state by ties of sentiment, blood and propinquity?

This, however, is an issue to be settled by the individual political conscience. The manner in which our correspondent explodes the "conspiracy" charge is of more vital import.

AN IDEAL SELECTION.

An announcement of moment to journalism and public affairs in America is the designation of Talcott Williams, LL.D., editor of The Philadelphia Press, as the director of the school of journalism, shortly to be opened at Columbia university as a result of the beneficence of the late Joseph Pulitzer. Dr. Williams will direct the school's policy, and upon him will devolve the important task of framing the standards and procedure of the school.

Dr. Williams is a graduate of Amherst. At every point his equipment is of that breadth and catholicity which only long knowledge of men, of life and of affairs can develop. His professional career was begun, by a curious coincidence, upon The New York World, Pulitzer's paper. Later, he served The New York Sun and The San Francisco Chronicle as Washington correspondent, ripening his political experience at the national capital, and later serving for two years as editorial writer on The Springfield Republican, one of the sanest and most symmetrical papers in the country. About 1883 he became identified with The Philadelphia Press, and has remained with that paper ever since.

It will thus be seen that he is ideally prepared to supervise the founding of a school at which vigorous young Americans shall learn the first principles of what has come to be a vocation of first importance to the country. Not only is his fitness exemplified on the professional side. From the standpoints of personality, temperament and character, Talcott Williams is one of the greatest Americans today serving his country in the vital role of publicist. Of exact poise, of broad information, of tolerant slant, straightforward, with exceptional ethics and ideals, he comprises an individuality of dynamic force and constant lovableness. No search would have yielded a choice more ideal for the pre-eminent distinction to which he is called.

"Just From Georgia"

The South's Turn—at Last.

"This South Pole business takes the last frosted persimmon," said the Town Pessimist, "though it'll be a long time until we hear the last of it. (Purchase your tickets early, and wait till the lecturers come along.) Everything has been discovered—except Roosevelt's real reason for running, and outside of a few new inventions we can go on smoothly enough for a good little while. The South hasn't been getting her natural rights of late, and this South Pole business comes handy, though she won't be half-satisfied until she's seen a favorite son carving veal at the white house table. And she's beginning to see light in that direction—thanks to Providence, and her fine progressive spirit!

"Colonel Jenkins is just back from Washington, and he says that White House looked mighty good to him, and when a man in a uniform ordered him to get off the grass he said, 'T' 'ell with you! It's our time to walk on it!'

"And there's the root o' the matter, and they don't want to forget it."

The Lighning's Time.

Seems like it's time for diggin' bait—
To seek the streams and rills.
But rattlesnakes are mighty late
Around the moonshine stills.
And it's high time old man Thunder
Was shakin' up the hills.

Colonel, we'll wander through the woods,
Though still they're rainy-wet,
And so we're for the "dewy goods"
A whistling-call may get;
A shiny dollar on a stump
Will turn the trick, you bet!

The Popular Campaign Dinner.

"The candidates in this section have cut out the big political dinners," says the Whitsett Courier. "That is, they're not giving so many as formerly, for when they asked the usual question, 'What are we here for?' the voters made it too apparent that they were there to eat, and after every feed they immediately fell on sleep, and objected to speakers talking them awake. But canned hot air is no more popular here than it is in congress, though it's a blamed sight cheaper than killing off the cattle for campaign barbecues, 'specially since the meat trust is hitting us as hard as ever."

"Come One—Come All."

Gentleman in congress
By votes and Providence,
Come to see us in the spring:
It's time to fix your fence.
You may be tired of the row:
We're short of fieldhands anyhow.

Don't think to get a resting spell,
In spite of all you see;
To join a game of checkers
'Neath the old mulberry tree.
We want to make the voters smile
By working congressmen a while!

The Passing Throng

By E. C. Bruffey.

Billy Zimmer, of the Kimball, will ass tonight roasting and toasting and asting a carcass of beef, a half dozen hoats, as many sheep and hundreds of irds and chickens to be served tomorow at a barbecue he gives to Ward & Vokes, musical comedy at the Lyric this week; Edward R. West, of New York, Chicago and St. Louis, an old friend of Mr. Zimmer, and the Atlanta newspaper boys in a body.

Edward West, now representing C.). Gregg, with coffee, tea and spice ouse in the east and middle west, and ne of the largest importers of that ine in the country, was once in the how world himself, having done the ublicity work for some of the leading ircuses in the country and for house hows. He tours the south three or our times a year, and a week ago in New Orleans he ran upon the Ward & Vokes people, with whom he has ong been closely acquainted. When he comedy company came out of New rleans, Mr. West, who is accompanied y Mrs. West and Miss West, made the lops en route to Atlanta with his old riends. Here he met his old friend, Billy Zimmer, and here he will remain the week out. Ward & Vokes happen to be old-time friends of Billy Zimmer, too, and yesterday when the Kimball lessee found his friends of days gone by, he decided to have them meet Atlanta's newspaper boys, hence the barbecue tomorrow at Kimballville farm.

"Probably you may not know it, but Billy Zimmer was on the stage once," said Mr. West last night. "It's a fact, and Billy made good, too. I was then in the show work myself—ahead of a big circus. It so happened that Mr. Gregg, with whom I am now associated, was on the stage, too, and he and Billy Zim made a team. It was a variety act, now called vaudeville, and it was a scream, I want you to know. It was called 'The Bell Hop' and Zim and Mr. Gregg did the hopping. They both wore black faces and both proved themselves at home. I actually quit a circus job with big pay to take the press work for that pair. And incidentally I have been with Mr. Gregg ever since."

J. H. Marlough, of Baltimore, one of the best known traveling men on the road, is a guest at the Aragon. Mr. Marlough has been visiting Atlanta every three or four months for the past twenty-five years and has many friends in the city.

"It would astonish you folks down this way to know the real political strength Oscar Underwood has in the middle west," said Henry J. Percival, a guest at the Piedmont, yesterday, who has been in the city since Saturday night.

Mr. Percival travels for a law-book publishing house located in Cleveland, Ohio, and stops in only the larger cities. He comes in contact with the best-posted men—men of influence and thought—in every city he visits.

"I have been out on this trip for nearly three months," he went on, "and during that time have covered Colorado, Kansas, Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Tennessee and several cities in Georgia. In Denver and Pueblo, I found the feeling for Mr. Underwood strong. He was unquestionably the pick of a great majority of the leading men with whom I talked in those cities, as well as in Leadville and other places. Topeka, Leavenworth, Larned, Wachita, Emporia and Lawrence and other Kansas towns I found the same way. In Missouri cities, I discovered a strong Underwood support in event Champ Clark, her favorite son, doesn't win out. Even with that, there are many Underwood men in Kansas City, Sedalia and other places, from the shoulder straight. Indianapolis, Evansville and Terre Haute are the only Indiana towns I visited, and in those places Underwood was first choice. True, I found lots and lots of Wilson men, and they were as enthusiastic for their choice as were the Underwood supporters. Yes, I found Harmon men, too, and Ohio's offering will show strength when the convention in Baltimore gets to balloting. Everywhere I heard Underwood supported there was practically no mention of the fact that he comes from the south. The truth is, that feature of the Alabamian's candidacy was rarely mentioned unless it was suggested. I found more of that kind of talk in Tennessee than anywhere I went. Now, I'm not a democrat. I've never voted that way, and I am for Taft, and believe he will win out at Chicago."

J. M. Landers, of Dallas, Texas, is among the guests at the Aragon. Mr. Landers is one of the largest real estate dealers in Dallas and is now en route home after a short visit to relatives at Spartanburg, S. C., his old home.

Major Josiah J. West, of Raleigh, N. C., is in the city on legal business. Majoh West is at the Georgian Terrace. He is one of the leading attorneys of the capital of the Tar Heel state and is here looking into the titles to some property in which his client is interested.

Samuel A. Boles, of Meridian, Miss., is registered at the Kimball. Mr. Boles is one of the largest cotton planters in his section of his state.

Colonel Jack Shipp, of Cordele, editor and publisher of The Rambler, was registered at the Kimball yesterday and was given a warm greeting by the many friends with whom he came in contact.

Larimore R. Horner, the ne wnight clerk at the Kimball, assumed the duties of his position last night and during the evening was congratulated by many old friends on the road. Mr. Horner comes to the Kimball direct from the Reed House in Chattanooga, where he was located for several years. He is widely known by traveling men who cover southern territory.

AIKIN MAKES APOLOGY FOR LANGUAGE IN HOUSE

Washington, March 11.—Representative Aikin, of New York, independent, today apologized to the house for the language employed by him in a speech appearing in the Congressional Record of March 7, in which he assailed President Taft, Senator Root and former Representative Littauer. He also requested permission to withdraw the questionable matter, which was granted.

Mr. Aikin's action made needless the naming of an investigating committee and the resolution adopted by the house Saturday was vacated.

Wife and Husband Burned.

Erie, Pa., March 11.—Mrs. John McCumber, aged 85, was burned to death today, and her husband, aged 92, was fatally burned in attempting to rescue her, at their farm house near Cranesville. Mrs. McCumber was ill in bed McCumber was preparing breakfast when the fire was discovered. Before neighbors could help, McCumber had been overcome by smoke and the roof had fallen in on the old couple. McCumber was dragged from the ruins, but his wife was incinerated in her bed.

GOV. HOOPER'S 9-YEAR-OLD DAUGHTER MAKES SPEECH FOR EQUAL SUFFRAGE

Nashville, Tenn., March 11.—Little Miss Anna B. Hooper, 9-year-old daughter of Governor Hooper, has the distinction of delivering the first equal suffrage speech ever made in the Tennessee statehouse. It was all of her own planning.

Appearing at the capitol, she solicited the aid of her father's stenographer in copying the speech, after which, collecting her especial friends among officials, clerks, stenographers, she led the way to the hall of the house, where, mounting the rostrum, the young suffragette said:

"My fellow citizens, I suppose you know the reason I am here. I come pleading for you men to let the women vote. Do you believe in the way Mrs. Pankhurst is trying to get votes? No, I do not. I do not believe in smashing windows, but I do think you ought to let us vote. Why shouldn't we help to make laws of our country? The ignorant men are allowed to vote, but the educated women are denied this privilege. This is not right, and every sensible man knows it."

HE WOULD BAR CHEERS FROM CONGRESS RECORD

Washington, March 11.—The congressional palm will be spared, and the back districts will no longer read how loudly and tumultuously their congressmen were applauded and cheered, if the resolution of Representative H. Garland Dupree, of Louisiana, is passed by the house.

Mr. Dupre proposes that no insertions of applause or other manifestations of approval shall appear in The Congressional Record. His resolution was referred to the committee on printing.

Applause in the house and applause in The Record are two different emotions. Mr. Dupre, finding it difficult to differentiate between bona fide applause and manufactured applause, says he believes in getting on the safe side and cutting out all applause.

It was formerly the practice of members to insert "applause," "enthusiastic applause," "loud and prolonged applause," "applause interrupted by cheering" and "tumultuous laughter and applause," whether they thought such outbursts would have taken place as they delievered their remarks. This was frowned upon by the house, but another method was discovered which served the purpose. A member who was ready to deliver a speech for home consumption brought his applause into the house with him. A colleague seated a few seats away clapped his hands at regular intervals, and the faithful official reporters of debates insert "applause" in their notes.

WILT AND BLACK ROOT IN THE COTTON BELT

Washington, March 11.—Attention was directed by the department of agriculture in a special circular today to the spread of cotton wilt and black root or knot root in cotton which has occurred in scattered localities from North Carolina to Texas, and are estimated to cause an annual loss exceeding $10,000,000.

"There are thousands of acres of land already so infested that ordinary varieties of cotton cannot be grown, and the area enlarges each year," says the report.

In addition to the loss of crops, this land has depreciated in market value; it costs more to cultivate, and the farmer often must use it for crops less profitable than cotton. This situation is unfortunate because it is unnecessary. These diseases may be controlled."

The circular describes in detail means of controlling these two diseases.

NOMINATION OF PITNEY BEING FOUGHT BY REED

Washington, March 11.—The nomination of Manlon W. Pitney, chancellor of the state of New Jersey, to be an associate justice of the supreme court, succeeding the late John M. Harlan, was fought an hour and a half in the executive session of the senate today, and action finally was deferred until tomorrow afternoon.

Senator Reed attacked Chancellor Pitney's decision in the glass bottle blowers' case, in which the chancellor wrote a majority opinion sustaining a restraining order which prohibited strikers from picketing. The debate was warm.

Senator Borah defended Mr. Pitney and analyzed the decision on which the opposition was based. Senator Culberson and others joined in the opposition. Senators Clark of Arkansas, O'Gorman of New York, and Watson of West Virginia, announced that they wanted an opportunity to discuss the case, and the nomination went over.

The regular republicans are solidly for the nomination and express confidence that the chancellor will be confirmed tomorrow, despite the increased opposition from the democrats.

TICK ERADICATION AIDS COTTON INDUSTRY

Washington, March 11.—American steers have increased 57 per cent in value since the beginning of a cattle tick eradication in the infested districts of the south by the department of agriculture in co-operation with the states. This estimate is based upon information furnished by stockmen and farmers in Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi and several other states.

Whereas the annual loss from tick fever in each county ranged from $150 to $50,000 before the eradication began, the losses now are "practically none," or "very small." The average number of cattle lost yearly in each county has dropped from 89 to 80 and the percentage of loss from 15.3 to 1.3. The average price of steers has increased from $16.15 to $25.28. This is not entirely due, it is admitted, to tick eradication work, "the general abundance in the price of cattle in recent years being responsible for some of it."

FOR INSULT TO THE FLAG FELIX ADOLPHE IS HELD

New York, March 11.—Felix Adolfe was held in $1,000 bail today charged with misdemeanor in that he insulted the American flag while addressing a gathering of anarchists in Brooklyn last night.

During his address Adolfe, it is charged, took a small American flag from his pocket, and after he had spat upon and trampled it under foot, set it on fire. He was arrested.

SENT COL. ROOSEVELT 100 FOUR-LEAF CLOVERS

Berwick, Pa., March 11.—Joseph Cleaver, a Roosevelt enthusiast, who lives on a farm near here, has shipped a box of 100 four-leaf clovers to the colonel. This message accompanies the box:

"I send you these four-leaf clovers for the luck that they will impart to your campaign and election. I would have sent you more, but I am now rather busy looking for a wife, as I am a firm believer in all of your policies."

Bootblacks Make Fortune.

Montclair, N. J., March 11.—Joseph and Angelo Picola, two young men who for the past six years have shined shoes at the railroad station here, will this week begin the erection of a $25,000 brick business block on Pine street. The building will be paid for out of savings from their business.

ROOSEVELT EXPEDITION WAS AIDED BY CARNEGIE

Hot Springs, Ark., March 11.—Andrew Carnegie contributed money to help defray the expenses attached to Colonel Roosevelt's African expedition, but the contribution was made after Mr. Carnegie had talked to Colonel Wolcott, of the Smithsonian institute. Colonel Roosevelt has never asked Carnegie to give a cent for any purpose.

This information is contained in a statement made here today by Mr. Carnegie regarding a dispatch yesterday from New York, which stated Carnegie had contributed $20,000 to the expense fund in question. Mr. Carnegie does not say what sum he contributed.

Mr. Carnegie said.

"My attention to the need of funds was called by Colonel Wolcott, of the Smithsonian institute, and I contributed, feeling honored in doing so. Colonel Roosevelt has never—either as president or as a private citizen—requested me to contribute one penny for anything, but, in return for the donation, he presented the Carnegie institute at Pittsburg with some of the trophies of his hunt for which I am his debtor for life.

"If that story has been brought out as an attack on Colonel Roosevelt, in my opinion it will only benefit him."

WORKS HAMMERS TAFT FOR STUMPING TOURS

Washington, March 11.—Senator Works, of California, in a speech advocating a single presidential term of six years today declared that such a constitutional change would spare the American people the "humiliating spectacle of a president traveling up and down the country guarded by an army officer and private detectives, making political speeches and urging his own re-election."

"It was an unfortunate day for this country when one of its distinguished, honorable and well-beloved citizens inaugurated the system as a candidate for president, of receiving delegates at his home and discussing political questions ostensibly for their information, but in fact to be sent broadcast throughout the country. That was the beginning of an evil and wholly inexcusable custom by which the great office of president of the United States will be brought down to level of self-seeking politics and personal appeals for office."

SPENCER BLACKBURN GOES TO HIS LONG HOME

Elizabethton, Tenn., March 11.—E. Spencer Blackburn, formerly congressman from the eighth district of North Carolina, died here last night at 9:15 o'clock. A sudden heart affection, induced by a severe cold and threatened pneumonia, is assigned as the cause of his death.

The remains will be conveyed to Boone, N. C., where interment will take place. Mr. Blackburn's wife and two children are in Washington, his wife being a daughter of Colonel W. M. Parker, of Washington. Mr. Blackburn had been in Elizabethton about one year practicing law. He had been indisposed for several days, but was not too ill to be absent from his office. Sunday afternoon and evening he was in his office conversing with friends, when one observed that he was physically affected. It was suggested that he repair to a nearby residence, which he did, and in a short time he expired, although physicians worked heroically to save his life. He was 43 years old.

CHAMP CLARK POSES FOR PICTURE MACHINE

Washington, March 11.—"The house will be in order," said Speaker Clark today, bringing down his gavel and addressing a dignified gathering of a handful of pages, twice that number of house employees and a group of New England sight-seers who had strolled into the chamber. Then the speaker went through the motions of presiding for the benefit of a battery of moving picture machines. When three films had been made the leader of the picture machine operators thanked the speaker.

"Let me thank you," said Mr. Clark, who was plainly bored, "if for nothing else, at least, for this relief." Then he disappeared into his office.

PROGRESSIVE MEASURES URGED BY GOV. OSBORN

Lansing, Mich., March 11.—Governor Osborn, in seven special messages sent to the legislature tonight, opened the way for legislation at the present extra session as follows:

To prohibit breweries owning saloons.

To curb the Michigan Bonding Company and take from them the monopoly in furnishing surety bonds to saloon keepers.

To provide for the nomination of all state officers by the primary system.

To enact a corrupt practices act.

To submit to the people the question of adopting the initiative, referendum and recall.

To submit to the people an amendment to the constitution establishing woman suffrage.

To authorize state banks to pledge qualified assets for postal savings deposits.

Spanish Cabinet Resigns.

Madrid, March 11.—The Spanish cabinet, which was reorganized in April, 1911, resigned today. This action was due to a conflict of opinion between the minister of public works, Senor Gasset, and other members of the cabinet, resulting in the resignation of Senor Gasset. Premier Canalejas decided that a complete reconstruction of the ministry was necessary. The king assured the premier of his uninterrupted confidence, and gave him a free hand to rearrange his cabinet as he deemed fit.

Perry Victory Centennial.

Frankfort, Ky., March 11.—In the lower house of the Kentucky legislature today a bill was passed appropriating $25,000 for Kentucky's participation in the Perry victory centennial at Put-in-Bay, Ohio. The bill had already passed the senate. Governor McCreary has declared his intention of signing it.

"EVERYWOMAN'S" SIMPLE STORY HOLDS AUDIENCE SPELLBOUND

Entertaining Bill at Forsyth—"Babbling Bess" Great at Lyric.

By Sidney Ormond.

A wonderful play, wonderfully well enacted.

Such was the verdict of last night's audience at the Grand opera house of "Everywoman"—a verdict shared from priest in pit to pallid faced girl of the pave, driven indoors to a seat in the gallery by the cold and rain without. Through the five wonderful acts—each differing widely from the other and ranging from the purely poetical and symbolic to the grossly literal—the audience wa sheld spellbound by the simple story which threads its way through the gorgeous warp and woof of the whole. And this simple story of obvious truths, as old as time itself, brought home a lesson which it were well for every woman to learn; which every woman does learn sooner or later to her joy or her sorrow.

It is seldom, indeed, that a play with a moral has met with the popular enthusiasm that has been accorded "Everywoman." We are prone to fight shy of moralizing productions. We frankly admit that we go to the playhouse to be amused, not instructed. By the same token there are few dramatists who possess the art necessary to building such an absorbing play around so simple a story.

Touch of the Artist.

Walter Browne, the lamented author who died too soon to reap the fruits of his talents, worked with the sure touch of a consummate artist, and in broad, sweeping strokes, produced a strikingly vivid picture. The very idea is a daring one; and those who had read the play, but had not seen it produced, were at a loss to know how it could be acted without proving hopelessly incongruous, so sharply contrasting are the element sof which it is fashioned. It took but a few moments last night to dispel from the minds of the most hypercritical any doubts of the actability of "Everywoman." There was nothing inharmonious. Fashioned with a master hand, the play moved with splendid strides to its logical conclusion without a jarring note.

You must see "Everywoman" if you would know aught of it. The most detailed and vivid description would fall far short of anything like an adequate impression.

The concluding lines of the epilogue spoken by Nobody sound the keynote of the play:

"Be merciful, be just, be fair.
"To every woman, everywhere.
"Her faults are many. Nobody's the blame."

Act one depicts a room in Everywoman's home. A conventional room, it is—the room of every woman. Everywoman, upon rising to the glories of the morn, is attended by Youth and Beauty and Modesty, her companions. She heeds Nobody, but harks to Youth, who points to her mirror, where Flattery, garbed in gorgeous attire, appears. He beckons her on to Love, who awaits somewhere outside. Truth, an aged crone, whom Nobody heeds, cautions her, but she heeds not her words. Everywoman fancies that Flattery has spoken her fairly, and she flaunts Truth.

Here Enters the Stage.

Act second displays the stage of a metropolitan theater. It is here she hopes to find Love and therefore happiness. The scene is wonderful in its likeness to life. There are Bluff and Stuff and Puff, the press agent, all true to type. They discuss Everywoman, their star. Chorus girls flaunt their thinly veiled charms across the the stage. Youth and Beauty and Modesty rebel. Modesty is banished, but Youth and Beauty are forced to remain. For how can a chorus be without Youth and Beauty? Wealth and Witless appear. Time creeps across the stage with faltering steps and hoary locks and ashen cheeks. Passion comes. He is mistaken for Love. Modesty speaks, but her face is hidden.

Act third pictures a banquet board in Everywoman's home. Wealth and Witness and Puff and Bluff and Stuff and Age and Youth and Self and others are there. Beauty staggers in. There is drinking and revelry; carousing and speeches. Conscience stands beside Youth, who reclines on a couch sick unto death. With voice infinitely sweet Conscience sings. But what of conscience? Who heeds her? Wealth woos Everywoman, and Everywoman goes gladly.

So runs the play. Wealth and Greed and Puff and Bluff and Stuff are portrayed as conventional persons that we see every day. Youth and Modesty and Beauty and Truth and Conscience are garbed in classic attire. The contrast is striking.

Broadway on New Year's Eve.

Act four is a vivid picture of Broadway on New Year's Eve, with its mad crowd of shouting, singing revelers. In this act Vice flaunts herself across the stage in the guise of a girl of the streets. Everywoman, cold and forsaken by Wealth, is accompanied by no one save Youth. Youth is finally banished by Time. Wealth repulses Everywoman and turns to Painted Vice. Youth dies. Her body is carried into the church across the street from the home of Wealth, the millionaire. Truth, seeking Charity, once more appears and Everywoman recognizes her. Truth [illegible]ts the way.

Act five finds Lo[illegible] asleep at Everywoman's fireside. He is the son of Truth. He crowns Everywoman with roses and thorns. Modesty enters from the snow and cold without.

There you have a thumbnail sketch of it. But it is hopelessly inept. You really must see "Everywoman."

The play was faultlessly staged and splendidly acted. Not a character but that stood out boldly. Jane Oaker, as Everywoman; Frederick Warde, as Nobody; Martha Spears, as Conscience; Marie Wainwright, as Truth; Nestor Lennon, as Wealth; Olin Rowland, as Witless; Lydia Crane, as Vice, were exceptionally fine. The incidental music was exquisite.

There will be performances tonight, Wednesday night and matinee, and Thursday night.

Keith Vaudeville.

(At the Forsyth.)

Billed as vaudeville's most elaborate musical offering, and featuring the bill at the Forsyth this week, "The Courtiers" more than makes good every promise of the publicity agents.

The strength of the production and the merit of each member of the cast is proved by the behavior of the audience. The last act on the program, without a rag-time air to catch the audience, "The Courtiers" held the strictest attention of all in front for over thirty minutes at the matinee on Monday by the tuneful beauty of singing and playing. True there were a few in the house who toward the close could not resist the habit, which has gripped them for years, of getting up in order to beat everybody else to the door, but once near the exits they paused, and standing behind the last row of seats waited for the end.

Much interest was manifested in the vaudeville debut of Miss Frances Nordstrom, the old Giffen Stock Company favorite who appears in "Via the Gas Route," of which she is the author.

There was a gasp when Miss Nordstrom started a disrobing act, in changing from street dress to kimono, but all the switch in garments offered to the audience was a glimpse of a most shapely pair of shoulders. Certainly the change does not add to her comfort, even if the deshabille did enhance her attractiveness. Miss Nordstrom is better in romantic than in comedy roles, but the lines help her and her partner to enough laughs to predict long life for her playlet.

Dorothy Rogers and company "get over" in a skit that leaves you wondering "why." The answer to the question given by most folks Monday was the good work of the negro character, and the multiplicity of babies, making a big finale.

Harry Breen, the monologist, would never be popular with the ladies, if it is true they want to do all the talking. He is the gabbiest lad who ever strolled on the Forsyth stage, and one of the craziest. He is a fit rival for Bert Fitzgibbons or Fred Duprez, although his line is somewhat different. He sings on a stretch for fourteen minutes, about everything under the sun, and keeps the orchestra bewildered in the effort to follow him. Then he winds up by singing about people in the audience, in a manner which, though never offensive, affords great amusement to the friends of the victims.

Work and Ower, two comedy acrobats, are great, and the Cycling Brunettes a good opener.

Bert Howard and Effie Laurence, who are now on their second Atlanta visit, add to the good impression already made. Howard is a skilled piano ragger, and Laurence is clever in her comedy work.

Ward and Vokes.

(At the Lyric.)

If there's another "Babbling Bess" in the whole wide world who can fill the bill as Lucy Daly, of Ward and Vokes, does, she'll have to come to Atlanta to prove it to Monday night's audience, and it's easy money they would turn out to see her if she could come anywhere near touching their favorite. She had them all, men, women and children, after her first appearance, and every time she came back, counting encores, she tied them up a little tighter. It's the same Lucy Daly as of yore, only more so, if that were possible, who sang, and danced, and laughed, and cried her way into the hearts of every theatergoer of the audience that filled the Lyric theater on the opening night.

Ward and Vokes themselves were to the fore, and kept the crowd in one continuous roar, either in their proper persons, or as those perfect ladies and sophisticated suffragettes, Mrs. Lucretia Stout and Mrs. Aromatique Spirits of Ammonia Plump. When it comes to raising a laugh, they're in a class all to themselves. For an evening of pure entertainment, their vehicle, "The Trouble Makers," is safely recommended.

The supporting company is exceptionally strong, and—mark it well in these degenerate days—the chorus has beauty in it, six sure enough beauties, who wear stunning clothes, assume picturesque attitudes and look lovely from the first to last.

Charles "Sandy" Chapman, as Barnaby Meek, provides added comedy to that of the principals, and possesses the best voice of the company, which he uses to advantage in solo numbers. Adella Parker and Susie Kirwin, as the militant wives of the community, made good all the way. There are a number of artistic lighting effects. The costuming, however, is far above the scenery.

If you're tired out and mad with the world, go to see Ward and Vokes; if you're feeling good—why, go and see them, anyway. But one thing bear in mind: If you come late, with your seats in the orchestra, watch out for Lucy Dale, if she's on the stage. It's a hundred to one shot you'll get more public notice before subsiding into your seat than ever fell to your lot before. Even then, she may tell the spot-light man to search you out.

Frank McIntyre.

(At the Atlanta.)

Frank McIntyre in "Snobs," the satrical farce by George Bronson-Howard, which was acknowledged to be the first real comedy hit of the present season in New York, will appear at the Atlanta next Thursday for three evenings and a Saturday matinee. Mr. McIntyre, who is now in his first season as a star, will be remembered as the original of James Forbes' famous comedy, "The Traveling Salesman," and as the fat drummer in this play he convulsed audiences in all parts of the country for years. His role in "Snobs" is entirely different, for it reveals him as a milkman, who is discovered to be the greatest noble in England, with an enormous fortune and five or six marble castles. His descent upon society furnishes the fun of the play and the sight of a fat milkman drinking tea and exchanging bon mots with society debutantes can be readily imagined as something rich. Henry B. Harris, Mr. McIntyre's manager, has mounted "Snobs" with his usual care and has in addition surrounded his newest star with a splendid support, which includes Myrtle Tannehill, Eva McDonald, Kathrine Stewart, Marie Fitzgerald, Orlando Daly, John Cumberland, Roy Fairchild and Frank Brownlee. Seats now selling.

MEXICANS RALLY TO GOVERNMENT

The Better Classes Resolved to Crush the Rebellion.

Decided Feeling of Optimism Prevails—Madero Is Massing Troops and Hopes to Deal Rebels Crushing Blow as They Advance South.

Mexico City, March 11.—A decided feeling of optimism pervaded the capital today, affecting foreigners and Mexicans alike. The big popular demonstration of loyalty to the government yesterday has had the effect of stiffening the backs of government officials and private citizens. Today this fact was manifested in casual conversations, public interviews and by a material increase of the number of enlistments for army service. Business men generally profess to see a great improvement in the outlook.

Confidence in Madero.

Everywhere the opinion was expressed that the life or death of the revolution depends on the developments of the next few days in the vicinity of Torreon, and a sentiment of renewed confidence in the ability of the federals to deliver a crushing blow to Orozco was manifested. Government officials, encouraged by the altered sentiment, declare that in addition to the 2,500 men already in Torreon, as many more can be equipped and sent there if necessary.

The panicky feeling of last week among foreigners has worn itself out, and those who remain appear to consider remote the chances of harm befalling the people in the capital. This is further evidenced by the falling off in demands for railroad accommodations.

Suppressing Newspapers.

The vigorous policy adopted by the war department was reflected in the interior department. Apparently a quietus is to be put upon irresponsible publishers who have been from time to time flooding the city with anti-government literature. With the exception of this class of publications, there has been a noticeable change in the tone of the comment by the newspapers upon President Madero and his ministers. Two plants of "fly-by-night" publications were closed tonight.

Reorts from the vicinity of Torreon state that volunteers recently rejected in neighboring towns are receiving arms and being entrained for Torreon, where General Gonzales Salaz is mobilizing his forces.

NO CALL MADE FOR MARINES TO GUARD AMERICAN LEGATIONS

Washington, March 11.—It was stated positively at the state and navy departments today that no call had come from Ambassador Wilson for American marines to guard the legation in the City of Mexico, nor is any such call anticipated.

Theoretically, there would be no obstacle to the dispatch of mairnes to form a legation guard in the City of Mexico, provided a state of absolute anarchy prevailed that threatened the lives of Americans domiciled there.

Many large shipments of arms continue to cross the Mexican border from the United States, according to dispatches to the war department from officers along the line. While it is not doubted that these arms are for the use of the rebels, going through the custom house at Juarez as they do, the army officials cannot seize them because they are going in the "regular channels of commerce."

THIRTEEN AUTOS WORTH WORKING FOR

You Can Win One of the 40 Prizes if You Work Part of the Time Each Day.

It is an axiom of the twentieth century that one must rise very early in the morning in order to secure and retain a place near the head of any procession. We believe that early in the campaign is a good time to get in the running for the valuable prizes. If you have not already sent in your name, or the name of some woman friend, to the Campaign Manager, do so at once, as the number of votes to their credit will be published for the first time in a few days; of course, this announcement of the standings of the candidates will merely indicate who the leaders are up to that date. The campaign does not end until May 11, and there is little doubt that at different times the honor of leadership will be held by a number of candidates.

The Constitution by giving away $20,000 in valuable prizes furnishes an opportunity for the people to select by their votes the women who shall have the honor of being awarded these prizes. You and your friends can win. There is everything to win and nothing to lose. The variety in the list of prizes will no doubt appeal to a great many readers. Of course, the thirteen automobiles and the nine Phillips & Crew Company pianos are coveted by everyone, and so are the grafonolas and gold watches, but the automobiles have taken the popular fancy. What woman is there, or man either, for that matter, who does not long for an opportunity to own and operate a powerful automobile? As a rule, the purchase price of automobiles, such as The Constitution is awarding, are so expensive as to be beyond the average pocketbook, and still almost everyone is willing to make some sort of a sacrifice in order to own one.

The Constitution has provided the automobiles and twenty-seven other prizes, so it is up to you to do the rest.

If your candidate has not been nominated use the nomination blank printed in this issue, and send it to the Campaign Manager of The Constitution. Nominations can be made by anyone, at it does not cost a cent. The nomination blank is good for 5,000 votes, but only one of these blanks may be used for the same candidate.

Every candidate will be supplied with all the necessary blanks and information that will prepare her to make a winning campaign.

Votes are issued on all old or new subscription payments as per the schedule that appears in this paper.

The ballot issued on subscription payments may be held back as reserve, or voted at once, just as the candidate desires.

Now is the accepted time. It means systematic efforts. Suppose you enter heart and soul with us now in the same frank and honest spirit that we have shown you. Write to us or telephone us. Send in your nomination, or the nomination of some friend. You know some deserving woman who would appreciate becoming the owner of one of the magnificent prizes. Let us help that deserving woman. There are thousands and thousands of big-hearted people who are willing to help a deserving candidate, who is striving for, and is desirous of winning a prize such as The Constitution is giving away. Now is the time to act.

Campaign Department.

The Constitution has established a Campaign Department, whose duty is to see that all candidates are thoroughly posted on all rules, regulations and the best mode of securing the most votes. This department is located on the second floor of The Constitution building, at 20 West Alabama street. If you are unable to call for information, write or telephone that you are interested, and we will have a representative call and supply you with full information. The Campaign Manager's telephone numbers are: Bell, Main 2949, and Atlanta telephone 1862. Do not hesitate to take advantage of this department's assistance; the office will be open from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m.

DEMONSTRATION AGENTS CONVENE IN ATLANTA

A meeting of the United States farm demonstration agents was held yesterday afternoon in the chamber of commerce quarters. A large crowd was in attendance, and the meeting was presided over by District Agent S. M. Corn, in place of State Agent E. Gentry, who was absent. The first session was given over to reports from county agents, and the night session was occupied by the Boys' Corn Club workers. R. F. Duckworth talked interestingly on the results of co-operation, and M. L. Jackson, of Bartow county, delivered an address on the benefit of the work being done by the agents.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE PLANS CLEANING UP

To make plans for a thorough canvass of the city for a cleaning-up crusade, and to enlist the co-operation of public-spirited citizens in the work, a meeting will be held tonight at 8 o'clock in the chamber of commerce quarters. A large attendance is expected. Plans for a campaign to eliminate the fly through literature, moving pictures and lectures also will be discussed. The aid of the Federation of Women's Clubs will be asked by the chamber of commerce to assist in the movement.

Oatmeal Crisps

(By Mrs. Mary J. Lincoln, Author Boston Cook Book)

Melt one rounded tablespoon Cottolene and one-half cup sugar in one-half cup hot milk, add one-half level teaspoon salt, one teaspoon lemon juice, one cup rolled oats (uncooked) and enough graham flour to make a soft dough. Drop from a teaspoon some distance apart, on a greased pan, shape with a wet knife and bake in moderate oven. Or, add more flour and roll thin, cutting as desired.

It is interesting to note the use by Mrs. Lincoln of Cottolene—the perfect shortening. Hundreds of cooking experts are now using this cooking fat exclusively.

'CART TAIL' FIGHT BY ROOSEVELT

The Colonel Will Soon Get Into Thick of Campaign.

After Presenting His Views on "Big Business" He Will Probably Begin a Speaking Campaign—He Is Wanted in All Sections of the Country.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., March 11.—As the next step in the campaign for the republican presidential nomination Colonel Roosevelt will present his views on the regulation of "big business." He said today he would take this action soon, although it has not been decided whether his statement will appear in the form of a letter or a magazine article.

Colonel Roosevelt has made an analysis of the present economic position of the country with the idea of applying to it his opinions as to control of large corporations.

The hardships of an old-fashioned campaign with mass meetings, parades and brass bands are already confronting Colonel Roosevelt, but while he has decided it will be necessary for him to make some speeches, he said today he would make as few trips as possible. He hoped to be able to establish a "cart tail" campaign, he said, but urgent requests for speeches have been received from so many sections that he is in doubt what to do.

No definite plans will be made until he has completed his service as a juror, the length of which is problematical. The colonel said he had only two fixed engagements to speak, at the neighboring town of Huntington at a St. Patrick's day dinner and on the battlefield at Gettysburg to the convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers on Memorial day.

Colonel Roosevelt made his fifth trip to the courthouse at Mineola today and again found that his services as a juror would not be required. When he found that he was free for the day he motored on to New York and spent the day at his editorial office. His visitors included Alexander Moore, publisher of The Pittsburg Leader, and Frederick W. Whitridge, president of the Third Avenue Railway Company of New York.

CRITICS OF PRESIDENT TAFT ARE GIVEN RAPS BY NAGEL

Indianapolis, Ind., March 11.—In a speech lauding President Taft's administration as a complete fulfillment of all the republican platform pledges of 1908, and a strict continuation of the policies inaugurated by President Roosevelt, Secretary Nagel, of the department of commerce and labor, tonight made a vigorous attack upon the advocates of such governmental change as the initiative, referendum and recall.

Secretary Nagel declared that public men were attempting to confuse the public mind; that they were "busy making promises to which they cannot be successfully held;" that the recall of judges would "make trimmers of men" and "deter men of independence and capacity from accepting positions of trust."

The efforts of President Taft to carry out the pledges of the party, he said, had brought no aid from his republican critics.

"For the last three years," said Secretary Nagel, "during a period of unfailing struggle to realize and bring into action every pledge that was made in the name of the republican party, there has been uttered scarcely a word of approval by them of those things accomplished. Scarcely a hand was raised to help lift the burden which the party, by their consent and approval, had assumed.

"Instead, they have filled the air wits nostrums, the acceptance of which they pronounce to be the sole test of the progressive spirit. Instead of aiding to fulfill what has been solemnly promised in the name of the people, it is proclaimed that the infitiative, the referendum and the recall of officials, including judges, and of judicial decisions, shall from now on be the test of progressive republicanism."

Further remedies were necessary, said Secretary Nagel, to make corporation control effective; but President Taft's critics were giving him no aid in getting such remedies, he said.

To President Roosevelt, said Secretary Nagel, belonged the credit for arousing the people to the full value of the laws to protect them against monopolies and combinations. Colonel Roosevelt first brought the interstate commerce laws into full effect, he said, and President Taft had devoted himself to carrying out the pledges and policies inaugurated by Mr. Roosevelt, and indorsed in the national platform of 1908.

REPUBLICANS OF VIRGINIA INSTRUCT FOR TAFT TODAY

Roanoke, Va., March 11.—Tonight the majority of the delegates to the Virginia state republican convention, which opens here tomorrow at noon, have arrived.

Every indication points to an instructed delegation being sent from Virginia to the Chicago convention pledged to President Taft for the nomination. There are many Roosevelt men here, but, according to their views of the situation, their leaders have not been sent here as delegates, and they are powerless.

As far as is known, but one contest will come before the credentials committee, that being the seating of the third district delegation, there being two delegations here clamoring for recognition. One of these is backed by Commissioner of Revenues Cabell and Postmaster Allen, of Richmond, and the other by Joseph Brady and George Hanson, of Richmond. The former delegation comes instructed for Taft, while the latter is uninstructed, but favorable to Taft.

Maine Cities Democratic.

Portland, Maine, March 11.—Democrats elected four mayors to one for the republicans in five city elections in Maine today. In each instance the incumbent was re-elected.

NEPHEW OF COL. ROOSEVELT IS CANDIDATE FOR DELEGATE

Albany, N. Y., March 11.—An independent certificate nominating Assemblyman Theodore Douglas Robinson, nephew of Theodore Roosevelt, as a delegate to the republican national convention from the thirty-third congressional district, was filed with the secretary of state today.

Mr. Robinson heads a ticket which, if elected, will support Colonel Theodore. The thirty-third district is the home of Vice President Sherman and republicans have placed a competing ticket in the field.

CITY NEWS

Grand Jury Organized.—The United States district court opened the March term yesterday morning with a full docket. A new grand jury was organized with the appointment by Judge Newman of J. K. Ottley as foreman. After a charge by the judge, the body retired to consider papers laid before it by Assistant District Attorney Edgar A. Angier. The majority of the cases were for violations of the internal revenue laws, and something like a dozen indictments for offenses were returned.

Discuss Church Extension.—The March meeting of the Atlanta Union of Epworth Leagues will be held at St. Paul's Methodist church, corner Grant and St. Paul streets, this evening, at 8 o'clock. Some of the most important business plans of the year will be discussed, including the question of church extension in our city. Besides the interesting business matters to be transacted, the union is promised a delightful evening socially by the St. Paul League. Everybody welcome.

Special Session of Court.

Sandersville, Ga., March 11.—(Special.)—Washington superior court for the March term has adjourned after being in session all the week. On account of the very heavy calendar an adjourned term of court will probably be held some time in April. The majority of the civil cases were disposed of, but only a few of the 200 or more criminal cases were taken up.

To Name U. C. V. Veterans.

Jackson, Ga., March 11.—(Special.)—For the purpose of naming delegates to the reunion in Macon in May the Butts county camp of Confederate Veterans has been called to meet in the courthouse Tuesday. An effort will be made to carry every old vet in Butts county to the Macon reunion.

Hotels Will Open Early.

Jackson, Ga., March 9.—(Special.)—The hotels at Indian Springs are making preparations to open several weeks earlier this season on account of the confederate reunion at Macon in May. As the distance from Macon is only 43 miles, it is believed that a large number of the vectrans would like to avail themselves of the opportunity to visit the south's greatest health resort.

Saturday Night Club Meets.

The Saturday Night Club held its regular session in the Carnegie library Saturday evening, and with a nucleus of interest strove to bring to bear upon the daily business of Atlanta the great economic solution of the "land question" proposed by Henry George in his "Progress and Poverty," and partly unfolded in the world's most searching work on political economy —Adam Smith's "Wealth of Nations." Reduced to its essentials, the general discussion resolved itself into the unanswered question of our day in America—partly answered by Lloyd-George in England—why should the landlord of some inherited property be allowed to keep it but a vacant lot, because he cannot obtain some figure for it that he himself has done nothing to merit? Why should the tenant, who alone by his improvements through tireless effort gives over increasing value to land, be always at the mercy of the landlord, and what right has the latter to subject him to the narrow margin of return that present conditions permit?

F. E. Meyers, editorial writer for the Southern Engineer, gave an earnest talk upon Atlanta's need of practical industrial education, forcibly illustrating wherein our public school system failed to aid the youth's innate gifts with which he had been endowed, and failed to remedy his wandering, upon leaving school, from one field to another in an effort to find that for which he was most fitted.

President M. H. Wilensky read and commented upon the conclusions of Adam Smith in his treatise on the "rent of land," declaring that the present increase in manufacturing in America would focus more and more attention upon the unjustified unearned increment of the landlord in land values, and as people become more enlighened, and more engaged in production, they would demand that this tax of the landlord be removed, and the surplus return or "rent" of the land go to the government for the lowering of other taxes, and national improvements.

Music for the evening was furnished by Miss Josephine Rainwater, who, by request, sand the same songs which pleased many at the recent anniversary celebration of the Atlanta Federation of Trades.

Announcement was made that Saturday, March 16, open forum would be held upon the question, "Resolved, That Atlanta should own its electric lighting plant and street railways." President Arkwirght, of the Georgia Railway and Electric Light Company, has been invited to present to the public the negative of this question, and Alderman James E. McClelland, the affirmative.

Mrs. King's Tea.

A delightful expression of hospitality was the afternoon tea given yesterday by Mrs. Porter King in compliment to Mrs. Ira Remsen, of Balitmore, and to Mrs. Charles Remsen, a recent and lovely addition to the social life in Atlanta.

The reception rooms were fragrant with pink roses which filled vases and bowls against a background of the house palms and ferns, and in the dining room white and green made the pretty combination of color decoating a handsomely appointed tea table. The centerpiece was a basket of Easter lilies, the silver candlesticks burned white candles unshaded, and silver dishes held dainty confections in white and green. Miss Carolyn King, pouring tea, was becomingly gowned in blue charmeuse veiled with chiffon embroidered in the orchid colors.

Mrs. King wore gray charmeuse trimmed with lace and silver.

Mrs. Schoen's Tea.

Mrs. Allen Schoen entertained at an informal tea yesterday afternoon at her home on Ponce de Leon avenue, inviting a few friends to meet her guest, Miss Rosa Gibbs, of Savannah, and Miss Sue Richardson, of Columbia, S. C., who is the guest of Mrs. Macon Martin.

Jonquils decorated the apartments, and the centerpiece of the daintily appointed tea table was of jonquils. The ices and bonbons were in yellow.

Mrs. Schoen, who was assisted in entertaining by her sisters, Mrs. Macon Martin and Miss Willie Calhoun, wore a gown of black velvet.

Miss Gibbs wore blue charmeuse, and Miss Richardson was gowned in blue chiffon over blue satin.

Luncheon for Visitors.

Mrs. Arthur D. Richardson will entertain at a luncheon Wednesday at her home in compliment to her guests, Miss Goodlow, of Richmond, Va., and Mrs. M. T. Withers, of Suffolk, Va. The guests will include Mrs. Withers, Miss Goodlow, Mrs. Fairfax Montague, Mrs. R. G. Blanton, Mrs. Thomas Rosenboom, Mrs. William H. Rhett, Mrs. W. D. Ellis, Mrs. Whitner, Miss Wallace and Mrs. E. A. Hardin.

Afternoon Bridge.

Mrs. H. E. Harman will entertain at bridge this afternoon at the Georgian Terrace in compliment to her daughter, Mrs. H. . Harman, Jr., a recent bride, and to Mrs. Keats Speed, of New York. Invited to meet them are a few of the young married set.

Dr. White Entertains.

Dr. H. C. White, of Athens, Ga., entertained at stag dinner last night at his home on Milledge avenue in compliment to Dr. Ira Remsen, president of Johns Hopkins, who went to Athens yesterday to address the students of the university today at 11 o'clock. Dr. Remsen will return today to Atlanta, and with Mrs. Remsen will be at the Georgian Terrace until their departure Wednesday for Baltimore.

Professor Agostini's Dance.

The dance given Friday evening a the old Capital City Club by Professor Agostini to the fraternity men of the Tech and their friends was a delightful event. The ball room was elaborately decorated with the Tech colors.

An orchestra furnished the music, and punch and refreshments were served during the evening. Professor Agostini, dancing with Miss Klara Jennings, introduced his new Carmencita waltz. About two hundred guests enjoyed the evening.

Stag Dinner.

A stag dinner will be given tonight at the Capital City Club in compliment to Mr. De Luze, of Paris, and Mr. Schneidau, of New Orleans.

Mrs. Bailey Entertains.

Mrs. H. C. Bailey will entertain her bridge club and an extra table Thursday afternoon at her home on Forrest avenue.

To Mrs. M. K. Waitt.

Mrs. Claud Barnwell's afternoon reception on Thursday at her home on Arnold street will be a compliment to Mrs. M. K. Waitt, a recent bride, and one hundred and fifty ladies are invited to meet her.

Receiving with them will be Mrs. W. N. Hill, Miss Walter Waitt, Mrs. Harry Waitt, and assisting in entertaining will be Mrs. William Schell, Mrs. Charles Powers, Mrs. Alfred Wilson, Mrs. P. J. McComack, Mrs. W. J. Hodges, Mrs. R. B. Brittain, Miss Edith Cole, Miss Margaret Parker, Miss Nellie Kiser. Miss Gladys Kirk and Miss Trunnie Helms will serve tea.

Albert Chaffee's Pictures.

Lovers of art are enjoying the water colored pictures by the well-known artist, Albert Chaffee, of New York. The pictures are on exhibition at the Georgian Terrace hotel and Mrs. Chaffee, herself a gifted woman, is in charge of the exhibit.

The pictures are varied in kind and illustrate the versatility of the artist. Originality and delicacy mark them and many members of the Atlanta Art Association enjoyed a view of them yesterday.

Theater Party.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Daniel entertained at a theater party last night at the Forsyth in honor of their guest, Mrs. Walter Kenan, of Columbia, S. C. In the party were Mr. and Mrs. Daniel and Mrs. Frank Wilkinson. Thursday afternoon Mrs. Daniel will entertain fourteen guests at a bridge party at the Georgian Terrace in honor of Mrs. Kenan, the game to be played on the parlor floor and to be followed by refreshments.

Browning Class Sees Pictures.

The members of the Browning class, of which Mrs. Merill Hutchinson is the leader, were the guests of the Vaudette moving picture show last Friday afternoon, when the drama, the "Blot in the 'Scutcheon," was shown in the pictures. After the delightful entertainment afforded, the class was entertained at tea at the Georgian Terrace by Mrs. Henry Inman, who is a member of the Browning class.

Dairy Lunches.

The dairy lunches, which have proved so attractive as served by the ladies of St. Luke's Episcopal church in the Empire building (first floor, northwest corner), will be continued all this week, and a general patronage is invited.

Lancaster-Webb.

Mrs. Loulie Lancaster announces the marriage of her daughter, Mamie Harriett, to Mr. Roy Collier Webb, Monday, March 11, First Christian church, Rev. L. O. Brickler officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Webb are at home at 88 Pulliam street.

To Mrs. Remsen.

Mrs. Charles Remsen was hostess yesterday at a beautiful luncheon in compliment to Mrs. Ira Remsen, of Baltimore, inviting to meet her a group of eight ladies.

The luncheon table had as its centerpiece a basket of Killarney roses and valley lilies, and the place cards were valley lilies. Artistic detail of appointment was in pink and white.

Reception to Dr. and Mrs. Walker.

From 5 until 8 o'clock the members of the First Presbyterian church will give a reception this afternoon, in compliment to their new pastor, Doctor Hugh Walker, and Mrs. Walker. The receiving party will include Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Inman, Colonel and Mrs. Robert J. Lowry, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Grant, Judge and Mrs. William T. Newman, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Woodside, Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Winship, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Elyea, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Speer, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Hoyt, Mr. and Mrs. William Bonsel, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Carson, Mr. and Mrs. Gilham H. Morrow, Dr. and Mrs. Samuel T. Barnett, Dr. and Mrs. John B. Daniel and Mrs. E. H. Barnett, wife of Dr. Barnett, for many years the pastor of the church.

KNOX WELCOMED BY SAN SALVADOR

Guards of Honor Salute and Accompany the Secretary of State.

San Salvador, Republic of Salvador, March 11.—It was the turn today of the Salvadoreans to extend a welcome to Philander C. Knox, United States secretary of state, and they did it royally.

The foreign minister, at the head of a reception committee, met the state secretary's party on its arrival at Acajutla, where the police band played the national anthems of the two republics. A special train was waiting to convey Secretary Knox and the other visitors to San Salvador, where another committee, headed by the finance minister, met and greeted the American secretary. Guards of honor of infantry and cavalry saluted Mr. Knox, and then accompanied his motor car to the residence of Deputy Carl Melendez, which has been placed at the disposal of Mr. and Mrs. Knox during their stay, and where a detachment of the cadet corps mounted a guard of honor.

Crowds thronged the streets between the station and Deputy Melendez's house, cheering and saluting in the friendliest manner. Throughout the night the government buildings were illuminated with myriads of electric glow lamps, and this will be repeated nightly until Wednesday, when Mr. Knox intends to depart.

This morning the president of the republic, Dr. Manuel E. Araujo, received Secretary Knox and his party at the palace. The meeting was of a purely ceremonial character, the formal exchanges having been arranged to take place in the course of the state dinner tonight. There is no diplomatic question pending between the United States and Salvador, but the state secretary hoped by his visit to strengthen the commercial relations between the two republics, and to help remove the suspicion which has already been prevalent of a policy of imperialism on the part of the United States.

AGED MAN PUT $12,000 IN LEWIS ENTERPRISES

St. Louis, Mo., March 11.—The first investor to be put upon the stand in the trial of E. G. Lewis, charged with using the mails to defraud, was G. A. Russell, 84 years old, of Clinton, Iowa, who testified this afternoon that he invested $12,000 in the 7 per cent notes of the Lewis Publishing Company.

He said he was induced to invest through an advertisement in the Woman's National Daily, which offered a 7 per cent return and a bonus of stock. He said he bought secured notes, the tansactions taking place in letters.

A. E. Radert, expert accountant for the United States department of justice, testified that a time when the Lewis Publishing Company was advertised as prosperous, its own books showed it was losing money. For the years 1908, 1909 and 1910, he said, the books showed a total loss of $557,446.52.

These are the three years covered by the issue of the 7 per cent secured notes and specified in the indictment as the period when the company was advertised as promising returns to investors.

KENTUCKY WILL BUY BIRTHPLACE OF DAVIS

Frankfort, Ky., March 11.—With the passage in the house today of the senate bill, appropriating $7,500 for the purchase of Jefferson Davis' birthplace, near Elkton, Ky., the memorial to the president of the confederacy for which the Daughters of the Confederacy have been working, was made possible. The bill is now ready for the governor's approval.

The homestead is to be made into a state park and a memorial will be erected in it. Plans for a Jefferson Davis Way leading to the farm are already projected and western Kentucky counties are constdiring the construction of a state highway extending from the Lincoln Road at Bowling Green, lengthwise through the state to the Mississippi river intersecting the Jefferson Davis Way.

MADAME RACHELLE'S ADVICE TO BEAUTY SEEKERS

R. V. T.—Sallowness of the complexion is usually caused by a faulty diet and lack of exercise. Consult a physician about the former, keep out in the air as much as possible. Sleep with windows open.

Miss M. R.—Your druggist can supply you a preparation known as Wilson's Freckle Cream which I can recommend as a very effective freckle remover. It acts quickly and its bleaching properties are entirely harmless. Follow the directions on the package and protect the face from all undue exposure to the wind and sun. The cream sells for 50c the jar, and if your druggist is out, you may obtain it direct from the Wilson Freckle Cream Company, Charleston, S. C.

Wilson's Freckle Cream is sold by All Leading Druggists.

MISS LEESZ ASSOCIATED WITH MISS PEARL HARDY

Having studied millinery as an art, and then having studied the advantages of the larger cities of the south as a millinery center, Miss Anne Leesz, of New York, has decided to locate in Atlanta, and is associated with Miss Pearl Hardy, who has opened her millinery establishment for the season in the Hillyer building, on Peachtree street.

Miss Leesz believes that in Atlanta the women are markedly appreciative of artistic millinery, and that American women more and more are demanding the individual fashion in millinery.

Though Paris will ever be the fountain head for the millinery art, and send out the authentic decrees on the subject, these suggestions from the fountain head may be adapted, thus affording ample opportunity for the skill of the American milliner.

Miss Leesz talks in a fashion as interesting about hats as the painter does of painting, the dramatist of the drama, the musician of music.

URGES EXTENSION OF FREE DELIVERY

Plan to Deliver Mail in Small Towns and Villages.

Washington, March 11.—Extension of free mail delivery service to villages and small towns throughout the country is being urged upon congress by Postmaster General Hitchcock. He has forwarded to the senate and house committee of postoffices and postroads a recommendation that an appropriation of $1,000,000 be made to put the village delivery service into operation providing that not more than $1,800 a year be allowed for the work at any single office.

Except on rural routes delivery of mail by carriers is confined by existing law to cities having a population of 10,000 or more or annual receipts at the postoffice of at least $10,000. The carrier delivery service now is in operation in 1,541 cities and the carriers serve an urban population of 45,000,000. The rural carriers deliver mail on 32,000 routes to about 20,000,000 people. This leaves between 25,000,000 and 30,000,000 people who reside in villages and small towns without any form of free mail delivery.

"While it is scarcely feasible," said Mr. Hitchcock today, "to establish complete free delivery service in villages and towns on account of the heavy expense. It is entirely practiable to furnish the postmasters at these places a comparatively small allowance that would enable them to employ assistance to deliver at residences of their patrons. These people now are obliged to call at the postoffices for their mail. Authorization by congress of the plan suggested would be of great convenience to nearly 30,000,000 people and would remove from the postal service an apparent discrimination against residents in towns and villages."

PENSIONS TO BE GIVEN PRUDENTIAL WORKERS

Newark, N. J., March 11.—The Prudential Insurance Company today put into effect a pension system for retiring employees who have been in continuous service with the company frrm five to thirty years. The amount of the pension will be 1 per cent of the retiring employee's wages, multiplied by the number of years he or she has been in the company's employ. The retiring age for women is placed at 65 years, and for men at 70.

The Tongs Make Peace.

San Francisco, Cal., March 11.—Notices bearing the seals of all the Tongs and declaring that a perpetual peace agreement had been made were posted today in Chinatown, thus ending the war between the societies.

For Jefferson Memorial.

Washington, March 11.—A hundred-thousand-dollar roadway and memorial arch for the home of Thomas Jefferson is proposed in a bill introduced in the house today by Representative Flood, of Virginia. Mr. Flood wants $50,000 appropriated to build a highway from Main street, Charlottesville, Va., to Monticello. At the gate to Monticello he would have erected an archway to cost $50,000. Monticello is owned by Representative Jefferson Levy, of New York.

Reducing the Cost of Living

In these days of soaring food prices it behooves the careful housekeeper to pick those foods that give the most nourishment in proportion to their cost. With the prices of meats beyond the reach of a table allowance that once proved sufficient, one must choose something that provides meat nourishment without meat cost.

That food is found in Faust Spaghetti.

Faust Spaghetti is made from rich, glutinous Durum wheat. It provides as much nourishment as many times its value in meat or eggs. A 5c package of Faust Spaghetti will provide a generous helping to five persons. You cannot find a cheaper food, nor a better food—nor a food that is so universally enjoyed. Many thrifty housewives who serve spaghetti in some form very often, make it the chief dish for dinner once a week—and they say that it does not only prove economical but also receives the hearty approval of their families. Write for our free booklet of Faust Recipes.

FOR EVERGLADES FLETCHER PLEADS

Florida Senator Denies There Has Been Any Gigantic Land Swindle.

Washington, March 11.—"We are here to give the public scientific data —not opinions. I want this thing stopped right where it is."

Senator Fletcher, of Florida, today thus quoted Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, referring to the time when the circular on the drainage of the Florida Everglades was suppressed in the department. Senator Fletcher appeared before the Everglades investigating committee and assume responsibility for bringing the matter to the attention of Secretary Wilson.

Senator Fletcher said that the circular in controversy may have contained some truth, but he thought that in the main it was unfair and unjust, and, on the whole, would convey an erroneous impression.

Senator Fletcher said drainage of the Everglades had been a political issue in Florida. He did not know of anyone who doubted the feasibility of reclaiming the Everglades. The differences, he said, were over the questions of cost and length of time required for the work. There was also a difference of opinion as to the value of the reclaimed land.

The senator explained the suppression of the senate document on the Everglades and the criticism of it by Representative Clark. He denied that only facts favorable to the reclamation project were printed and unfavorable material rejected. He said he had simply put the facts in the document, and had excluded matter submitted to him by C. G. Elliott, chief drainage engineer of the department of agriculture, because he thought it immaterial and "surplusage."

Senator Fletcher expressed his regret that the state of Florida and its officials had been put in the attitude of being party to a gigantic land swindle.

"I'll tell you, gentlemen," he said, "I am much impressed by that slogan, 'You gotta' quit kickin' my dawg aroun'."

"Is the Everglades houn' a water spaniel?" asked Representative Sloan as the committee took a recess.

WILSON'S VIEWS ON IMMIGRATION

Governor Explains Reference in His History to Italians, Hungarians and Poles.

Madison, Wis., March 11.—Governor Woodrow Wilson's attitude on the subject of the immigration of Italians, Hungarians and Poles is stated in a letter to John A. Aylward, of this city, made public tonight. The letter was evoked by published attacks based on quotations from Governor Wilson's historical writings.

"He must be a very ignorant man who does not know," says the governor, "the distinction attaching to the history of the great Italian people and of the Hungarian and Polish nations, which, through so many generations, have made a gallant struggle to maintain the rights of man, and who have in the process developed so many qualities that entitle them to the profound respect of the world. I have never for a moment regretted that our great composite nation was enriched by the blood of these people.

"All that I commented upon was the undoubted fact that during the years of which I speak some of the baser elements out of the nations—elements such as might have come out of any of the nations of the world—had been brought in undesirable numbers into our ports to the embarrassment of their former compatriots as well as to the detriment of some of the communities into which they went.

"Clearly the class to which I referred in my history is not the intelligent, liberty-loving class which came of its own volition, seeking a home and a land of freedom. I referred to the class of laborers which was brought here under pauper labor contracts by some of the great protected industries. During the time mentioned, the peoples referred to happened to be the ones drafted upon. This vicious practice became so offensive and dangerous that congress, yielding to a strong demand from the laboring classes, which includes Hungarians, Italians and Poles alike, passed a stringent law against the abuse.

"I am sure that the leaders of the Polish, Italian and Hungarian citizens of this country will be the first to realize the malicious injustice which has been done me by putting my views in any other light."

The Case of the Packers.

Chicago, March 11.—Government attorneys concluded their argument today on the motion of the defense to have Judge Carpenter take the packers' case from the jury and discharge the ten defendants. Tomorrow morning the defense will close its argument and it is expected Judge Carpenter will give his decision without delay. District Attorney Wilkerson, Special Counsel James M. Sheean and Special Counsel Pierce Butler, who occupied the day in presenting their arguments in opposition to the granting of the motion, declared that the government had conclusively proved its case.

Burned to Death.

St. Augustine, Fla., March 11.—Everett Whitney, owner of the oldest Spanish coquina house, was burned to death in a wooden building nearby in a late night fire. One fire fighter was seriously injured by falling.

Jeff Davis Spent $620.

Washington, March 11.—The expenses of Senator Jeff Davis, of Arkansas, in his campaign for re-election to the senate, were filed with the secretary of the senate today. The total amount was $620.90. The primaries are to be held the latter part of this month. Traveling expenses, cost of mailing letters and other minor incidentals, Senator Davis said, were not included.

Electrocuted by Accident.

Rutland, Vermont, March 11.—Standing in a bath tub partly filled with water, with his hands grasping an electric fixture, Robert A. Lawrence, an attorney was found dead at his home yesterday, a victim of accidental electrocution.

WOMAN IS DROWNED IN A TUB OF WATER

Mansfield, Ohio, March 11.—Mrs. William McClintock, 21, fainted while washing today, and falling head foremost into the tub of water, was drowned.

Body of Student Found.

Cullman, Ala., March 11.—Following a search which has lasted day and night since Sunday at noon, when the boy was first missed, the body of Joseph Meehan, 13 years old, a student of Bernard college, which is located one mile east of Cullman, was found lying in 10 feet of water in a creek near the college grounds today. The boy is a son of Joseph Meehan, a merchant, of Montgomery. Meehan wandered away from a party of students on Sunday while taking a stroll through the woods, carrying his kodak with him. It is believed that while attemting to take a picture, the youngster slipped and, falling into the water, was drowned.

The Home Rule Bill.

London, March 11.—The home rule bill for Ireland is to be introduced into the house of commons on April 9 or 10. Premier Asquith made this definite promise in the house of commons today, adding: "I have always thought this bill is by far the most important to be brought in this session."

"The Water of Eternal Youth"

(From Home Queen)

The beauties of the Austrian court used a lotion which was so effectual in keeping the face smooth and free from wrinkles, even in the aged, they named it the "water of eternal youth."

Some one recently has divulged the secret of this wonderful, though exceedingly simple, wrinkle lotion, which in her gratitude she has similarly dubbed a preserver of youth: One ounce pure saxolite (powdered), dissolved in a half pint witch hazel—that's all there is to it. Any woman can get these ingredients at her drug store, put them together, and use the solution with entire safety. To bathe the face in the same brings immediate results, even in case of the deeper wrinkles and furrows. This is also effective for hanging cheeks and double chin.

THE VALUE OF A BOOK

Several Different Views Taken in Case of Missouri Lady. The Right Conclusion Reached From Reading of Book.

Everton, Mo.—In a letter from this place, Mrs. Manza Call says: "I believe I would have been in my grave today, had it not been for the help of Cardui, the woman's tonic.

I had a very severe pain in the back of my head and neck, for over a year. When I would stoop over, strain myself in any way, or even turn my head, the pain would strike me in the back of my neck, run to the top of my head, and the throbbing would be unbearable for several minutes.

I dreaded having to stoop or move, for I knew what the result would be.

I got medicine from our doctor several times, but it gave me no relief. He thought it was nerve trouble, and some thought it spinal trouble.

After reading one of your books, I came to the conclusion that it was female trouble, and decided to give Cardui a trial.

I am safe in saying that the first bottle gave me more relief than anything I had used, and three bottles, I believe, have cured me."

If you suffer from womanly troubles, Cardui will certainly do for you what it has done for this lady. She is only one, of many thousands, who have received like benefit. Please try it.

SINGING TO HER GRANDCHILD WOMAN'S DRESS CATCHES FIRE

Mrs. Jennie Blodgett, 45 years old, living with her son at 490 Whitehall street, was sitting in front of an open fireplace singing a lullaby to her grandchild, at 4 o'clock, yesterday afternoon.

A draught blew her dress against the fire, and, in a jiffy, she was enveloped in flames. Neighbors rushed to her aid, and succeeded in putting out the fire, but not before she received burns which necessitated her removal to the Grady hospital.

At a late hour last night, Dr. Catron stated that the burns were not serious.

GOLD COIN WALKING STICK SETS THE KIMBALL TALKING

Ben Hardin last night walked into the lobby of the Kimball hotel. He carried a ponderous stick and a small traveling bag. After he had registered he handed the stick over the counter to the clerk. "Here, keep this till I call for it," he said.

The stick glittered brilliantly in the lighted room. The clerk discovered that it was very heavy, and examined the bright, shiny articles embedded all over it. They were gold coins, every one of them, and amounted to $565. Then he put it in the safe, locked the door securely and handed the key over to the manager.

Mr. Hardin went out early at night, went to a theater, returned about 11 o'clock and asked for his cane. "Going away?" asked the clerk. "No," answered the planter, "just want to take the cane up to the room, where I can keep an eye on it."

The clerk advised that it be left in the safe, but the rich cotton grower wouldn't allow it away from him overnight, and slept with it in his room.

Mr. Hardin is one of south Georgia's richest planters. It is said that his profits in cotton are greater in proportion than any other planter in the state, and beginning as a poor boy, he has amassed a fortune from his crops. His home is in Washington, and near that city he owns very nearly 500 acres, on which he raises nothing but cotton.

In the stick there are 159 gold coins of varied denominations. There are one hundred and six $2.50 pieces, thirty-six $1 coins and eight $20 ones. It weighs eight pounds, and was made from walnut by Mr. Hardin himself.

NO INSULT GIVEN, SAY GEORGIANS

Tribble, Roddenbery and Howard Incensed at Report of House Proceedings.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, March 11.—(Special.)—Representatives Roddenbery, Tribble and Howard were incensed today at a report wired to Georgia about their filibuster against pension frauds in the house last Friday and the assertion therein made that they had been subjected to indignities through congress-people of my state. Nevertheless, the men singing "Marching Through Georgia."

It was stated that not only had the Georgians not resented these insults, but that Democratic Leader Underwood, who was in the chair, had made no attempt to restrain the house.

At the time the incident occurred, the house had been tied in a knot through Mr. Roddenbery's point of no quorum. From 6:30 to 9:30 the sergeant-at-arms and his assistants were scurrying over the city rounding up protesting members and haling them back to the house. During the three-hour interim, the house amused itself as every legislature in America would under similar circumstances. Members sang "Dixie," "My Old Kentucky Home," "Yankee Doodle" and all the other songs they knew, including "Marching Through Georgia."

No Insult Intended.

Representative Howard said he realized there was no malice in the singing and no one suspected any insult had been intended and no offense was taken. He said the situation did not justify the newspaper report sent out about it.

Representative Roddenbery, who led the fight on the pension frauds, says the demonstration could have been stopped by any member who desired to do so. He pays Mr. Underwood the tribute that "there is no fairer, more courteous and impartial gentleman anywhere. His statement of the affair follows:

"The singing by the members of the house was not taken by me as being in the slightest intended as an affront, nor do I think they were so regarded by anyone else. The statement made by Mr. Anderson, of Ohio, that he noted the gentleman from Georgia is not singing was made in the clearest spirit of good humor, and the retort made by me, 'that it was neither possible nor appropriate that a corpse should sing at his own funeral,' was likewise made in a spirit of jest."

Roddenbery's Statement.

Congressman Roddenbery further observed:

"I presume the public who are not familiar with parliamentary conditions will fail to comprehend the singing by members of the house. My point of no quorum had put the house utterly without power of action. This I did with deliberate purpose to force members of congress who were attending card parties, dances and the theaters to be arrested and brought to the house for the transaction of public business. I desired to prevent the passage of the pension bill on that day, and succeeded. The demonstration by singing, and other diversions by members who were present, does not comport with great dignity, but the same thing occurred during the deadlock of business at the time of the all-night fight on the Cannon rules.

"The singing was indulged in by members from every section of the country; being sometimes led by Mr. Ellerbee, of South Carolina, who voted with me against the pension iniquity. No member of the house offered me the slightest indignity. To be sure, I did not relish the song 'Marching Through Georgia,' under the circumstances, when it brought to mind the horrible suffering of the members who participated in it did not feel the same as I did.

"The inference that Leader Underwood permitted the diversion of the members to go on without stopping it, may be, is calculated to do him injustice. The entire demonstration would have been terminated at any moment by the objection of any gentleman from any state.

"Mr. Underwood, who was presiding merely indulged the house, while it was waiting for arrest of absent congressman, which is not unusual under such circumstances and to which nobody made objection. There is no fairer, more courteous and impartial gentleman anywhere than Leader Underwood.

"As a representative from Georgia, I shall wage insofar as the rules and my power will permit, unrelenting war on this infernal pension outrage."

Will Motor to Reunion.

Athens, Ga., March 11.—(Special.)—It is certain that at least ten automobiles and probably three times that number, loaded with confederate veterans, will go from Athens to Macon to the reunion through the country, going by Madison and Shadydale, where they will likely be joined by other autos to parties. W. C. Weatherford began the movement with a cordial invitation to all the survivors of his father's company in the confederate army to be his guests for the trip in his big touring car and another car which was tendered him for the purpose. Others are now planning to make up similar parties.

FOWLER DECLARES FLYING SAFER THAN AUTOMOBILING

"The south has splendid possibilities for aviation, and I expect it soon to develop into a great source of aviators," last night said Robert G. Fowler, the transcontinental bird man, whose rise in the world of aviation has been meteoric, and who is stopping in Atlanta on his way to Athens, Ga.

He is going to Athens to give an exhibition flight. The same machine in which he made his recent flight across the continent will be used. From Athens he will go to Rome, where he will make another exhibition flight. After that he intends to tour Georgia, flying in its principal cities, and probably will give an exhibition in Atlanta.

He has already flown in Brunswick, Waycross and Americus and is on his return from the flight across America, which ended last month in Jacksonville.

"The south has a most acceptable climate, and the weather conditions are much better than the sections further north," he said. "The winds down here are not nearly so bad. The only trouble in this country is that not enough attention is given aviation. You allow stumps and shubbery on what few level fields you have, and no machine can land on ground of this kind. I think it would be a most enterprising, if not profitable, plan for eaech township to establish an aviation grounds within or outside their city. It would encourage aviation among the amateurs, and cross-country bird-men who are becoming more numerous every day."

When asked regarding the dangers of flying, Mr. Fowler said:

"Flying is much safer than automobiling, and I would much rather risk it. Just as long as a man keeps a cool head, is sensible and does not try to do something a bird cannot do, he is going to arise, make his flight and light successfully, believe me."

BRIDE OF WEEK STICKS BY HUBBY

Brings Clothing and Dainties to Him in Jail.

With his bride of a little more than a week at his side, Fred Cain, a white youth, went back to jail yesterday under $1,000 bond to await the action of the grand jury on a charge of grand larceny.

Cain burglarized the tailor shop of Pierson & Oxford, 34½ Peachtree street, within a fortnight after his marriage to Mabel Wilson, a buxom brunette. Cain made a sensational escape from the recorder's court some days ago, leaping from the second story window.

"I'll come and see you every day, Freddy," his wife assured him, as he was being led back to the dock, and within half an hour she returned to central headquarters with a bundle of clothing and some dainty things to eat. "Don't worry, dearie, I'll be back in a little while."

Cain was arrested while attempting to dispose of a number of phony rings which, he declared, were the spoils of a robbery of a year ago. He admitted entering the Pierson & Oxford store and stealing clothing and goods.

W. B. Sylvester.

W. B. Sylvester, aged 47 years, a prominent business man of Eufaula, Ala., died yesterday afternoon in a private sanitarium. The body was removed to the Bloomfield-Burkert chapel, and later will be carried to Eufaula, where the funeral and interment will take place. He is survived by his wife and four children, Mrs. Mary Estes, Miss Jane and Miss Annie Laura Sylvester and J. A. Sylvester.

Executive Committee.

Hartwell, Ga., March 11.—(Special.) The democratic executive committee of Hart county met Saturday. By almost a unanimous vote it was decided to hold the Hart county primary together with the state, which will be held in August. About twenty-five candidates are announced. Judge W. L. Hodges is a candidate for judge. A. A. McCurry will be a candidate for the house.

"WHITE SLAVE" CHARGE MADE AGAINST BOYCE

Fort Worth, Texas, March 11.—Investigation of a "white slave" charge against Al Boyce, which resulted from his elopement to Canada last November with Mrs. Lena Sneed, whose husband later shot and killed Boyce's father, was begun by a federal grand jury here today. A similar charge brought by the state was dismissed at the time Mrs. Sneed secured her release from a Fort Worth sanitarium on a writ of habeas corpus.

Convicted After 18 Years.

Nashville, Tenn., March 11.—A special today from Clinton, Tenn., says that William Cross has been given three years in prison for killing William Aslinger, 18 years ago. After the tragedy, Cross, then aged 10, fled to Indiana, where he married and has since lived. A quarrel with an aunt living in Indiana is alleged to have resulted in his arrest recently.

Killed a Negro Burglar.

Birmingham, Ala., March 11.—As a climax to the series of burglaries which has stirred South Highlands, the most exclusive residence section of the city, during the past week, H. R. Arton, 1611 Twelfth avenue, south, tonight shot and killed an unknown negro who was trying to enter through a side window.

KILLED NEGRO WITH BLOW FROM HIS HAND

Enterprise, Miss., March 11.—Benjamin Sanford, night patrolman, killed Jack May, a negro, near here yesterday by striking him with his open hand. The officer said he had torn his clothes on a barbed wire fence and when he ordered the negro to remove the fence, received an insolvent answer. A physician saidthe negro's neck was broken. Sanford later came into town and talked with officers of the trouble but rode away before he could be arrested.

SEYFRIED COMES TO ATLANTA FEDERAL PRISON

Mobile, Ala., March 11.—Harry Seyfried, the postmaster at Delchamps, this county, who paid his debts with government stamps, and was arrested, released on bond and afterwards rearrested in Los Angeles, Cal., on complaint of a relative in Barberton, Ohio, for fear that he would jump his bond, was arraigned in the United States district court here today and sentenced to one year and one day in the penitentiary at Atlanta.

300,000 PERSONS TO GET ADVANCE

General Wage Increase for New England Textile Workers.

Already Many Mills Have Posted Notices of Advance—It Is Predicted That Finally the Wages of 300,000 Operatives Will Be Advanced.

Boston, March 11.—It was established tonight that 150,000 cotton and woolen mill operatives in northern New England will share in an advance in wages of at least 5 per cent before April 1. Advices received here indicate manufacturers in Fall River and elsewhere in southern New England are considering the advisability of meeting the increase decided upon by mills having their head offices in Boston. Should the 30,000 operatives in Fall River and a like number in New Bedford be given higher wages, it is believed manufacturers at other southern New England points would consider it good policy for them to take similar action.

Nearly 300,000 Persons to Benefit.

An advance in all New England textile districts would directly affect from 250,000 to 300,000 persons. In New Bedford the textile council held a meeting tonight to consider a plan of communicating with the manufacturers' association regarding higher pay. Otis N. Pierce, president of the association, expressed his personal opinion that the fine goods market was not on a basis sufficiently firm to warrant an increase at this time.

Considerable unrest exists among the mill employees of Fall River. The mill foremen there at a meeting tonight discussed a demand for a wage increase, and this subject will be discussed during the week at meetings of the carders, spinners, slashers and weavers' unions. There has been no change in the wage scale at Fall River since 1908, and some of the manufacturers say privately they expect to grant an increase of 5 per cent April 1.

General Increase Predicted.

John Golden, of Fall River, president of the United Textile Workers of America, in an interview today, said:

"It looks as though there would have to ge a general increase in all textile centers of the country. An increase is needed in this city just the same as anywhere else, and I have no reason to believe but that the manufacturers will take the proper view of conditions and give the operatives what they deserve."

Notices of a 5 per cent wage raise were posted today in Maine and New Hampshire cotton mills, employing 350,000 hands, the increase dating from today. Mills in various Massachusetts towns advance the pay of about 11,000 employees.

BY FORCE OF ARMS PEACE MAINTAINED

Outbreak in the Chinese Capital Seems Imminent.

Pekin, March 11.—Armed peace holds sway throughout the city. The legation quarter is closed and cannon have been mounted on the walls. Old-style troops yesterday started disorders and were ordered today to proceed to Tung Ho. They tore down the republican flags a few hours before the inauguration of Yuan Shi Kai as president of the republic.

Manchus Guard Yuan.

Many natives followed suit and for a time the authorities were confronted with a serious situation. The Manchu garrison and part of the third division are now acting as a bodyguard to President Yuan.

The Manchus hold the site of the destroyed gate to the imperial city with Maxims, permitting only merchants to enter. Shooting occurs occasionally and decapitations daily. Frequently at night fires are visible in the hills, probably the houses of farmers are being looted. Few shops are open and the wealthy Chinese remain in the legation quarter. If the leading men were not able to take refuge behind a foreign gun whenever trouble occurred, peace might come more quickly it is believed.

Anarchy in All Provinces.

For the past several weeks repetitions of the story of anarchy, atrocities and sufferings have been received from all the northern provinces. At the legations it is believed the Nanking cabinet is not capable of re-establishing order unless the republican armies are brought to the north, and the cabinet's ability to assemble sufficient force for the purpose is questioned.

A Swedish expedition which has been in north Shen Si gathering in the foreigners has returned to Pekin. The head of the expedition says Chinese guilds at Kalgan, which is 125 miles northwest of Pekin, paid the Manchu division in barracks there 26,000 taels for not looting the city, but that the guilds are now taking measures for defense, fearing the agreement may be broken.

NATIONAL ASSEMBLY SUPREME IN THE NEW CHINESE REPUBLIC

Nanking, China, March 11.—The constitution of the new republic of China, as finally approved today, places the supreme power in the hands of the national assembly. A notable feature is that all the acts of the president require the approval of the assembly, and this body also has complete control of the cabinet. The assembly elects the president and vice president, and may pass any law over the executive's veto at its pleasure.

Dr. Sun Yat Sen will turn over the great seal of the presidential office to Tang Shao Yi, Yuan's personal representative, as soon as the details of launching the constitutional government can be accomplished. Pending this, Dr. Sun continues to hold office as actual acting president.

STRIKE TO COVER ENTIRE WORLD

English Coal Miners to Be Backed By Comrades.

German and French Miners Are Going Out, and the Anthracite Workers of the United States May Also Drop Their Tools.

New York, March 11.—A world-wide strike of coal miners is regarded by the coal trade as more than a likelihood if negotiations now in progress between the anthracite and bituminous workers and their employers in this country do not result in the settlement of working conditions.

With more than a million coal miners on strike in Great Britain and 150,000 miners in Germany voting to quit work to force higher wages, a severe coal shortage in Europe is faced.

The anthracite coal operators are drafting their negative reply on the question of wages to the hard coal workers for presentation to the miners Wednesday. Next week at Cleveland the bituminous operators and their employers will confer to try to bring about an adjustment of conditions in the soft coal fields.

Meanwhile coal is being loaded on the Atlantic seaboard for South American and European ports usually supplied by English firms.

POOR PEOPLE ARE SUFFERING AS RESULT OF ENGLISH STRIKE

London, March 11.—The British coal strike which began on March 1, when nearly 1,000,000 men employed in the collieries of England, Scotland and Wales laid down their tools at a given signal, shows little sign of settlement.

Besides the miners, another million workers, men and women employed in factories and mills in all parts of Great Britain, have been thrown out of employment because of the impossibility of obtaining factory fuel.

Prices of provisions and all the necessities of life have gone up to such an extent that extreme distress exists among the poorer classes.

Railroads have had to restrict their train services, river steamers have had to cease running, the gas and electric supply works have been compelled to restrict their delivery of illuminants, the mail services have been retarded, and many ocean steamers have had to be laid up in harbor.

The government has been trying to bring the miners and the coal owners together, but has not yet succeeded, and it is thought probable that as a final measure a minimum wages bill for miners will have to be introduced in the house of commons.

Many of the mine owners have expressed their sympathy with the principle of a fixed minimum wage, but others decline even to consider the idea.

For the rapidly dwindling stocks of coal on hand in North Wales an advance in price of from 75 to 100 per cent has been demanded today. This has necessitated the closing of practically every factory and quarry in that part of the country. In other portions of the United Kingdom, conditions are almost as bad.

Shipments of coal from the ports of South Wales last week amounted only to 30,000 tons compared with the usual total of 400,000 tons per week.

Two of the largest paper mills in the Midland counties ceased working today. All their employees were discharged. From every other point throughout the country reports are reaching London that work is being stopped.

The pressure of traffic on the street cars and omnibuses in London, as a result of the restriction of the suburban train service, has become so great that the authorities have given permission to people to stand up in the vehicles, the rule against which is in normal times rigidly enforced.

COAL MINERS OF GERMANY OBEY THE CALL TO STRIKE

Berlin, March 11.—The coal strike went into effect in the Westphalian coal mines today when about fifty per cent of the 350,000 miners employed there obeyed the call of their leaders to cease work.

In some districts the cessation of work was practically complete, while in others only from 15 to 30 per cent of the men struck. Large forces of police are on duty everywhere throughout the region but the strikers are generally peaceable.

The conflict is quite as much a struggle between the leaders of the rival socialist and non-socialist unions as between the mine owners and their employees. The leaders of the non-socialist Christian union are so far holding their followers well in hand.

The success of the strike will depend upon how far the feeling of solidarity with their striking comrades of the socialist miners unions is carried.

Public opinion in the Westphalian district, which was with the miners during the last great strike, is now reported to be largely against the strikers.

The effect of the strike is not yet noticeable on industry in general nor on the prices of the necessaries of life.

COAL MINERS OF FRANCE TO STRIKE FOR 24 HOURS

Paris, March 11.—About two-thirds of the coal miners of France have responded to the appeal of the general miners' federation to strike for twenty-four hours. This action of the miners is not directed against the mine owners, but is designed to show to the government the solidarity of the miners and as a warning to parliament that the miners are not satisfied with the workingmen's old age pensions law.

WOMAN CLIMBS 187 FEET AND WINS A $20 WAGER

Louisville, Ky., March 11.—Clad in a coat suit and wearing her street shoes Miss Susan Dianell climbed the framework of the tower, 187 feet high, at Leland, a suburb, yesterday afternoon and won a wager of $20. Miss Dianell was with a party hwo were discussing the hazards of working on so high a frame. She said she could climb the structure and a young man offered to bet $20 she could not. He lost the money in less than 20 minutes.

Talladega Fears Meningitis.

Talladega, Ala., March 11.—Following the death from meningitis of W. G. Connolly shortly after his return from Texas, where he had been to visit a brother, a rigid quarantine has been put in force against a section of country 14 miles from Talladega. By order of the officials, Connolly's home has been burned and those who communicated with him after his return from Texas are under guard, and are disinfected twice daily. This is the first case of meningitis reported in Alabama.

Liquor Sellers Indicted.

Birmingham, Ala., March 11.—A bomb was exploded in the ranks of liquor dealers in north Alabama today when the federal grand jury returned a long list of true bills indicting many of the best-known men in the business. The charges against most of them are for refilling bottles originally stamped "bottled in bond." Nineteen dealers in Jefferson county alone were indicted.

Convict Shows Buried Gold.

Salem, Ore., March 11.—It became known here today that Convict Charles Barrett, who recently led the warden of the penitentiary to a cache where $7,000 in gold bars, stolen from the steamer Humboldt, was hidden, has been paroled by Governor West. Barrett disappeared yesterday in company with secret service agents, having agreed to lead them to the hiding place near here, of still more buried gold, said to aggregate $27,000.

No Change of Venue.

Mobile, Ala., March 11.—Judge Oliver J. Semmes in the city court here today rendered a decision denying the application of the attorneys of Mrs. Mary T. Godau, charged with the murder of her son-in-law, Policeman Fred Wasserleben, on December 30, for a change of venue to the next county. The case was a hard fought one. Notice of an application to the supreme court for a writ of mandamus to compel the court to grant the change of venue was given.

HOLYOKE GIRLS BECOME WIVES AND MOTHERS

South Hauley, Mass., March 11.—Nearly 50 per cent of the 7,000 women graduated from Mount Holyoke college are happily married according to statistics compiled by Dr. Amy Hews, professor of economics. No divorces have been reported in 50 years. According to her statistics the average for graduation has fallen from 23 years and five months to 21 years, 8 months. Most of the graduates wait three or four years after commencement before marriage.

The college graduate mother according to statistics compiled with reference to a certain group has two children and more boys are born to college women than girls.

Captain Murray Dead.

New Orleans, March 11.—Captain Hubert Murray, a sea captain of not more than a quarter of a century ago, when he owned and sailed several big merchant vessels between New York and New Orleans, died at his home here today, of pneumonia. Captain Murray was born in Acton, Mass., seventy-five years ago. He owned and operated several large sugar plantations in this state after he gave up the seafaring life.

MISS JANE OAKER CHARMING BUT DIFFICULT TO INTERVIEW

Miss Jane Oaker is a charming woman, but she is not a good subject for the interviewer, and she admits it.

"Maybe I have acquired the habit of being impersonal through my application to 'Everywoman'," she said, "and so it comes hard to me, especially on a stupid day like this, to have opinions or hobbies or ambitions or anything you would care to have me talk about. It is Mr. Ward you ought to interview," with teasing reference to Frederick Ward, who is her leading man. "He has an inexhaustible fund of novel ideas which make excellent newspaper stories, and then he is writing a book, and that fact, of course, is good material.

"But I seem to find time for nothing, especially on tour, outside of work and keeping up with trains, and I don't always do that. I missed one yesterday in Augusta.

"What does 'Everywoman' mean? Mainly it is a plea, as I see it, for generosity towards woman. The heroine is a woman of impulse and the natural love of pleasure, whose yielding, when she does wrong, is thoughtless rather than reckless yielding and to impulses which are natural to the average woman. So, my work in the play is intended to portray a type, rather than a character, and while I try to make it as thoroughly human as it was intended to be, it is strongly impersonal.

"One reason, I think, why all elements of people enjoy the play is that it leaves a pleasant taste in the mouth. It is not morbid, like so many stage works which put forth problems, and leave them in the end hopeless of solution or more hopeless when they are solved.

"'Everywoman' finally comes to think, and then to see, and to know life and her own proper attitude towards it, and love and happiness come to her when she ceases to seek them. But all this, you know, will come out in some other part of your paper.

"As for hobbies, possibly music would be mine if I could afford it, but one must devote almost as much time, you know, to make music an acceptable accomplishment as to make it a profession.

"And ambition—well, that is too much like looking into the future, and I'd hate to look into the future." (Certainly Miss Oaker does not off the stage portray everywoman.)

TWO VALDOSTA MEN MAY BE IN RACE FOR CONGRESS

Valdosta, Ga., March 11.—(Special.) Developments today indicate that Valdosta will very probably furnish a candidate to succeed Hon. W. G. Brantley in congress. Colonel J. Randall Walker and Judge O. M. Smith are both mentioned prominently in this connection, and are being urged to make the race.

It is understood that Colonel Walker has been assured by his friends that five counties in the district, with sixteen votes in the convention, are conceded to him if he makes the race.

Judge Smith, who enjoys a wide popularity, and has been congressional committeeman and a warm friend of Congressman Brantley ever since the latter has been in congress, is also being promised strong support.

Neither of the gentlemen are avowed candidates, but it is believed that one or the other of them will get in the race, and that the chances of either would probably be superior to any other candidate who may run.

JEFFERSON IS GIVEN RESPITE TO MARCH 29

Columbus, Ga., March 11.—(Special.) Although no official action has yet been taken by the prison board, the impression prevails here that the commissioners will recommend that the sentence of James Jefferson, of this city, be commuted from death to imprisonment for life. Jefferson was yesterday respited from March 13 to March 29.

The friends of the young man present at the hearing in Atlanta last Tuesday were much impressed by the strong showing made in his behalf, and the opinion was expressed at the time that the prison board would probably grant the petition. The prevalent impression now is that the board will formally recommend commutation of the sentence and that it will be up to Governor Brown to take final action in the case. On account of the fact that the members of the trial jury, the county commissioners and most of the other county officials here and between three and four thousand citizens have requested commutation of the sentence, and the belief that the prison board will also take this view of the matter, a strong hope is expressed on the part of Jefferson's relatives and friends that the governor will permit the punishment of the young man to assume the form of imprisonment in the penitentiary for life.

SELFISHNESS REASON FOR RACE SUICIDE

Kansas City, March 11.—"If one thinks if rose perpetuation brings too many hardships and is too much of a sacrifice go to mother and ask if she thinks you a burden or a blessing."

That is the suggestion that C. S. Bishop, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A., made in a speech before the association here last night.

"I will answer all the arguments in favor of race suicide," Mr. Bishop said. "The whole truth and sole reason is selfishness."

DISPUTE OVER HUNTING RESULTS IN KILLING

Natchez, Miss., March 11.—As the sequel to a dispute over hunting privileges, James W. Elliott, aged 45, manager of Yucatan plantation, 25 miles south of Vicksburg, was shot through the heart and instantly killed yesterday by Robert Norwood, who died shortly afterwards of three wounds inflicted by Elliott. Norwood used a shotgun and Elliott used a magazine revolver. Elliott, it is said, had warned Norwood several times to keep off the plantation.

STOCK BROKER IS SHOT BY LOSING CUSTOMER

Boston, March 11.—Spencer B. Hill, a stock broker, was shot and seriously wounded in his office here today by one of his customers. Mr. Hill is a member of the brokerage firm of Richardson, Hill & Co., and is vice president of the Keweenaw Central Railroad Company and Keweenaw Copper Company.

The customer, H. Lewinski, was overpowered by clerks in the office and handed over to the police. The police decided that stock market losses had unbalanced Lewinski's mind. Lewinski had arrived at the offices previous to the opening of the board room. Soon after his arrival, it is alleged, Lewinski drew a revolver and threatened to shoot up the office but, catching sight of Mr. Hill, levelled his revolver at the broker and fired.

INJUSTICE DONE, SAYS A. W. FITE

Extreme Penalty Is What Such Criminals Deserve, Declares Judge.

Judge A. W. Fite, of Cartersville, was in Atlanta yesterday. In reference to the publication of a news item from Calhoun about his sentencing a negro to the chaingang for twenty years after the case had been remanded to his court by the court of appeals, Judge Fite said:

"The statement of the case as contained in Sunday's Constitution does an injustice to the court and to the jury. I stand by my action in the case, and as long as I am on the bench all such criminals will always get the extreme penalty of the law where the victims are of good repute, honest and virtuous."

NEGROES START RIOT WHEN OUT ON STRIKE

Wilmington, N. C., March 11.—One hundred and fifty negro laborers at the local fertilizer plant of the American Agricultural Chemical Company, went on strike today over some differences as to working conditions, and when their places were filled in the factory by an organized gang of stevedores taken from another work, leaders of the strikers flourished pistols and frightened some of the number away. A sheriff's posse was sent to the factory, and three arrests were made for carrying concealed weapons.

J. H. MATHER MAY BUILD MUNICIPAL PLANT HERE

Councilman C. C. Mason is in receipt of a letter from J. H. Mather, of New York, in which the writer asks if Atlanta will agree to have a municipal electric lighting power plant built with private capital.

Councilman Mason will submit the communication to the electric light committee of council for consideration.

THE RECALL GETS BUSY IN OAKLAND, CALIFORNIA

Oakland, Cal., March 11.—Resolutions demanding the recall of Mayor Mott and the entire city administration were indorsed at a socialist meeting here today.

Seven reasons were stated in the petition for the recall of Mott and his subordinate. Among them were charges that the water front had been turned over to corporate interests and that contracts for work on the new city hall, amounting to $800,000, had been let illegally.

Game Proved Fatal.

Garyville, La., March 11.—While playing "highwayman" and "victim," Oscar Schexnsidre, aged 16, was shot and killed here yesterday by his brother Samuel, aged 22, scuffling over the possession of a revolver. The slayer was held pending the verdict of the coroner's jury.

Cleveland, Ohio, March 11.—Fearing that she was losing her husband's love because of her long illness, Mrs. Katherine Buckholzer, 35, shot and killed Andrew Buckholzer, 28, with a rifle today and then killed herself by cutting her throat.

ATLANTA LEADS INSURANCE RACE

"City Promises to Win Business Marathon," Says Hervey Laird.

"Atlanta has taken a good lead in the race for insurance honors in the south," says Hervey W. Laird, deputy insurance commissioner of Alabama, who is at the Piedmont hotel, "and promises to win out in what is now certain to be a Marathon of far-reaching business importance. Money has lost, in the passing of time, none of its ability to make the mare go, and insurance organizations gather money as a tree its sustenance, from a wide territory, centering it in the cities fortunate enough to be home office locations. In a word, the home offices in Atlanta bring this essential business lubricant from every corner of Dixie, and here and out from here it must be carefully and judiciously invested.

"And the importance of Atlanta just here is no less interesting than that of the state of Georgia. Outside of the capital is Columbus, with one of the oldest and best fire companies in the south; Macon, whose life and casualty organization has enjoyed wonderful success; Rome, which threatens to become, and is, a rival of Atlanta; Augusta, waking up, and Savannah quite busy. I venture that even Cracker do not realize the great asset thus grown up in your midst. Hard times hurt you little and financial ills have been avoided because of these accumulators from other sections, and the more you foster them the greater will your prosperity become. Wall street has laughed many times at threatening panics, with its hand upon millions in insurance premiums, and Baltimore, gathering from every hamlet and center, forgets that there is such a possibility as being broke.

Garcat Future Ahead.

"What is so of great centers otherwhere may become so with the Gate City of the South. Age, the proof of all fitness, is now acquired by most Georgia companies. Time has given confidence and volume of business supplied that great essential in all risk guaranty the average. With swaddling clothes has gone the time of promotion and in their places come the cold, hard principle of price in its relation to cost and the real beginning is begun. This, of course, applies to those old enterprises which are established, not the promotions now on, for too numerous for any business stability I fear. Your business men must, in good judgment, push the real, selecting it from the doubtful, and the coming years will see ever filling coffers to the upbuilding of this wonderful state and city.

"But Atlanta and Georgia must not forget that with the increment comes the responsibility always thereonto attached. There is much weakness in the Georgia laws, making it possible for things labeled 'Atlanta' and 'Georgia' to be really poor and possibly worthless. In fact, I am seriously afraid that ability to make good on everything called insurance is going to keep Georgians sitting up nights for years to come. Excessive is a weak word to apply to the sales, especially of what is known as income certificates, and many holders of stock must be mighty good waiters. This, however, is merely a tip to safety, not with any intent to discredit or discount. We are, in Alabama, authorizing practically every Georgia promotion, and, as a consequence, I call upon Atlanta and Georgia, representing my people who may buy, to see that no gold bricks or salted mines are unloaded upon us.

"I would not have the people overlook, while emphasizing the value of home development in insurance, the importance of the companies of other states in their relation to this section. Most of these maintain southern offices in this city, distributing therefrom large sums, and lending much money at low rates of interest. Business for our own enterprises will not be what we take from foreign companies, but our share of the vast increase now being developed. Ten men insure now where one did a decade ago, and from partial protection against fire, the line has gone almost always to the maximum. With favorable facilities for solicitation, southern companies are securing much larger lines than departments allow them to carry. These are reinsured in outside companies with profit to them, and the vast increase of life and property ever widens and betters the insuring field. So there is no call to selfishness, but an opportunity to co-operation and the development of our country that home men may promote and outsiders take part in with great profit.

Importance of Mortgage.

"And I would urge upon the states and the leaders in insurance the importance of the farm mortgage as a safe security and a country developer. Intrenched, as it is, behind the ever increasing value of our southern soils, it is sure, but there is that additional value of helping those who just now need cheap money. When we consider his banking handicaps, the farmer of the south has shown remarkable business ability. Our city men get 5 and 6 per cent money, while he must pay 10 and even 20 per cent for his. An 8 per cent net loan is rare in the country, and all of us known how hard it is to pay even this rate and come out at it. Extended investment in first mortgages would, therefore, be good business for all our insurance companies, because, with safety, they combine opportunity for country development and prosperity and where people prosper they buy more insurance as well as more clothes and luxuries. The Iowa land owner is no better business man than the Georgia or Alabama land owner, but with 5 and 6 per cent money, the former has had for years the sinews of agricultural as well as national warfare, and has used them to good advantage, as our own will if there is a consistent and adequate supply. In the hands of our insurance companies is this, the opportunity, the profitable opportunity, to aid the farmers, and when they are doing well the cities need not worry. Our land owners are prospering in spite of high rates of interest; what could we not expect of them if they had an even break with the merchant and the manufacturer? With the Alabama department of insurance the first mortgage is a favorite. Mr. Brown, the commissioner, agrees with me fully that we can render no greater service to our people than to encourage investments based on the vast richnesses of southern land. E."

LANKFORD URGED TO GET IN CONGRESSIONAL RACE

Douglas, Ga., March 11.—(Special.)—The friends of W. C. Lankford, judge of the city court of Douglas, are urging him to become a candidate for congress to succeed W. G. Brantley, who recently announced his intention to retire. When seen about the matter, Judge Lankford admitted that he is being strongly urged to make the race, but would say nothing definite at this time. It is believed that he will be a candidate, and that he will announce in a few weeks.

To Probe Indian Office.

Washington, March 11.—Congressional investigation into affairs of the Indian office during the administrations of Roosevelt and Taft was practically decided upon today by the house committee on interior department expenditures. The agreement was inspired by recent disclosures in the white earth investigation in Minnesota.

MISS WILLINGHAM WILL BE HARLEM POSTMASTER

Harlem, Ga., March 11.—(Special.)—The situation in the postoffice affair here has taken on a new turn today. Mrs. McMillin decided to make no further effort toward retaining the office, and the friends of Miss Lily Willingham prevailed upon her to enter the contest for the position.

A canvas today showed that the people of Harlem are almost unanimous in favor of Miss Willingham for the position. Out of the ninety-nine white homes of the town, seventy-seven signed her petition gladly. Eight homes could not be seen on account of absence, and seven refused to sign on account of business interests, but personally wished her success. Only seven representative homes refused to sign her petition on account of being in favor of Mrs. McCord. It is believed that both Mrs. McMillin and Mrs. McCord will withdraw from the contest in favor of Miss Willingham, as the town, young and old, white and colored, is practically unanimous in favor of the young lady.

Miss Willingham is a young lady of exceptionally fine character; has made a model assistant postmistress; is well up on the work of the office, and is justly entitled to the position, being in line of promotion. She is an orphan girl, and needs the position.

AMERICAN MACHINIST EDITOR IN ATLANTA

Ethan Viall, associate editor of The American Machinist, New York, is stopping for a few days at the Piedmont. Mr. Viall is making a tour of the principal southern cities, gathering material for a series of articles on the shops and mechanical features to be found in them.

He has already visited Richmond, Charleston, Savannah, Augusta and Macon, obtaining much valuable material for his paper, and he has so far found Atlanta unusually rich in material for his special field.

"VICE COMMISSION" UP TO POLICE COMMITTEE

The police committee has been asked by council to report on a petition asking that a vice commission be created to eradicate the "social evil."

A petition for such a commission was presented to council by the executive committee of the Men and Religion Forward Movement and it was approved by thirty organizations and societies of ministers, women's clubs and charitable institutions.

Accompanying the petition was a resolution, offered by Alderman Van-Dyke, calling for the appointment of a vice commission consisting of fifteen members, two aldermen, three councilmen and ten citizens.

The whole matter was unanimously referred to the police committee without any discussion.

The resolution offered for the creation of a vice commission was as follows:

"Whereas, a request has been made to the mayor and city council of Atlanta by citizens of Atlanta for the appointment of a commission to study the subject of the social evil in the city of Atlanta with a view to its suppression,

"Be it resolved by the mayor and general council of the city of Atlanta, that the mayor of the city of Atlanta is requested to appoint a commission which shall consist of fifteen members, two aldermen, three councilmen and ten citizens of Atlanta to be known as the 'vice commission,' whose duty shall be to inquire into conditions existing within the limits of the city of Atlanta with reference to the social evil and transmit to the mayor and city council a written report of existing conditions as they may be found respecting the social evil with such recommendations as the commission shall deem advisable for the suppression thereof within such time as the mayor shall direct.

"Be it further resolved that the mayor shall appoint a chairman of the commission from among its members who shall call meetings of the commission whenever he may see fit and whenever he may be requested in writing so to do by any three members of the commission."

Like Comfort?

Then what's the use of breaking down your vigor when there's a way to make and keep your daily life comfortable?

Most persons need all the vitality they can secure. Some have an excess and proceed to destroy it with one or more of the sedative drugs—among the most common of which are coffee and tea. They could use that vigor to "get ahead" in business or whatever pursuit they are engaged in, but, strange to say, many prefer to nullify it with drugs.

However, each one must make choice and pay the bill.

The one who can cut out coffee and tea when they are known to cause sleepless nights and nervous troubles will surely win the laurels.

The change from coffee or tea and their aches and ills to well-made with health and comfort, is really quite easy.

Postum has a dark brown color which changes to rich, golden brown when cream is added, and the snappy, distinctive flavour (when made according to directions) is very like the mild, high grades of Java coffee.

The change brings refreshing sleep, drives out the coffee and tea troubles and the old condition of health and comfort returns.

INSOMNIA

Leads to Madness, if not Remedied in Time.

"Experiments satisfied me, some 5 years ago," writes a Topeka woman, "that coffee was the direct cause of the insomnia from which I suffered terribly, as well as the extreme nervousness and acute dyspepsia which made life a most painful thing for me.

"I had been a coffee-drinker since childhood, and did not like to think that the beverage was doing me all this harm. (Tea is just as harmful because it contains caffeine, the same drug found in coffee.) But it was, and the time came when I had to face the fact, and protect myself. I therefore gave it up, abruptly and absolutely, and adopted Postum for my hot drink at meals.

"I began to note improvement in my condition very soon after I took on Postum. The change proceeded gradually, but surely, and it was a matter of only a few weeks before I found myself entirely relieved. The nervousness passed away, my digestive apparatus was restored to normal efficiency, and I began to sleep restfully and peacefully.

"These happy conditions have continued and I am safe in saying that I owe them entirely to Postum, for when I began to drink it I ceased to use medicines." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

There's really no joy and comfort on earth quite so satisfying as the perfect poise of mind and body—generally yours for the taking.

Dandy Doughnuts

Swift's Silver-Leaf Lard

Doughnuts need not be grease soaked, tough, indigestible. Look to the shortening you use and the frying fat. Swift's Silver-Leaf Lard is best for both uses. It is the secret of doughnut success. Use it and you will have the satisfaction of having your friends say, "Delicious, I must try your recipe."

For doughnuts that melt in your mouth, try this recipe.

1 cup sugar; 2½ teaspoonsful Swift's Silver-Leaf Lard; 3 eggs; 1 cup milk; 4 teaspoons baking powder; ¼ teaspoon cinnamon; ¼ teaspoon grated nutmeg; 1½ teaspoon salt.

Cream lard and add ½ of sugar. Beat egg until light, add remaining sugar, combine the two mixtures. Add 3½ cups flour, baking powder, salt and spices and enough more flour to make a dough just stiff enough to roll. Roll, cut out and fry in deep fat (Swift's Silver-Leaf Lard.) Drain on brown paper.

Use Swift's Silver-Leaf Lard and have tasty pastry.

CRACKERS ASSUME SOME FORM

Whiffs

Will It Stop Him.

CHARLIE LEE, the local featherweight, has all the earmarks of a comer. The question that arises now is, will the lacing that Greek Hector gave him Saturday night stop his career, or will it make him all the better, teaching him experience and caution. Lee has been winning his bouts too easily. When he stacked up against Hector, he met an experienced boxer, a fox, who taunted him during the first round, then made him leave himself uncovered, only to give him an unmerciful lacing later on.

Still a Mystery.

RUDE KREIDER, Georgia's white hope, is still the man of mystery. He is slated to box Jack McDermoot before Staten's club Saturday night and maybe after that bout he will tell the fans who he really it. The sporting editor is in receipt of a letter from "Doc" Satterfield, manager of the Oostanaula Athletic Club, of Rome, asking him to arrange a match between Kreider and some good boy for his club. McDermoot is a man who will make Kreider step lively to win.

The Mean Old Man.

OLD JUPE, the mean old gent, had to butt into the festivities again Monday. He turned his watering pots upside down and let a little more sky juice trickle this way, as if we had not enough all ready. Sunday it looked like Old Sol would win the mattle, but J. P. conquered again and Managers Wolverton and Hemphill are his sworn enemies now. Sol's popularity with them is also greatly diminished. "He quit cold," is the way they speak of him in reference to his duel with J. P.

Prospects Poor.

TECH AND GEORGIA are both complaining this year over the poor prospects for their ball clubs. With Georgia, it is a case of light hitters. With Tech, poor pitchers. Both have just cause to complain, too, it would seem. In addition to the scarcity of pitchers, the Jackets have been struck a cruel blow. The faculty has barred seven members of the club from participation in the games this year, because of deficiency in studies.

Game to Core.

ATLANTA SOCCERS must be awarded the palm for sheer gameness in the face of adversity. To them is due the credit for establishing soccer football in the south. To keep it going they have paid out their own good money. In the game with Auburn on Saturday, they lost $40, being shy that much from the guarantee they were to give the Auburn boys. Every man on the club paid his pro rata share without a murmur. For pure unadulterated sportsmanship, that takes the prize.

Asks Fair Show.

MAJOR DIXON, member of the state boxing commission of New York, is evidently one true sportsman. He asks that the state give boxing a fair show, that the governor and other high officials visit the clubs and witness the bouts before they take any action. Major Dixon contends that the game is being put on a high level in New York state and is worthy of a fair trial before it is again relegated to the discard.

Game Is Growing.

THE LAWMAKERS at the national capitol will in the near future have the pleasure of witnessing first class bouts, if the plans of the promoters materialize. They intend erecting a large ampitheater just across the line in the state of Maryland, where they will conduct a weekly carnival. Boxing will not be the only sport on the program. Wrestling and athletics will also be engaged in.

New Florida Champ.

GIL NICHOLS, of Wilmington, Del., is the new golf champion of the state of Florida, the great professional winning the honors Friday over such players as Tom McNamara, Freddie McLeod and Tom Anderson. Alex Smith, the former Atlanta professional, was the former holder of the Florida title.

Barr for Place.

JOE JACKSON, the great slugger of the Cleveland Naps, is touting Hyder Barr, former Cracker, as the regular first baseman of the Cleveland Naps during the 1912 campaign. "Hal Chase is the only first baseman who has anything on Barr," says Jackson. "Hyder and I have been playing in New Orleans together, and I know what he can do. He is in the greatest trim of his career and will surely stick." Ed Hohnhorst, also a former Cracker, is the man who will battle Barr for his place.

Would Be Pitcher.

JACK ADAMS, the star catcher of the 1911 Memphis team, would turn pitcher. It is said that the big backstop is going to request Manager Harry Davis, of the Cleveland Naps, for a chance as a member of the hurling staff. Before branching out as a catcher, Adams was a pitcher, and he wants to return to his first love.

Another Doyle.

RECRUIT ORR, secured by the Cubs from the Union Association, is being touted for the regular third base berth. Manager Chance is highly pleased with his new recruit and in him the Cubs believe they have a man who can take the place of the late Jimmy Doyle.

Practice Hours.

For the interest of those fans who may wish to go to Ponce de Leon park to see either the New York or Atlanta teams practice the practice hours are given herewith:

Atlanta: 9 to 10:30 a. m., 12:30 to 2:30 p. m.

New York: 10:30 to 12:30, 2:30 to 4:30.

BASEBALL TRUST MAY BE PROBED

Resolution Ordering Investigation Is Before House.

Gallagher Says Baseball Trust Is Most Audacious and Autocratic Trust in the Country. Baseball Magnates Are Not Afraid of Investigation.

Washington, D. C., March 11.—Congressional investigation of the baseball trust, the "most audacious and autocratic trust in the country" was proposed in a resolution introduced by Representative Gallagher, of Illinois, today. The measure would create a special committee of seven representatives to inquire of the department of justice "what steps have been taken against the baseball trust as against other illegal combinations," to subpoena witnesses and employ assistants. It accused the "baseball trust" of presuming "to control the baseball game, it's officials announcing daily through the press the dictates of the governing commission how competition is stifled, territory and games apportioned, how men are enslaved and forced to accept salaries and terms or be forever barred from playing."

Mr. Gallegher said the department of justice knew there was such a trust under the law.

No Trust Says Ban Johnson.

Chicago, March 11.—When informed of the Gallagher resolution, President B. B. Johnson, of the American League, said:

"We would be glad to have an investigation. There is no baseball trust and competition is not stifled. Anyone who desires is welcome to get into the game.

"So far as men being enslaved is concerned, a large number of the players are drawing salaries in excess of what is paid to congressmen. That does not look much like enslavement."

President T. M. Chivington, of the American Association, said:

"Any resolution of that sort presented to congress must be based on lack of information of the extent, purpose and operation of what is known as organized baseball. As a matter of fact there is no violation of federal, state or municipal law in the operation of organized baseball."

Just a Joke, Says Herrmann.

Cincinnati, Ohio, March 11.—Congressman Gallagher's resolution for an investigation of the so-called baseball trust was characterized as a joke today by August Herrmann, president of the national baseball commission.

"I don't know what he means," said Herrmann, "unless it is a joke. There is no baseball trust, and from the nature of the game, there never can be. The commission does not fix prices. Different prices are charged in different cities. There can be an investigation at any time without any objection from the national commission."

Powers Stands From Under.

Chicago, March 11.—John T. Powers, president of the Columbian Baseball League, which has planned to put ball teams in a number of cities where the major leagues play, declared he had not taken any part in causing the presentation of the Gallagher resolution.

"We have not clashed with the officials of organized baseball," said Mr. Powers. "We expect to enter the field in a number of cities and I do not expect any strong attempt to bar us out. I had nothing to do with the presentation of the resolution and do not wish to discuss it at this time."

Let Them Probe, Says Lynch.

New York, March 11.—"So far as the National League of Baseball Clubs is concerned, we invite an investigation," said Thomas J. Lynch, president of the league, when told that Representative Gallagher had introduced a resolution for an investigation of the "baseball trust." He said:

"There is absolutely nothing savoring of a trust in our league. We do not in any manner stifle or attempt to stifle competition. I indorse everything that Ban B. Jhnson, president of the American League, says, and especially his words concerning the 'enslaved' players. In fact, I will add to it slightly by saying that not alone do some of the players receive more money for their work than congressmen, but more than the average business man earns.

"We welcome any man of ability who desires to get into the game, especially college boys. Let the investigation of the National League proceed. We have nothing to fear."

SPEEDY BRITON BOXES MOORE

Owen Moran, the great little British lightweight, will meet Pal Moore, the Philadelphia whirlwind, at New York tonight before the Fairmount Athletic club.

This will probably be the feature bout of the week's scraps. Moran is very anxious to win, and will then take on some of the other good boys, planning a campaign to eliminate all the lightweights before taking on the champion, Ad Wolgast.

But in Moore he will find a willing scrap and a boy who will make him extend himself all the way.

STALLINGS' "BISONS" TO TRAIN AT HADDOCK

Athens, Ga., March 11.—(Special.)—Georgia Stallings, now manager of Buffalo, will likely have an opportunity of seeing the Yankees, his old club, at work here the latter part of this month—when New York will be in Athens March 23, for the first game which Frank Anderson's Red and Black nine will play.

Stallings will be in Athens this week from his big farm at Haddock's, near Macon. Next Sunday his men will begin to arrive for three weeks' training. Those who are booked to report to Manager Stallings here next week are: Pitchers Bruckmiller, Beebe, Brockett, Merrill, Jameson, Stroud, Baxter, Corridon, Wright and Burns; Catchers Mitchell, Smith, McAlister and Schang; First Basemen Beck and Newman; Second Baseman Truesdale; Shortstops Lehr and Pugh; Third Basemen Williams, Wraten and Turner; Outfielders Murray, McCabe, Duncan, White, Anderson and Gilmore.

Crackers Get in Good Workout; Twenty-Four Have Reported; Five New Arrivals on Monday

BY DICK JEMISON.

The Cracker candidates who have reported, twenty-four in number, got in an excellent workout Monday afternoon between the hours of 12:30 and 2:30, beating the rain of the afternoon just a few minutes.

Batting, fielding and pitching practice were divided by all the players on the squad. Every man was in the practice from the time he got on the field until the mogul called time and sent them scampering around the field for a little wind.

A short workout was held during the morning, but it was not as strenuous as that afternoon workout. Considering the condition of the field, and it is in horrible shape, the work in fielding was fast.

New Arrivals.

By nightfall Monday, five more players had reported. Infielder D. A. Howard, Pitcher George Paige and Catcher Phil Wells, of last year's team; Infielder Howard Wolfe, a semi-pro from Cleveland, Ohio, and Catcher Harvey Russell, from Bridgeport in the Connecticut State League, were the men.

The men now unaccounted for number seven. They are all expected to report here on most any train now. Those who have not arrived are:

Infielder C. A. "Whitey" Alperman, the veteran from Rochester; Infielder Al O'Dell, of last year's club; Outfielder Harry Bailey, with Newark in 1911; Pitcher Martin Walsh, younger brother of "Big" Ed Walsh, of the White Sox; First Baseman Phelan, with Macon in the Sally League last year; Catcher Gould Menafee, with Charleston in the Sally League in 1911, and Infielder Harry Warner, the Laurel, Md., semi-pro.

Catcher Sam Mayer does not belong to the Atlanta club, as was at first reported. The local club thought so at first, but it develops that the Chicago White Sox had put in a draft for him. He played with them on Sunday and the papers speak of his work as being the feature of the game.

All the Atlanta bunch needs now to round into shape and give their manager an idea of just who's who is a few days of sunshine. At that, some of the players are in excellent shape now.

O'Brien Looks Good.

It is going to take a large sized crowbar to pry Pete O'Brien, the veteran shortstopper, loose from that shortfield job. He is cavorting around there in midseason form right now. His rheumatism, which kept him out of the game most of last season, has entirely disappeared and it begins to look like "good night" for the rest of the shortfield candidates. And he can sting that ball, too.

If O'Brien really is the successful man at the short station, he and Otto Jordan are going to make a combination around the keystone that will take their hats off to none of them in this league. O'Brien to Jordan to Sykes will be a familiar play.

Herbert Joynes and Howard Wolfe, the two young semi-pro infielders, looked pretty good for their first day out. Joynes looked better than Wolfe, but first day impressions of players change the majority of times after the players get more seasoned.

"Old Eagle Eye" Hemphill had his eye on that ball and was poling them up to that right field sign consistently, besides showing some speed traveling from the plate to first and got everything that was batted his way in practice. He will make this league take a lot of notice this season.

Sykes Improved.

Earl Sykes is a muchly improved player over last year. He is in grand shape right now. The big first sacker expects to have a great year and all indications point that he will. Sykes stands up to the plate better than he used to. His swing is more free and there is none of that old indecision in his manner.

Captain Jordan is also hitting much better. He has apparently adopted a different style and it is accomplishing results. He is the same old bear when it comes to fielding around that keystone. Nuf sed.

The more one sees of this big John Kerr the better he looks. He had his whip tuned up a trifle on Monday and was winging them a bit to the sacks. And how he stings that pill.

The infield that lined up for fielding practice after the batting was Howard on third, O'Brien on short, Jordan on second and Sykes on first. Kerr, Russell and Wells took turns behind the plate. Didn't look like it was only March either.

Pitchers Britton, Sitton, Atkins and Miller all look to be a trifle overweight, but it does not seem to disagree with any of them. None of it is fat, but just the winter surplus occasioned by no exercise during that time.

All in all, the club is beginning to assume the aspect of being a real ball club. By the end of the week everything should be rosy. In fact, we were very agreeably surprised that the prospects appear to be as bright as they really are.

Those Here.

Here are the players who are now here:

Pitchers Johns, Miller, Britton, Atkins, Sitton, Mayer, Revelle, Hogue, Dessau, Gentle and Paige.

Catchers Kerr, Wells, Luck, Russell and McMurray.

Infielders Jordan, Sykes, O'Brien, Wolfe, Howard and Joynes.

Outfielders Hemphill and Watson.

Frank Whitney and Eddie Smith In Great Shape For Tonight's Mill

Tonight's Card.

Frank Whitney v. Eddie Smith, ten rounds.

Larry Ryan v. Jimmy Murrell, ten rounds.

Spider Britt v. Young Allen, four rounds.

Arthur Worthy v. Billy Hooper, six rounds.

This is the excellent card that the Gate City Athletic club has booked for their stag at their club house, 36 James street, tonight. It certainly stacks up as just about as good a card as they have yet staged.

The main bout between those two sterling lightweights, Eddie Smith, of New York, and Frank Whitney, of Chicago, should stack up as just about the best lightweight scrap ever staged here, an even better mill than the Whitney-Hayes go last week, and the fans who saw that scrap are a unit in declaring that it was "the goods."

In addition to the honor to be gained by licking one another and the step towards the top of the ladder which it means, the winner will gain the honor of meeting Battling Nelson before the same club in a few weeks.

Smith Rugged.

Whitney needs no introduction to local fans. Smith is new to local fans. But he's a "bear." None of the top-notchers around Gotham want any of his game. He's rugged, can stand a world of punishment and what's more, he is able to stand up and give it to the other fellow.

Whitney surprised his supporters by the way he was able to swap punches with Hayes last week, so they are certain that Smith will have his hands full in the punch-swapping direction.

The semi-windup will be a good card, too, between a couple of middleweights who can hit. Jimmy Murrell, who is touted as a boy that is rapidly coming to the front, is to be stacked up against Battling Larry Ryan, a more experienced boxed.

But Murrell will not suffer by comparison with Ryan. In fact, it looks like the two lads are about a stand-off, and it will be a gruelling mill.

Good Opener.

Spider Britt and Young Allen will furnish one of the preliminaries, a four-round contest that should be fast.

To open the card, a negro bout has been staged, over the six-round route, between Arthur Worthy and Billy Hooper. These two pugs battled at the Gate City a couple of weeks ago. Every fan left the hall pronouncing it the best bout on the bill.

Both Hooper and Worthy are experienced and an even match. In fact, they are so evenly matched that they make probably the best bout that has ever been staged here.

The festivities start at 8:30 o'clock. Tickets can be found on sale at the club rooms.

ATTELL TRIED TO "FIX" FIGHT

Tommy Murphy's Manager Claims He Wanted "Fake" Knockout.

San Francisco, March 11.—The Call today prints an account of an alleged proposal for a "fake" knockout said to have been made by Abe Attell to "Harlem Tommy" Murphy last Saturday before their twenty-round fight.

Attell denies the accusation.

According to James Buckley, Murphy's manager, as he is quoted in The Call, the first suggestion as to "fixing" the fight was made by Attell February 26. He was not told positively that no agreement would be made, it is alleged.

"Another meeting was arranged," says the newspaper account, "and this time Murphy accompanied his manager. Murphy was asked if he would agee to fall to the mat after receiving a certain blow and pretend to be unable to rise. He said he refused.

"Last Wednesday or Thursday night, in response to a telephone message, Buckley met Attell and again listened to the fighter's proposition.

"Attell approached Buckley again just before the men went into the ring. Buckley was called from Murphy's dressing room by Attell and asked if the Harlem boy was ready to play the part Attell wished to assign to him. Buckley says that even then he did not give a definite answer and that at no time had Attell received a definite reply."

BURNS-KENDRICK BOUT FOR THURSDAY NIGHT

New Orleans, La., March 11.—On account of inclement weather the fight scheduled for tonight between Frankie Burns, of Jersey City, and Jem Kendrick, of England, before the Orleans Athletic Club, was postponed until Thursday night.

Yanks Unable to Have Game; Weather Is Bad

The five-inning game between the Yankee regulars and Colts had to be deferred by Manager Harry Wolverton yesterday, both at the morning and afternoon sessions of practice, a drizzling rain both times the Yankees took the field preventing.

Wolverton had planned sending the Yankees into action in two teams for five-inning sessions, the line-ups to be as follows:

It will be noticed that the Veteran line-up has colt battery mates, while the Colt line-up has veteran batteries. This is to even the contests up more. Weather permitting the delayed games will be played at the practice sessions today.

Fight for Places.

During this week the fight will be on in earnest for the different positions on the club. As matters now stand, there seems to be very little chance for any of the youngsters in the infield, with the exception of third base, while Cree and Wolter are sure of their jobs in the outfield. That leaves right field to be battled for between Daniels, Osborne, Zinn and Kauff.

For third base, Manager Wolverton has himself, Dolan and Coleman. Wolverton will not select himself until he has looked over everyone else. If he believes he can beat the article of ball the new men are showing he'll step into the gap, and the veteran can field and hit 'em a few yet.

The game ankle of Catchet Appleby, the first man to need the attention of Trainer Mulachy, is not as serious as was at first thought. He attended the Monday practices, and while he limped a little, he was able to get around quite lively for a cripple.

LABOR UNIONS BOYCOTT CLUB

For Employment of Non-Union Painters—Nunnally Denies Responsibility.

The Atlanta Federation of Labor has boycotted the Atlanta Baseball Association because the latter placed the job of repainting the stands at Ponce de Leon park in the hands of non-union painters.

As there are about 10,000 union men in Atlanta, and as the boycott against the Atlanta team will apply to the out-of-town games as well, the aspect is serious. The federation did not vote to fine the men if they attended the games, but put it in the nature of a request.

Vice President Charles Nunnally, of the baseball association, when seen regarding the matter said:

"The Atlanta Baseball Association did not employ non-union men to repaint the stands at Ponce de Leon. The owners of the park, the Georgia Railway and Electric Company, have not turned the park over to us as yet. As it is strictly up to them to keep it in repair, they sent their own men out to do the painting.

"We cannot see where the federation can consider us responsible for such an action. We have tried to explain to them that if non-union men were used on the job it was no fault of the baseball association."

Mr. Nunnally also took the matter up with President Karston, of the federation, in which he expressed his personal hope that the matter can be amicably settled, pointing to the fact that he personally employs 500 union members and considers himself a friend of labor, the letter being practically verbatim the same as the statement above.

CITY LEAGUE MEETS WEDNESDAY

The City League will hold another meeting Wednesday night at the College Co-Op store on Peachtree street for the purpose of perfecting their organization for the coming season.

Six teams are in the league at present, the Georgia Railway, Southern shops, Southern Bell, Marist College and White Caps. The A., B. & A., and the Inman Yards teams are requested to be at the meeting. Other strong teams are invited to attend.

AMERICUS AND ROLLER WIN WRESTLING BOUTS

Boston, Mass., March 11.—Young Americus, of Baltimore, won from Van Trojen, of Holland, and Dr. Roller, of Seattle, defeated Roos, of Switzerland, in a series of wrestling matches here tonight. Both the victors won in straight falls, Americus in 18 minutes 25 seconds, and 8 minutes 15 seconds, with body and scissors holds, and Roller with a hammerlock crotch and a front Nelson, respectively, in 14 minutes 10 seconds, and 3 minutes 55 seconds.

Lookouts Are Reporting.

Chattanooga, Tenn., March 11.—(Special.)—Sunday night and Monday trains brought a rush of locals into camp. Twenty players are now here, those absent being Pitchers Keith, Mercer and Chappelle and Shortstop Balenti. The first exhibition game will be played Saturday with a local amateur team. Regular morning and afternoon practice has been started.

MICHAEL FINN HAS TAKEN HOLD

Mobile, Ala., March 11.—Manager Michael Finn, of the Mobile Southern League club, accompanied by Charles Starr, formerly of Buffalo, who will captain the team, and Pitcher Ross, of Arkansas, arrived in Mobile today and the former assumed charge of the team. Shortstop Joe Kneavos is already on the job.

Outfielder Buddy Ryan, of the Cleveland American League team, arrived today, which completes the number of men to report here, with the exception of Pitcher Van Gregg.

Brown v. Erne.

A splendid lightweight mill is scheduled for Philadelphia on Wednesday night. Knockout Brown and Young Erne will be the contestants. They meet before the National Athletic club.

AL KUBIAK VICTOR OVER FRANK MORAN

Albany, N. Y., March 11.—Al Kubiak beat Frank Moran, the Pittsburg heavyweight, in a ten-round bout here tonight. Kubiak won every round by a wide margin, and in the eighth the bell saved Moran from a knockout.

TWELVE MEN REPORT TO THE MEMPHIS CLUB

Memphis, Tenn., March 11.—(Special.)—With the arrival today of First Baseman Miller, of last year's team; Netzel, third baseman secured from Spokane; Kerr, outfielder, from Trenton, twelve members of the Memphis team are in camp. Red Elm park more resembled a lake than a ball park for the first scheduled practice today. It is doubtful if any work can be done for several days.

Little Items of Georgia Cities

Court at Marietta.

Marietta, Ga., March 11.—(Special.)—The Cobb county superior court met this morning at 10 o'clock and will continue two weeks. The case of Celia Thomas, charged with the killing of young Johnson last October, will come up for trial. She was convicted last fall, but obtained a new trial. John Barnes, of Marietta, is foreman of the grand jury, which is a body of good men.

Returns to LaGrange.

LaGrange, Ga., March 11.—(Special.) After a five weeks' trip through the Caribbean sea and touching at Cuban, Porto Rican, Venezuelan and Central American ports, Hon. F. E. Callaway, ex-railroad commissioner, has returned home. Mr. Callaway made the trip purely for pleasure, and to investigate the work of government in the canal zone.

Reporter in New Hands.

LaGrange, Ga., March 11.—(Special.) The LaGrange Reporter is now being edited and managed jointly by J. A. Perry, of this city, and Mrs. L. H. Jenkins, formerly of The Athens (Ga.) Banner. The paper is brighter and newsier than ever and is being given considerable local encouragement. It is expected that a sale of the plant will soon be effected to some outside party. J. H. Burton, formerly associate editor of The Reporter, of this city, has accepted a position as editor of The Dawson News.

Rain Retards Farm Work.

Sandersville, Ga., March 11.—(Special.)—The farmers are about two months behind with their plowing because of the recent continued wet weather. Many have never chopped down last year's cotton stalks or even broke the land for the first time.

$10,000 School Building.

Sandersville, Ga., March 11.—(Special.)—The new $10,000 school building is nearing completion. This, in addition to the present building, will give Sandersville High school a capacity of over 500 pupils. The new building will be steam heated.

The Round of Booms.

"Now I know why all these new office buildings are going up," said a New York visitor in Washington. "They are intended to shelter the presidential booms. An old man who has been a clerk in the state department since the civil war told me that Washington has never harbored to many political headquarters, so far as he remembers. I started out bright and early this morning to visit the various headquarters, but I am only half around and I am too tired to keep on going. I have inspected the Taft, the Roosevelt, the Harmon, the Wilson, and have had to pass up the Clark, the La Follette, the Underwood, the Kern and the others until I can get rested up. It's too much of a trip for one day."

Is There Money in the Air?

Writing under this title in the issue of Harper's Weekly for March 9 Albert S. Levino discusses the commercial possibilities of the aeroplane, this article being the second of a series of three which are devoted to this subject. The failure of the aviation exhibition is considered by the author to have worked good rather than harm. "Conservative and far-seeing manufacturers," he writes, "have written taboo on these circus feats for aviation, whose vagaries have bred recklessness by the airmen, consequent loss of life, publicity injurious to the industry, and between $1,000 and $8,000 loss every time an aeroplane was smashed." There must be a national development of the flying machine along sound business lines. "There is, indeed, money in the air, but it will be earned by those who heed the lessons of the motor car industry, to which the aeroplane already owes so much."

REAL ESTATE AND RENTING.

WE WANT A PURCHASER.

WE have a tract of 40 acres facing over a thousand feet on Peachtree Road, running back eighteen hundred feet, that we can sell at a bargain. We can sell the frontage off for enough to pay for the whole tract and make you a fortune out of the rest of the tract. It takes some money to handle it, but we can get it back in short time. See Mr. White.

BAKER STREET AT PEACHTREE.

HERE is a property about 150 feet of Peachtree, with brick house, renting for $1,080 per year, for $16,000. It will only be a few days until you will wish that you had bought this place. Something is going to happen here. Come by and we will tell you about it. Remember this is an important corner—Peachtree, West Peachtree and Baker streets all meet here, and they are all heavyweights. But there is something else. Come by and we will tell you about it. See [illegible] Grant.

BUSINESS PROPERTY—Three-story brick building, 46x150, on Garnett street, right at new freight depot. Lot 55x191 feet. Leased to good tenant and in the coming business district of Atlanta. If you want gilt-edge store property this is your chance. First time present owner has offered to sell.

$12,500—Whitehall street, 2-story, 14-room house, on lot 60x295 feet. Rented for $50 per month. If you buy this you are bound to make a good profit.

78 ACRES, with nearly half mile paved road frontage in North Fulton for $6,300; 12½ miles north of Atlanta, and a very fine elevation. Beautiful building sites and oak timber on road. Three large springs, good orchard and two cottages. One-half in cultivation, balance in timber and pasture. This will cost you $100 per acre if not bought before March 15. We have a short option which expires on that date. Best acreage buy in the county. Terms $1,700 cash.

A FORTUNE FOR YOU.

WE OFFER in the center of Buckhead a triangular lot fronting 430 feet on Roswell Road, 425 feet on Peachtree Road. This lot is to Buckhead what our Five Points are to Atlanta—the Hub. With the handsome country homes going up in that section, and Buckhead to be made into the Town Beautiful, we consider this as good a buy as Central Real Estate, as it is the key to the natural expansion of this little town—the Five Points of Atlanta made to order. A property that traffic from Cobb, DeKalb, Milton and Gwinnett counties must pass to enter Atlanta. Look at it then. Think of the little lot at Five Points in Atlanta that could have been bought for practically nothing when Atlanta was a small town. It would bring a fortune today if put on the market. Price $25,000. Attractive terms.

ATLANTA'S STRIDES, DAY BY DAY

ALL THE NEWS OF REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING

Following the large number of big Peachtree sales which characterized the real estate market of last week, this week opened up with the announcement of two more Peachtreee sales yesterday. Henry Porter sold his property at the southwest corner of Peachtree street and Porter place yesterday afternoon for $165,000. Edgar Dunlap has sold the property adjoining the Ford garage for $63,000. Both parcels are in the block of Peachtree street between Baker and Ivy streets.

No. 309 Peachtree Sold.

George P. Moore has sold for Edgar Dunlap, to a client whose name was withheld, No. 309 Peachtree street, for $63,000, or $1,000 a front foot.

The property lies on the east side of Peachtree street, between Baker street and the junction of Peachtree and Ivy streets, running through to a frontage on Ivy street. On Peachtree street the lot has a frontage of 63 feet. The Ivy street frontage is 51½ feet. The southern line extends through from street to street 190 feet. The northern line is 155 feet. The property adjoins the Ford garage. It is improved on the Peachtree side with an old apartment house. There is a cottage on the Ivy street frontage.

Whitehall Street Theater Leased.

Wilson Brothers have leased No. 98 Whitehall street, the National theater, for W. L. Selcer, to the Holland Amusement Company, a corporation. The term is for three years, and the total consideration is $15,000.

The lessees will spend about $3,000 in remodeling the theater, thereby doubling its capacity. The house will open with a high-class vaudeville and motion picture program in about two weeks.

The lot fronts 30 feet on Whitehall street, on the east side between Mitchell and Hunter streets. The depth is 110 feet. There is a two-story building on it. The second floor of this building has also been leased for a term of three years.

Roff Sims Sells Porter Home.

Roff Sims & Co. have sold to a syndicate for the estate of Mrs. Fannie Porter the Porter home at the southwest corner of Peachtree street and Porter place for a consideration of $165,000, or a little more than $1,000 a front foot.

The property fronts 62 feet on the west side of Peachtree at the corner of Porter place, and extends a distance of 251.6 feet along the south side of Porter place. The rear line is 100.5 feet, while the depth along the south line is 221.4 feet. There is a two-story brick residence on the lot.

MONOPOLY GIVEN LEGALITY CLOAK

were not inclined to discuss the court's decision or its application to anti-trust suits. Attorney General Wickersham and Solicitor General Lehmann heard the decision and regarded it as epoch-making. Mr. Lehmann declined to make a statement, and Attorney General Wickersham was unwilling.

During the last two years the department of justice, in its prosecutions under the Sherman law, has encountered more and more the question of the rights of patentees. Some officials of the department have predicted that the anti-trust suits of the future would be fought along those lines. That question was involved in the case against the electrical trust, now settled in favor of the government, and some officials think the same question might be introduced in any anti-trust suit against any industrial combination.

Rehearing May Be Asked.

Because of the sweeping importance of the decision to the enforcement of the Sherman law, it is not improbable that a rehearing may be asked for to bring the question before a full bench of justices. Justice Day did not participate, and the vacancy caused by the death of Justice Harlan has not been filled, though Chancellor Pitney, of New Jersey, has been nominated, but not confirmed by the senate.

Foremost among the pending anti-trust suits which may be affected, are those against the United Shoe Machinery Company, the Keystone Watch Company and the so-called coaster brake trust. A score or more of investigations now under way by the department of justice, in which corporations are claiming the rights of patentees to certain monopolies and restrictions, are vitally affected.

Department of justice officials believe the decision may throw out one feature of the case against the Keystone Watch Company, relating to reselling prices. In the shoe machinery company case, in which questions of patent rights are involved, although it is admitted the company may strengthen some portions of its defenses by the decision, the department of justice regards those suits as considerably broader than the usual anti-trust suits involving patents because of the government's allegations of combination.

The Case Before the Court.

The case actually before the court concerned the right of the patentee of a rotary mimeograph to bind the purchaser of each machine to use upon it only ink which he manufactured.

The question arose as to whether the license restriction was governed by contract law, over which the state courts have jurisdiction, or whether it was controlled by the patent law, and thus within the jurisdiction of the federal courts. The New York federal court asked for instructions.

Several times the question had arisen in the federal circuit courts. Most of them had followed a leading decision announced by Justice Lurton, then a circuit judge, and known as the "button-fastener case." In that decision Judge Lurton held it was governed by patent law and consequently valid. Today he approved that decision.

One of the express reasons given by Chief Justice White for his dissent was to make it clear that if evils arise from the decision, "their continuation will not be caused by the interpretation given to the statute, but will result from the inaction of the legislative department in failing to amend the statute so as to avoid such evils."

The amendment would be some restriction on the use of a patent.

Contention of Chief Justice.

Chief Justice White first contended that the "license restriction" was a collateral contract relation, and criticised the court for "unwarrantly extending" the federal judicial power over them.

"The ruling now made," said he, "in effect, is that the patentee has the power, by contract, to extend his patent rights so as to bring within the claims of his patent things which are now embraced therein, thus virtually legislating by causing the patent laws to cover subjects to which, without the exercise of the right of contract, they could not reach; the result being not only to multiply monopolies at the will of an interested party, but also to destroy the jurisdiction of state courts over subjects which, from the beginning, have been within their authority."

The chief justice gave illustrations of what the effect of the decision might be. He declared that the court had said to the patentee selling a patented engine that he had the right, by contract, to bring under the patent laws all contracts for coal or electrical energy used to afford power to work the machine. To the buyer of a patented sewing machine, he declared it said that the patentee might require all the thread, needles, or oil used to be bought from the patentee. The patentee of a cooking utensil might require that all food cooked in it be purchased from him, or the patentee of a window frame, that all the material in a house in which the frame was to be used must be procured from him.

"My mind cannot shake off the dread of the vast extension of such practices which must come from the decision of the court," said the chief justice.

"Fanciful," Says Lurton.

Justice Lurton, in his opinion, had referred to such instances as "fanciful."

"All fail," said Justice Lurton, "because the public is always free to take or refuse the patented article on the terms imposed. If they are too onerous, or not in keeping with the benefits, the patented article will not find a market."

Still, if the case were within the patent law, Chief Justice White said he would dissent because he believed "such an extraordinary power of contract should be subject to the law of the land."

Justice Lurton had forecast that argument.

"Arguments based upon suggestions of public policy not recognized in patent law," said he, "are not relevant. The field to which we are invited by such arguments is legislative, not judicial. The decisions of this court, as we construed them, do not so limit the power granted the patentee, and we could not so restrict a patent grant without overruling a long line of judicial decisions from circuit courts and circuit courts of appeals, thus inflicting results upon individuals who have made large investments in reliance upon them."

Chief Justice White responded that the supreme court was not bound to follow the inferior courts and that the people had looked to it to correct the rulings of the lower courts which had followed the "button fastener case."

and give him a good shaking. I would do that to any troublesome boy."

Fola La Follette Present.

The suffrage meeting tonight at which the English woman took a prominent part attracted most of the suffrage advocates of this city. Among these was Fola La Follette, the daughter of the Wisconsin senator, who was there in pale blue silk, accompanied by her husband, George Middleton. Inez Haynes Gilmore, who is willing to shoulder a musket for the cause if that will help, made a speech; so did Beatrice Forbes, Robertson Hale, Harriet B. Laidlaw, Inez Milholland, conspicuous for pulchritude as well as enthusiasm; Sale American, Charlotte Perkins Gilman, Maude Nathan and a number of excellently trained menfolks, some of whom were husbands.

Mrs. Frederic C. Howe presided firmly. Mrs. Howe directed the ladies to take off their hats and said that all speeches must be limited to five minutes. She added, "When we say five minutes we mean five minutes. Mrs. Arthur Kellogg is the time keeper: when the five minutes is up she will ring and keep on ringing until the speaker retires (applause and laughter). There will be no applause to the bleachers." (Laughter.)

She Drafted Her Husband.

Nobody wanted to speak first, whereupon Mrs. Howe called on her husband, Mr. Howe immediately proceeded to riddle the idea that women don't understand politics. "Of course they don't," said he, "they never had a chance." But politics nowadays was a matter of domestic economy, he continued; a matter of food and health and well being. Give the women a chance to vote for the good of the men.

Hutchins Hapgood, the writer, declared in answering the objections that suffrage would make women less attractive that it was nonsense. Lincoln Steffens, who is up in Masachusetts settling the Lawrence strike, couldn't get back in time to say why votes for women wouldn't increase corruption, but Mrs. Steffens sent his speech with a request that it be read by Fola La Follette. It was a long speech. Mr. Steffens thought that corruption might increase a little bit for a little while, but that in time women would purify ...tics.

An Athletic Girl.

Then athletic Miss Milholland arose. She said that nine million women in America at the present day must get out and earn money or else starve. Of ... s against suffrage, the one that holds that the privilege of the ballot belongs only to those that can face the bullets is the most ridiculous.

Inez Haynes Gilmore was the next speaker. It wasn't really worth her time to discuss it, she said. The men, she declared, who contribute most to civilization are unfit physically to be soldiers.

Senator La Follette's daughter, Fola, refuted the argument that women would take the offices from the men.

ATTACK MADE ON WILEY AND THE REMSEN BOARD

Washington, March 11.—The Remsen pure food board and Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, chief of the bureau of chemistry, were criticized in the house today during discussion of the agricultural appropriation bill. The sum of $625,000, however, was permitted to stand for the continuance of the bureau and its assistants during 1913.

Representative Leever, of South Carolina, led the assault on the Remsen board. He questioned the legality of that body, and condemned its personnel as being "too highly scientific."

Representative Cooper, of Wisconsin, republican, and Republican Leader Mann, defended the board and Dr. Wiley. Representative Kahn, of California

RAINS IN SOUTH BOOSTED COTTON

Market Closec 7 to 13 Points Higher—The Tone Was Barely Steady.

New York, March 11.—Prospects for a renewal of wet weather in the eastern belt, following the more favorable conditions of yesterday, inspired an active buying movement in the cotton market this morning, and new high records were established for the season on most of the old, as well as the new crop positions. Later prices eased off under realizing, but while barely steady, the close was from 7 to 13 points net higher.

The market opened firm at an advance of 8@12 points in response to firm late cables from Liverpool and the unfavorable view of weather conditions. Realizing was heavy enough to cause some irregularity after the call, but with this morning's eastern belt forecast, indicating wet weather quite generally for the next forty-eight hours, the market soon became very active and firm on covering by local traders who had sold on the better weather reports of Saturday, support from leading bull brokers and southern buying. July contracts advanced to 10.74, or 3 points above the best price reached last month, while October sold to 10.79, or about 18 to 20 points above the closing figures of Saturday. Realizing again checked the advance around this level, and the market later in the day eased off from the best, under profit-taking and rumors that leading long lines were being reduced. Closing prices showed a reaction of about 10 points on the more active months.

The rains reported in southern advices, and the talk in local trade circles, are not regarded as unfavorable, but the prospect for continued wet weather east of the river evidently exercised a bullish effect on sentiment and the early advance was [illegible] of unfavorable labor news from abroad and heavy realizing by recent buyers.

Continued complaints of delayed farm work and small fertilizer sales were received from eastern belt sources, and the day advices, quite generally reported steadiness in the interior spot markets. Unsettled weather was considered partly responsible for lighter receipts, while the export movement continued very heavy for the season is now nearly two million bales ahead of last year to this date.

Receipts 32,541 bales, against 39,253 last week and 7,495 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 15,573, against 1,539 last year; at Galveston 4,847, against 3,508 last year, and at Houston, 8,273, against 2,626 last year.

Spot closed quiet, 20 points higher; middling uplands 10.80; middling gulf 11.05; sales (delivered on contract) 10,700 bales.

STOCKS FALL OFF LATE IN SESSION

In the Early Trading Attempts Were Made to Advance Coalers.

New York, March 11.—The stock movement today was characterized by uncertainty during the greater part of the session, but in the final dealings prices crumbled all around, with quotations not only at lowest, but generally under Saturday's low level. In the early hours of the trading attempts were made to advance some of the coalers under the lead of Lehigh Valley and Reading and a number of more obscure issues also made material gains, but the movement was so evidently of speculative origin that it failed to attract any outside support. On the other hand, it is not unlikely that the late attack upon values was largely of a bear character and had its foundation on the theory that reaction ought to follow last week's almost uninterrupted advance.

In point of face there apeared to be little on which to build the early rise. London sent over a lower range of quotations for our securities and that market, as well as all the continental exchanges, seemed to reflect increased apprehension over industrial conditions, particularly in connection with the strikes of coal miners in Great Britain and Germany and the threatening outlook in the same industry in France.

To add to the day's uncertainties, the United States supreme court held its weekly open session and adjourned for an hour just before the market closed. This gave rise to the possibility of some adverse decisions later in the day, a contingency which was not without effect on Reading, whose status in relation to its coal holdings is now before the court for final adjudication.

Railroad traffic in the west shows some improvement, but a majority of the transportation companies continue to suffer from the abnormal cold. This has caused considerably delay in freight movements and effected a resultant increase in gist of operations. It is practically a foregone conclusion that net returns of all the important roads in the west, northwest and southwest for the three months ending March 31 will be distinctly disappointing. The cold weather has also worked to the detriment of the textile manufacturers, for whose output the demand naturally will be the more belated, but prices of some cotton staples are tending higher.

Germany's demands upon this country for cash are unabated and such loans as that market may repay here at the end of the mont hare likely to be more than offset by larger borrowings. More thirty-day loans to Berlin were negotiated today at a rate, it is said, slightly better than those of last week. The local inquiry is broadening, with a slight increase for sixty and ninety-day accommodations. Bankers look for even higher rates before the end of the month, when many home settlements will have to be made.

Nothing more was heard today of the new financing which some of the railroads and industrial corporations are said to have under consideration. The relative failure of some recent offerings here and in London makes more probable the issue of usual short-eterm notes instead of bonds.

The bond market ruled steady with a fairly broad demand. Total sales, par value, aggregated $2,117,000. United States government bonds were unchanged on call.

STRENGTH SHOWN DESPITE CABLES

Wheat Bulls Were Aided by the Strength of Feeding Grains.

Chicago, March 11.—Strength in the feeding grains helped offset today for wheat speculators on the bull side the rather discouraging effect of unresponsive foreign markets. At the end of the day, after the exhibition of unusual activity, wheat varied from ¼ higher to ⅜ decline, corn showed ¼ to ¼@⅜ gain, oats were up ¼@⅜ to ¾ and hog products ran from 2½ down to 7½@10 greater in cost.

Stubbornness developed in wheat at the outset, nothwithstanding that European prices, by no means, reflected the advance scored here Saturday. Forecasts of stormy weather for the entire week made corn and oats tend to bulge and thus had indirectly a hardening effect on the wheat trade. There were also complaints from Baltimore regarding crop losses, but on all swells the longs were disposed to take profits, so that the close was irregular and comparatively deficient in firmness of tone. World shipments of wheat were 1,000,000 bushels under last week and three times that amount less than the total of a year ago. It was also an influence against the bears that the visible supply decrease turned out to be greater than expected. On the other hand, the plentiful supply of moisture west and southwest were counted upon to benefit fall sown fields. May wheat during the session fluctuated from $1.04½@1.04⅝ to $1.05⅝, with the close at the first named figures, a loss of ⅝c net.

Prospects of late spring planting aroused widespread interest in corn and resulted in a new set of high price records for the season. Realizing sales, however, on the part of the fortunate longs, took the edge off the market. May ranged between 72¼ and 73¼, closing easy, ¼ net higher, at 72⅝. Cash grades were firm. No. 2 yellow was quoted at 70@70½ for car lots.

In oats the advance was the sharpest in weeks. Shorts covered at a lively rate. Investment demand, too, at times outran the offerings. The unpromising outlook for the starting of farm work was responsible. Outside limits touched for May were 52⅜ and 54½, with last sales 53¾, an advance of ¼@⅝ over Saturday night.

Although 9,000 more hogs arrived here than had been looked for, the provision market averaged higher, because of the grain strength and on account of the favorable showing of pork and lard exports last week. The gain in no case, however, exceeded a dime.

DIRECT PRIMARY FOR PRESIDENT

Bay State Legislature Votes to Kill Convention System.

On April 30, Under Terms of Bill, Bay State Democrats and Republicans Will Express Their Preference for President at Polls.

Boston, March 11.—Presidential preference primaries on April 30 to select all delegates to the coming national political conventions practically are assured by the passage of a primary bill in the senate today, in conference with the house. Unless some unexpected change in sentiment develops, it is expected that the bill will be laid before Governor Foss for approval this week.

The bill abolishes conventions for the selection of delegates to national conventions, and the thirty-six Massachusetts delegates will go to Chicago and Baltimore knowing the preference of the voters as to presidential and vice presidential candidates.

The senate, last week, passed a bill limiting the preferential feature of primaries to district delegates, but the house amended the bill so as to include delegates-at-large. Today the senate accepted the house amendment. The only opposition came from the republicans. Democrats in the legislature expect Governor Foss to sign the bill.

CHALLENGE FOR PRIMARIES BEING THROWN AT TAFT

Washington, March 11.—A copy of Colonel Roosevelt's letter, made public today, was forwarded this morning by Senator Dixon, his manager, to Director William B. McKinley, of the Taft campaign bureau. In an accompanying note Senator Dixon asks whether Mr. McKinley's position is indorsed by President Taft, as Senator Dixon's has been by Colonel Roosevelt. The Dixon letter said:

"In view of this unqualified indorsement of my challenge of March 4, for a general primary test of the sentiment of republican voters as to their presidential candidate in the approaching campaign, I shall be glad to know whether Mr. Taft, whose personal representative you say you are, similarly indorses you in refusing that test.

"JOSEPH M. DIXON."

Instructed for Taft.

TO CALL PRIMARY FOR PRESIDENT

they can to conform to the wishes of their counties.

As to Registration.

From discussion among the members, it appears that the most desirable plan will be to use for the presidential primary, if possible, the 1912 registration lists.

The only alternative is the use of the registration lists of 1910, the last election year; but that involves a number of difficulties and complications which may make it impracticable. If the 1910 lists should be used, the committee would have to devise some plan to permit those who have qualified themselves to vote since 1910, to vote in the election; otherwise several thousand voters fully qualified, would be disfranchised, so far as this primary is concerned.

In the next place, it is pointe out that the 1912 registration list represents those who are qualified to vote in the presidential election proper; and it is generally considered that a primary should be based upon the same registration which figures in the election to which the primary refers.

Secure Lists Direct.

As The Constitution has already pointed out, if the date should be fixed too early in April to secure the completed and purged registration lists, which can hardly be had before May 1, or later, it may be possible to secure the unpurged lists direct from the tax collectors, which, some of the members think, would answer every purpose of the primary.

Even if the date should be the latter part of April, it is said purged lists could be secured in many counties; in fact, in nearly all of them, for in most counties it requires only a day or two for the purging process.

With a date early in May, however, the completed purged lists could be secured from the 1912 registration, and the privilege of voting in the primary could be extended to every democrat who will be qualified to vote in the presidential election in November.

A small boy called on a doctor one evening.

"Say, Doc, I guess I got measles," he remarked, "but no one knows. I can keep it quiet."

The doctor looked puzzled.

"Aw, get wise Doc," suggested the small boy. "What'll you give me to go to school and spread it among all the kids in the village?"—Exchange.

the case, they make no effort to conceal their determination to unite on some other candidate who will not, in advance, underwrite the party's defeat. They have, in fact, made their attitude apparent to the entire country, satisfied that as soon as the great body of democratic voters understands how incompatible is the candidacy of Wilson and victory, it will require a search warrant to find a Wilson supporter among those genuinely desirous to see the democracy triumph.

House Leaders' Responsibility.

Clamor and phrase-making are being used in a systematic attempt on the part of the partisans of Governor Wilson to side-track the issue. They invent slogans and coin new catchwords and put forward new and weird socialistic theories every day in the hope of confusing the voter. But here in Washington there is no misunderstanding as to conditions and no misgauging of sentiment throughout the country.

The democrats in congress know that when battle is joined with the republicans next fall, the novel and interesting theories of a peripatetic candidate will not be the issue. The fight will be won or lost upon what the party has done or failed to do in the session now hardly half completed. The titular and responsible heads of the party in the house—the men who will be held accountable if the democracy's program goes on the rocks—are Oscar Underwood, floor leader and chairman of the ways and means committee, and Champ Clark, speaker of the house. These two men, in a more vital and personal degree than any other democrat in Washington, are interested in the success of the party. The men following them know that just as surely as the sun rises, the party will go down to defeat if Woodrow Wilson heads the ticket. They know that even though the party makes a constructive record in the house unparalleled since the sixties, that record will go for sought with Wilson as the nominee.

Couldn't Carry New Jersey

The men who really have to do the planning and fighting for the party are compelled to keep their minds clear and judicial. They cannot afford to be fooled by noise or diverted by red fire. It is common knowledge at the capital that Wilson could not, in all human probability, even carry his own state. In New York he has no chance at all. The same conditions apply to most of the New England states and his strength becomes more and more problematical as one approaches the middle west.

There is admiration here for the governor as a maker of epigrams and as a lucid and pleasing exponent of political economy. But the responsible democratic managers know full well that campaigns are not won on these issues. They have been informed that at almost every debatable point the governor's faculty of continually reversing himself has shot to pieces the favorable impression that followed his first appearances. He gets weaker and weaker as the days pass. They reason that the party can surely win with anyone of the other candidates mentioned. But they know to a dead certainty it cannot win with Wilson. They are not minded to see the best opportunity of nearly two decades go to smash if they can step in the breach.

Clark and Underwood.

These facts may not be palatable to the infatuated apostles of the New Jersey man, but they must be faced if a democratic president is to sit in the white house next March. Men closest to Clark and Underwood and Harmon say plainly that either one would withdraw in favor of the other should his candidacy develop superior strength. There is nothing selfish or sinister about the opposition to Wilson. It is not an effort to boost Clark or Underwood or Harmon. It is an effort to boost the party. Those democrats who are impressed with Judson Harmon take the same stand. They appreciate the national vulnerability of Wilson, and, to the end of promoting the party's chances for victory, they feel, in duty bound, to join any movement wchich will carry the truth home to the party in the country-at-large.

Governor Harmon has gone along quietly attending to his duties, getting things done and refusing invitations galore to make speeches throughout the nation. He felt his first duty to be at home. But his friends, just the same, are active in his behalf, and they are prepared to make any sacrifices demanded by the party's welfare.

That "Headquarters" Incident.

The mysterious air of the Wilson managers in Georgia over absence of headquarters in that state for Harmon or Clark, amuses democrats here almost as much as the stage-fright over the "discovery" of a "conspiracy."

They point out that in Alabama Clark and Harmon and Wilson withdrew out of courtesy to Underwood, that being his home state. If there is any wonderment over the failure of Harmon and Clark to establish headquarters in Georgia, it is directed more at the persistence of the Wilson managers there than any other source. Common courtesy, it is held, would dictate the withdrawal of all opposition to Underwood, a fellow democrat, in Georgia, his sister state, as well as in Alabama, the conditions in the adjoining commonwealths being virtually identical.

It is the "conspiracy" talk, however, that most appeals to political risibles here.

New York, March 11.—"The continued and persistent misrepresentations by Theodore Roosevelt over the enactment of the primary law of New York" was the subject of a statement given out at republican headquarters tonight, quoting a telegram of the colonel's purporting to prove that he had, in effect, indorsed the present law himself.

The telegram sent to Lloyd C. Griscom, chairman of the New York republican county committee in 1909, indorsed "the Cubb bill with the amendments proposed by you," which bill, tonight's statement says, is substantially the same as the present primary law which has been assailed by Colonel Roosevelt.

men of Baltimore. They believe he is sound on the tariff; that he is an able, clear-headed leader, and would make an ideal president. They have watched his course and have nothing but approval for his record in the trying public position in which he has been placed."

Hollins N. Randolph, of Atlanta, left Washington yesterday after a long conference with Mr. Underwood, thoroughly devoted to his cause. Mr. Randolph's law partner, E. T. Brown, is supporting Wilson, Mrs. Brown being a relative of the New Jersey governor. But Mr. Randolph is for Underwood, and promises to throw himself actively into the fight to carry the state for him when he returns to Georgia.

Mr. Underwood's managers confidently believe that the almost flawless record which he has made for himself is the most potent argument which could be advanced upon which to base claim for support. The most will be made of that record in the literature issued from his headquarters. Indeed, it seems that his committee believes that the country need only to know of his achievements as a practical statesman to come to his support.

What Bankhead Says.

Senator Bankhead's statement follows:

"The progress of Mr. Underwood's campaign to date is altogether satisfactory. Since the formal opening of headquarters about ten days ago we have had hundreds of expressions from all parts of the country pledging support. These proffers have come from quarters wholly unexpected, and in many instances from people and sections hitherto believed to be committed to other candidates. Having gone into the campaign with the reasonable assurance that Mr. Underwood could win, these expressions have intensified that feeling and make us more confident than before.

"Very naturally, Mr. Underwood and those immediately in charge of his campaign have been gratified at the uniform approval of the declaration of our formal announcement. A clean campaign, and a resolution to adhere strictly to decent and honorable methods, we knew would commend itself to the thoughtful and high-minded men of all parties, but particularly to that class of democrats who have a fair and old-fashioned way of thinking. And there the declaration is again emphasized, namely, that all of our campaign plans will be conceived and carried out on a high and honorable basis."

Underwood Formidable Factor.

Acknowledging that Oscar W. Underwood, democratic floor leader and chairman of the ways and means committee which is shaping democratic tariff legislation, has become a "formidable factor" in the contest for the democratic nomination for president, The Washington Post this morning has a column story dealing with Mr. Underwood.

The Post reproduces the long statement given out by the Underwood headquarters Saturday night and dwells at length upon the fact that Senator-elect Vardaman, of Mississippi, is seeking to line up delegates from the south for the Alabama man.

What The Post Says.

The Post says:

"The announcement of Senator-elect Vardaman undoubtedly will give a great impetus to the Underwood campaign in the south. Already the Underwood campaign is progressing in a way that is surprising to politicians. The fact that Mr. Underwood is basing his campaign under his eighteen years of service in congress and that he is sticking to his job as floor leader is cited by his supporters as one of the reasons he is impressing the democrats of New York and other eastern states as well as those of the south with his availability.

"The Underwood headquarters refuse to issue any attacks on other candidates, but the work of pushing Mr. Underwood's candidacy on the ground that he is a safe, conservative, yet progressive man, is being carried on energetically.

"The supporters of the floor leader say that the old tradition against the nomination of a southern man has been smashed by the popularity of their candidate in the east and that the time is ripe for wiping out the old line for all time."

Underwood Can Unite Factions.

Inasmuch as Senator-elect Vardaman favors the initiative, referendum and recall, his announcement in favor of Mr. Underwood is said to indicate that the democratic floor leader is one of the few candidates who can unite both the radical and conservative wings of the party. Mr. Underwood is not in favor of the initiative, referendum and the recall, but Mr. Vardaman says that the democratic leader is headed in the right direction with respect to the tariff and that the other reforms can come later.

Mr. Vardaman had been in the city for several days and made his declaration for Mr. Underwood just before leaving last night for his home in Jackson, the capital of Mississippi.

"I believe," he said, "that Mr. Underwood is headed right in the matter of tariff revision. I want the democrats to go further than he, but plan of procedure is the one that will win. He is laying the foundation of tariff reform so firmly that his purposes will obtain and business will not be disturbed. A small man at the helm at this time would be swept off his feet. Unlike Mr. Underwood, I am intensely in favor of the initiative, the referendum and the recall. These will come later, however."

HUDSON CONFERS WITH TOM WATSON

Conference Precedes Former's Announcement for Governor.

Reported Candidacy of J. J. Brown for Commissioner of Agriculture Was Discussed. "Just a Social Visit," Says Mr. Hudson.

Prior to making announcement of his candidacy for governor, Commissioner of Agriculture Thomas G. Hudson went to Thomson, Ga., Thursday and held a conference with Thomas E. Watson.

Just what the subject of the conference was has not been disclosed, except Mr. Hudson's statement, covering the ground generally, that it was "just a social visit."

Conference Over Brown.

Report has it, however, that the conference had to do with the candidacy of J. J. Brown, of Bowman, Elbert county, for commissioner of agriculture.

Mr. Brown, as is well known, was a candidate for appointment to this office to succeed Mr. Hudson when his resignation takes effect on May 1; he was strongly supported in this application by Mr. Watson, who is his warm personal and political friend.

Following the appointment of Hon. J. J. Connor, of Bartow, Mr. Brown announced his candidacy, subject to the primary in August.

What Mr. Hudson Says.

Asked Monday if he had visited Mr. Watson at Thomson, Mr. Hudson replied that he had. He went to Thomson last Thursday, he said, and returned to Atlanta Friday. His platform was published in Sunday's papers.

"What was the purport of your conference?" he was asked.

"Oh, it was just a social visit," Mr. Hudson replied.

"Is he going to support you?" was asked.

"We didn't discuss that," was the reply.

"What did you talk about?" was the next question.

"We just discussed crops," said Mr. Hudson, laughing.

Mr. Hudson did not state, however, whether political or agricultural crops constituted the chief topic of the conversation.

When you aren't known at the bank, you must have your check endorsed.

When you haven't been able to get a reputation through sound manufacture, you must put a guarantee on your car in order to sell it.

That's just what an automobile guarantee amounts to—an endorsement that some how or other the check will be made good. Only—the man who endorses your check can be held responsible, but it has not yet been shown that the firm that takes over the business of a defunct automobile organization, can be held to the terms of the guarantee. There is one guarantee that is worth something—but it doesn't come on lithographed paper. It is the guarantee of accomplishment. WAR DECLARED ON CATHOLICS

Magazine, Thomson, Georgia. Price, $1 a year."

The ad was refused unless the author would strike the words, "and its pagan idolatry." This Mr. Watson refused to do. As the result of his failure in this effort, Mr. Watson demands:

"What is to become of this country where the Romanists are so aggressive and the Protestants so cowardly?"

General Miles, who is associated with Mr. Watson in this enterprise, did not know much about the organization apparently, for when he was asked about its purposes, he said he had not read them very carefully. General Miles is best known to Georgians as the man who ordered shackles placed on Jefferson Davis.

What Miles Says.

"I admit there seems to be a great deal of reference to religious matters in these declarations of principle," he said. "This is the first time my attention has been called to religious aspects of the order. I suppose the wording of the declaration of principles could very well stand some alteration in this respect.

Asked about article 14, which directs the officers of the order to study the qualifications of all candidates for political office and report whether such candidates are worthy of the support of the order, and asked if this section did not bar Roman Catholics because under rule 8 they "openly or secretly conceded superior authority to a foreign ecclesiastical power," General Miles said: "So far as I have been informed heretofore it is no part of the objects of the Guardians of Liberty to oppose any man because he is a Catholic, Mormon, Jew or Protestant."

"How, then, can you explain the wording of the eighth article?"

"I don't pretend to explain it. I must repeat that my connection with the order has been due solely to my understanding that it is a purely patriotic organization."

Headquarters of the Guardians of Liberty have been opened in New York on the top floor of the Masonic Temple. Local branches have been established in Washington and several other cities. Through this organization Mr. Watson is said to be industriously attempting to circulate his magazine.

What Cardinal Gibbons Says.

Cardinal Gibbons, when asked about the society, expressed surprise that a man of the standing of General Miles should lend his name to it. When his attention was called to section 8 he said: "In his spiritual affairs every Roman Catholic owes allegiance to a foreign ecclesiastic power, namely, his holiness, the pope. But is not only in spiritual affairs. In matters concerning his civic welfare, or that of his country, every Roman Catholic is as free as any other American citizen to act as his wisdom and conscience dictate.

"The religious intolerance of which these people seem to complain can only be their own intolerance for the Roman Catholics and have none of the religious liberty which they proclaim they are going to protect and to fight for, which is as dearly cherished by Catholics as by the members of any other creed or set in the land."
